Modern MANDARIN CHINESE Grammar

Modern Mandarin Chinese Grammar provides an innovative reference guide to Mandarin Chinese, combining traditional and function-based grammar in a single volume.

The Grammar is divided into two parts. Part A covers traditional grammatical categories such as phrase order, nouns, verbs, and specifiers. Part B is carefully organized around language functions and notions such as:

- Communication strategies
- Making comparisons
- Giving and seeking information
- Expressing apologies, regrets, and sympathies

The two parts of the Grammar are closely linked by extensive cross-references, providing a grammatical and functional perspective on many patterns. All grammar points and functions are richly illustrated with examples, with a strong focus on contemporary usage.

Main features of the Grammar include:

- Examples given in simplified characters, traditional characters and romanization (pinyin)
- Clear explanations and accessible descriptions
- Particular attention to areas of particular difficulty for learners of Mandarin Chinese Implementing feedback from users of the first edition of the Grammar, this second edition has been revised throughout to offer expanded explanations, examples, cross-referencing, and indexing and brand new chapters on aspect, resultative verbs, directional verbs, and “ba” sentences.

This is the ideal reference grammar for learners of Mandarin Chinese at all levels, from elementary to advanced. No prior knowledge of grammatical terminology is assumed and a glossary of grammatical terms is provided. This Grammar is accompanied by the Modern Mandarin Chinese Grammar Workbook (978-0-415-83488-9) which features related exercises and activities.

Claudia Ross is Professor of Chinese Language and Linguistics in the Department of Modern Languages at the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts, USA.

Jing-heng Sheng Ma is Emeritus Professor of Chinese Studies at Wellesley College, Massachusetts, USA.

Introduction

This book is divided into two sections: ‘Structures’ and ‘Situations and functions.’

Part A ‘Structures’ is a concise grammar of Mandarin Chinese organized in the familiar and traditional way, providing an overview of the Chinese writing system and describing the major features of Mandarin grammar. This section should be used for reference when you want to know something about a form or structure. For example, if you want to review the structure of the noun phrase, or how to form numbers, or the structure of the passive form, you should consult this section.

Part B ‘Situations and functions’ is organized in terms of how to do things with language, and it is the longer of the two sections. For example, if you want to know how to address someone, how to say ‘no,’ how to make comparisons, or how to apologize, you should consult this section.

Often, the same ground is covered in both parts of this book, although the emphasis is different in each section. Related sections are linked by cross-referencing, indicated by arrows in the margin of the page directing you to another section. Related functions are also cross-referenced throughout the book. You should always follow the cross-reference links so that you have a complete picture of the expression that you are exploring and can use it correctly and accurately.

Topics covered in this book are listed in the table of contents and in the index, and you should use them to help you find words and topics quickly and easily. Notice that the index is an alphabetical listing that includes keywords in English and in Pinyin romanization. For example, if you want to know how to indicate that you have had an experience in the past you can look in the index for the English expression ‘experiential aspect’ or for the word guò (过/過).

In this book, we use traditional grammatical terms to explain the structures of Mandarin. The terms are presented in the glossary at the beginning of this book. Once you are familiar with the grammatical terms you will find them helpful in understanding the grammar and in expressing yourself accurately.

We hope that you will find this book useful and informative. We look forward to learning how you use the book, and to receiving your suggestions on how it can be improved.

How to use this book

This book brings together two different types of resources to help you to understand Mandarin Chinese. They are presented in two parts: Part A: ‘Structures’ and Part B: ‘Situations and functions.’

When you want to review some aspect of Mandarin grammar such as how to describe a noun or where to put the prepositional phrase in a sentence, you should consult Part A. On the other hand, when you want to know how to apologize, or how to address someone, or how to emphasize something, you should consult Part B. Some topics are covered in more than one chapter of the book. For example, the verb suffix 过/过 guò is included in ‘Structures’ in Chapters 11, 13, and 17, and also in ‘Situations and functions’ in Chapter 37, ‘Indicating completion and talking about the past.’ Arrows in the left-hand margin of each page indicate additional sections of the book in which a topic is discussed. You should follow the cross-references and read everything about the topic that you are exploring in order to get a full picture of its structure and functions.

Some topics can be expressed differently depending upon the level of formality in a specific situation. Where appropriate, we have indicated the level of formality associated with expressions. See, for example, ‘Prepositions and prepositional phrases’ (Chapter 14, section 14.2.8) and ‘Greetings and goodbyes’ (Chapter 24, section 24.3).

This book provides the most common ways of expressing the major structures and functions in Mandarin. Native speakers of Mandarin differ in their use of some expressions, and we have tried to note standard variations. In your study of Mandarin, you will come across structures and expressions that are not included in this book. You should add them to your repertoire as you continue to strengthen your language skills.

To help you to consolidate your overall knowledge of Chinese, we begin this book with a brief overview of Mandarin pronunciation and an introduction to the Chinese writing system. For a more detailed coverage of pronunciation, consult a beginning level Mandarin textbook. For more information about the Chinese writing system, consult the references cited in the Acknowledgments.

Glossary of grammatical terms

Adverbs

Adverbs are words that precede and modify a verb or verb phrase.

他们都很忙。

他們都很忙。

Tāmen dōu hěn máng.

They are all very busy.

弟弟已经回家了。

弟弟已經回家了。

Dìdi yǐjīng huí jiā le.

Younger brother already went home.

Sentence adverbs occur at the beginning of a sentence and indicate the relationship of information in a conversation or written text.

孩子小的时候，父母照顾他们。后来，父母老了，该是孩子照顾父母了。

孩子小的時候，父母照顧他們。後來，父母老了，該是孩子照顧父母了。

Háizi xiǎo de shíhòu, fùmǔ zhàogù tāmen. Hòulái, fùmǔ lǎo le, gāi shì háizi zhàogù fùmǔ le.

When children are young, parents take care of them. Afterwards, when the parents are old, the children should take care of the parents.

► 15, 31, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 46, 47

Classifiers

Classifiers are words that occur after a number and/or specifier and before a noun. Some grammars refer to classifiers as ‘measure words.’ Classifiers often need not be translated into English.

一杯水

那本书

这两个人

那本書

這兩個人 yī bēi shuǐ

nà běn shū

zhè liǎng gè rén

one [glass of] water that [volume of] book these two [classifier] people

Clauses

Clauses are dependent sentences, that is, sentences that occur within a larger sentence.

Some verbs take clauses as their objects:

她说她今天很忙。

她說她今天很忙。

Tā shuō tā jīntiān hěn máng.

She said she is very busy today.

我知道他没有钱。

我知道他沒有錢。

Wǒ zhīdao tā méi yǒu qián.

I know he doesn't have any money.

Clauses may also serve as subjects:

她昨天跟你说话并不表示她愿意当你的女朋友。

她昨天跟你說話並不表示她願意當你的女朋友。

Tā zuótiān gēn nǐ shuō huà bìng bù biǎoshì tā yuànyì dāng nǐ de nǚ péngyou.

(The fact that) she spoke with you yesterday does not mean that she is willing to be your girlfriend.

Complements

Some Mandarin grammars distinguish a class of verb complements, words or phrases that follow the verb and augment its meaning in some way. Included in the class of verb complements are result complements, potential complements, directional complements, manner complements, and degree complements. These various verb complements participate in different grammatical structures and perform different communication functions, and we therefore do not group them together in this book. Complements of result and direction participate in the same kinds of grammatical structures, and we discuss them in Chapters 18 and 19, along with their potential forms. We also discuss complements of result along with other structures that function to indicate result in Chapter 32. Complements of degree function as intensifiers for adjectival verbs, and we discuss them in Chapter 10. Complements of manner function to indicate the way that actions are performed, and we discuss them in Chapter 31. Here are the sections of this book in which each complement is included.

Result complements

▶ 18, 32.1

Directional complements

▶ 19, 48.8

Potential complements

▶ 18.6, 19.5, 32.2

Degree complements

▶ 10.3

Manner complements

▶ 31.3

Conjunctions

Conjunctions are words that connect two nouns or noun phrases to form a noun phrase.

妈妈和爸爸都会说中国话。

媽媽和爸爸都會說中國話。

Māma hé bàba dōu huì shuō Zhōngguó huà.

Mom and Dad can both speak Chinese.

Final particles

Final particles are syllables that occur at the end of the sentence and indicate a speech act or speaker perspective.

我得走了。再不走就晚咯。

Wǒ děi zǒu le. Zài bù zǒu jiù wǎn lo.

I'd better go now. If I don't go, I will be late. (obviousness)

Grammatical particles

Grammatical particles are syllables that convey grammatical meaning, for example 的 de (noun modification), 得 de (postverbal adverbial modification), 地 de (preverbal adverbial modification), 了 le (completed action), 着/著 zhe (duration).

Indirect objects see Objects*Intensifiers

Intensifiers are words that precede and modify stative verbs, adjectival verbs, and modal verbs.

► 10.3, 11.2, 12.6.3

Nouns

Nouns are words that can be directly preceded by a specifier and/or number + classifier.

一本书

那本书

那本書

nà běn shū

Noun phrases

Noun phrases are nouns and their modifiers.

Objects

There are two different types of objects, direct and indirect.

The direct object is generally the noun phrase affected by or created by the action of the verb. The direct object generally follows the verb, though it may also be topicalized (see Topics).

我每天在图书馆看书。

我每天在圖書館看書。

Wǒ měitiān zài túshūguǎn kàn shū.

I read books in the library every day.

我已经吃晚饭了。

我已經吃晚飯了。

Wǒ yǐjīng chī wǎnfàn le.

I have already eaten dinner.

The indirect object refers to the recipient of the object noun phrase. In Mandarin, only a small number of verbs take a direct and indirect object. These include 给/給 gěi 'give' and 送 sòng 'present as a gift.' In all cases, the indirect object precedes the direct object.

我不要给他钱。

我不要給他錢。

Wǒ bù yào gěi tā qián.

I don't want to give him money.

For most verbs, the recipient is expressed as the object of a preposition and not as an indirect object.

我给她写了一封信。

我給她寫了一封信。

Wǒ gěi tā xiě le yī fēng xìn.

I wrote her a letter. (I wrote a letter to her.)

Predicates

The predicate of a sentence includes a verb and any object(s) or complements of the verb. It may also include negation, adverbs, prepositional phrases, and phrases that indicate time when, duration, or frequency.

Prepositional phrases

Prepositional phrases consist of a preposition and its following noun phrase. In Mandarin, the prepositional phrase typically precedes the verb phrase.

我在家吃饭。

我在家吃飯。

Wǒ zài jiā chī fàn.

I eat at home.

我到图书馆去了。

我到圖書館去了。

Wǒ dào túshūguǎn qù le.

I went to the library.

Prepositional phrases that indicate where the object winds up as the result of the action generally follow the verb.

他跳到床上。

Tā tiào dào chuáng shàng.

He jumped onto the bed.

Prepositions

Prepositions are words that indicate the relationship of a noun phrase to a verb, for example 在 zài 'at,' 到 dào 'to,' 给/給 gěi 'to/for,' 替 tì 'for.'

Pronouns

Pronouns are words that take the place of a noun or noun phrase.

王明是学生。

王明是學生。

Wáng Míng shì xuésheng.

Wang Ming is a student.

他是学生。

他是學生。

Tā shì xuésheng.

He is a student.

我不认识那两个人。

我不認識那兩個人。

Wǒ bù rènshi nà liǎng gè rén.

I don't know those two people.

我不认识他们。

我不認識他們。

Wǒ bù rènshi tāmen.

I don't know them.

► 5.2

Sentences

Normally, a full sentence includes a subject and a predicate. The sentence may begin with a topic.

topic + subject + predicate

那个孩子，脾气很坏。

那個孩子，脾氣很壞。

Nàge háizi, pìqì hěn huài.

That child has a bad temper. (lit. 'That child, the temper is bad.')

Specifiers and demonstratives

Specifiers are words that translate as 'this/these' or 'that/those' and describe a noun.

这本书很有意思。

這本書很有意思。

Zhè běn shū hěn yǒu yìsi.

This book is very interesting.

These same words, when used to 'point' to an object, are 'demonstratives.'

这是中国毛笔。

這是中國毛筆。

Zhè shì Zhōngguó máobǐ.

This is a Chinese writing brush.

► 7

Subjects

The subject is the noun or noun phrase about which information is provided in the predicate. In Mandarin, the subject of a sentence occurs before the verb phrase. It can be omitted if it is understood from the overall context of the sentence. Typically, a subject is omitted if it is identical in reference to the subject of the preceding sentence.

我看了电影。( )九点钟就回家了。

我看了電影。( )九點鐘就回家了。

Wǒ kàn le diànyǐng. ( ) jiǔdiǎn zhōng jiù huí jiā le.

I saw a movie. At nine o'clock I returned home.

Topics

Generally speaking, the topic is the noun or noun phrase that the sentence, paragraph, or narrative is about. The topic occurs at the beginning of a sentence, and is often distinct from the subject.

中国菜，我特别喜欢吃家常豆腐。

中國菜，我特別喜歡吃家常豆腐。

Zhōngguó cài, wǒ tèbié xǐhuan chī jiācháng dòufu.

(As for) Chinese food, I especially like to eat homestyle beancurd.

In Mandarin, the object of the verb may sometimes occur in ‘topic’ position, at the beginning of the sentence, before the subject.

羊肉，我不太喜欢吃。

羊肉，我不太喜歡吃。

Yángròu, wǒ bù tài xǐhuan chī.

Mutton, I don’t particularly like to eat (it).

A sentence need not begin with a topic.

Verbs

Verbs are words that can be directly negated, or modified by an adverb, or that can serve as the ‘yes’ answer to yes–no questions. Verbs are the main word in the predicate, and a Mandarin sentence must include a verb. Verbs that take one or more objects are called transitive, and verbs that do not take an object are called intransitive. Mandarin has the following types of verbs.

Adjectival verbs

Adjectival verbs are verbs that can be translated as adjectives in English, for example 大 dà ‘big,’ 好 hǎo ‘good,’ 贵/貴 guì ‘expensive.’ Adjectival verbs are usually intransitive. Note that adjectival verbs do not occur with 是 shì ‘be.’

Say this

Not this

他很高。

*他是很高。

Tā hěn gāo.

Tā shì hěn gāo.

He is very tall.

► 10

Stative verbs

- (a) Stative verbs are verbs that express states, for example 喜欢/喜歡 xǐhuan ‘like,’ 像 xiàng ‘resemble.’

我喜欢他。

我喜歡他。

Wǒ xǐhuan tā.

I like him.

- (b) Stative verbs are linking verbs, for example 是 shì ‘be,’ 姓 xìng ‘be family named,’ 有 yǒu ‘have, exist.’

她有很多朋友。

Tā yǒu hěn duō péngyou.

She has many friends.

► 11

Modal verbs

Modal verbs are verbs that express ability, permission, or obligation, for example 会/會 huì ‘can’ (mentally able), 能 néng ‘can’ (physically able), 可以 kěyǐ ‘may’ (have permission), 得 děi ‘must/have to.’ Modal verbs can serve as the one word answer to yes–no questions, but in complete sentences they are always followed by a verb phrase complement.

▶ 12

Action verbs

Action verbs are verbs that refer to events. There are two kinds of action verbs:

- Open-ended action verbs express open-ended actions, such as 跑 pǎo ‘run,’ 写/寫 xiě ‘write,’ and 听/聽 tīng ‘listen.’ Most open-ended action verbs in Mandarin are transitive.
- Change-of-state action verbs express actions that refer to a change of state and have no duration, such as 坐 zuò ‘sit (down),’ 忘 wàng ‘forget,’ and 放 fàng ‘put (down), place.’

▶ 13

Verb complements (see Complements)*Verb phrases

The verb phrase includes the modal verb, the verb, and any objects of the verb. (See also Predicates)

他每天看电视。

他每天看電視。

Tā měitiān kàn diànshì.

He watches television every day.

爸爸给我钱。

爸爸給我錢。

Bàba gěi wǒ qián.

Dad gives me money.

他会开车。

他會開車。

Tā huì kāi chē.

He can drive (a car).

我请你吃晚饭。

我請你吃晚飯。

Wǒ qǐng nǐ chī wǎnfàn.

I invite you to eat dinner.

A note on grammatical categories and grammatical category shift

In Mandarin, a word may belong to more than one grammatical category. For example, some words may serve as both a verb and a preposition.

		Verb	Preposition
给/給	gěi	give	to/for
到	dào	arrive	to
在	zài	be located	at

GLOSSARY OF GRAMMATICAL TERMS

Out of context, it is not possible to say whether the word 给/給 gěi or 到 dào or 在 zài is a preposition or a verb. However, in the context of a sentence or phrase, the category of the word is clear:

Preposition

我想到中国去。

我想到中國去。

Wǒ xiǎng dào Zhōngguó qù.

I want to China go

I want to go to China.

Verb

你什么时候到？

你甚麼時候到？

Nǐ shénme shíhòu dào?

When are you arriving?

Some textbooks and grammars provide special labels for words that can function as more than one category of word. For example, the label ‘coverb’ is used in many textbooks for words that can be both prepositions and verbs.

A note on Chinese characters

Certain traditional characters have more than one standard form. Here are some examples. This book uses the characters in the first column. An overview of the origin, structure, and systems of Chinese characters is presented in Chapter 3.

裏	裡	lǐ
著	着	zhè
叫	叫	jiào
為	爲	wèi

In addition, the word zuò when used as the verb ‘do’ can be written as 做 or 作. This book uses the form 做. In compounds such as 工作 gōngzuò ‘work,’ zuò is written as 作.

Overview of pronunciation and Pinyin romanization

1.1 The Mandarin syllable

The syllable in Mandarin Chinese can be made up of three parts: an initial consonant, a final, and a tone. For example, the syllable má 麻 is made up of the initial m, the final a, and the rising tone [˨˨˨]. Syllables need not have an initial consonant. The syllable è 饿/餓 is made up of the final e and the falling tone [˥˥]. In addition, a syllable may lack a tone. Syllables that do not have a tone are referred to as having neutral tone.

This section presents a brief overview of the initials, finals, and tones of Mandarin. Initials and finals are presented in Pinyin romanization. For a guide to their pronunciation, please consult a beginning level Mandarin textbook.

1.1.1 Initials

The Mandarin initials are presented here in the traditional recitation order:

Type of sound	Initial
1 bilabial	b	p	m	f
2 alveolar	d	t	n	l
3 velar	g	k		h
4 palatal	j	q		x
5 retroflex	zh	ch		sh r
6 alveolar affricate/fricative	z	c		s

1.1.2 Finals

Finals are listed by initial vowel.

a finals	a an ang ai ao
o/e finals	o e en eng ei ou ong er
u finals	u ua uo uai ui uan un uang ueng
i finals	i ia iao ie iu ian in iang ing iong
ü finals	ü üe üan ün

1.1.3 Tones

Tone is the pitch contour of the syllable. Mandarin has four contour tones and a neutral tone. In most romanization systems of Mandarin, the tone is indicated by a diacritic over a vowel, or as a number following the syllable.

The following chart illustrates the contour of the four Mandarin tones when a syllable is spoken in isolation, that is, when it is neither preceded nor followed by another syllable.

- |   |                      |   |
|---|----------------------|---|
| 1 | level pitch          | — |
| 2 | rising pitch         | ˊ |
| 3 | falling-rising pitch | ˇ |
| 4 | falling pitch        | ˋ |

The contour of a tone may change depending upon the following syllable. This is often called tone sandhi. Tone change is typically not indicated in the Pinyin spelling of words.

The third tone is the only tone that changes independent of the meaning of the syllable.

When a third tone occurs before another third tone, it is pronounced as a rising (second) tone.

$3 + 3 \rightarrow 2 + 3$

hěn hǎo → hén hǎo 很好 very good

When a third tone occurs before any other tone, it is pronounced as a low tone. This low tone is often called a half third tone.

mǎi shū → mai shū 买书/買書 buy books

Tone is an inherent part of the Mandarin syllable, and Mandarin uses tones to distinguish meaning in the same way that the choice of a consonant or a vowel distinguishes meaning. Notice how tone determines the meaning of the following syllable.

Tone

1	mā (ma1)	妈/媽	mother
2	má (ma2)	麻	numb
3	mǎ (ma3)	马/馬	horse
4	mà (ma4)	骂/罵	scold neutral	ma (ma5)	吗/嗎	question particle

1.2 Pinyin romanization

Mandarin is written with Chinese characters, but characters do not provide consistent information about pronunciation. Therefore, Mandarin is typically studied via a transcription. Many transcription systems have been devised for Mandarin Chinese in China and in the West. Most of these are based on the Roman alphabet, and are therefore termed ‘romanization’ systems. In 1958, the People’s Republic of China established Hanyu Pinyin (usually referred to as Pinyin) as its standard romanization system. Because of the widespread use of this system of Pinyin in Chinese language teaching around the world, it is used to transcribe the Chinese words in this book.

1.2.1 Placement of tone mark in Pinyin

If a final includes three vowels, or two vowels and a final consonant, the tone mark is written over the second vowel:

kuài huán biān qióng

If a final includes two vowels and no final consonant, the tone mark is placed over the first vowel, unless the first vowel is i or u:

āi	áo	ěi	òu
	iā	ié	iǔ
uà	ué	uǐ	uò

1.2.2 Some additional Pinyin conventions

- ‘u’ after the initials j, q, and x is pronounced ü but is written as u.
- When ‘i’ and ‘ü’ begin a syllable, they are written as yi and yu.
- When ‘u’ begins a syllable, it is written as wu.
- In two-syllable words, when the boundary between syllables is not clear from the Pinyin spelling and more than one interpretation of the boundary is possible, an apostrophe is used to separate the syllables. For example, if the second syllable begins with a vowel, an apostrophe is used: Xī'an 西安 vs. xiān 先.

Syllable, meaning, and word

2.1 The special status of the Mandarin syllable

2.1.1 The syllable and meaning

One of the features of Chinese is that each syllable is associated with a meaning. For example, the Mandarin word for bus station/train station or bus stop/train stop is 车站/車站 chēzhàn. The syllable 车/車 chē means vehicle and the syllable 站 zhàn means stand. Occurring together as a word, 车站/車站 chēzhàn is very nearly the sum of its parts: vehicle stand.

Some words in English have the kind of structure that Mandarin has, but for most English words, syllables need not have independent meaning. For example, the English word ‘lettuce’ consists of two syllables: ‘let’ and ‘tuce.’ These individual syllables do not have meaning on their own, and it makes no sense to ask about the meaning of ‘let’ or of ‘tuce’ in the word ‘lettuce.’ In contrast, with very few exceptions, the individual syllables of Mandarin words have identifiable meanings, and when learning new words, it makes good sense to note the meanings of the individual syllables.

NOTES

- 1 In Chinese, a small number of syllables are not associated with a meaning. The most common is the noun suffix 子 zǐ. See 2.2.1.1.
- 2 A multi-syllable Mandarin word is not always simply the sum of its parts. For example, the word 故事 gùshi ‘story’ is composed of the syllables 故 gù ‘former, previous’ and 事 shì ‘situation, incident.’

2.1.2 The syllable and Chinese characters

In Chinese, the syllable is associated with a Chinese character as well as a meaning. When a syllable is associated with more than one meaning, it is generally the case that each meaning is written with a different character. For example, Mandarin has a number of meanings associated with the pronunciation zhàn. Each meaning is written with a different character:

蘸	zhàn	dip in liquid (like a pen in ink)
占/佔	zhàn	occupy
战/戰	zhàn	fight
栈/棧	zhàn	storehouse
绽/綻	zhàn	split; burst open
站	zhàn	to stand; a stop, a stand

Because of these differences, the status of the syllable is much more important in Chinese than in English. Conversely, the status of the word is less important in Chinese than in English.

2.2 Multi-syllable tendency in Mandarin words

Although Mandarin syllables have meanings, they often combine to form words. Here is a short list of Mandarin syllables and words that they form.

Syllable		Word
学/學	xué	study, study of
生	shēng	give birth to; grow	学生/學生

2.2.1 Strategies that create and maintain the two-syllable word

The most common length of Mandarin words is two syllables, and a number of common word formation strategies exist which help to create and maintain the two-syllable word.

2.2.1.1 The suffix 子 zǐ

One-syllable words may be turned into two-syllable words by the addition of the suffix 子 zǐ. This suffix adds little or no meaning to the word. It usually occurs in neutral tone (zi).

Some nouns occur in contemporary Mandarin only with the 子 zǐ suffix, for example 孩子 háizi 'child,' 房子 fángzi 'house,' 屋子 wūzi 'room,' 本子 běnzi 'notebook,' 袜子 wǎzi 'socks.'

Some words can occur with or without the suffix. These include 车/車 chē → 车子/車子 chēzi 'car,' 鞋 xié → 鞋子 xiézi 'shoe,' 盘/盤 → 盘子/盤子 pánzi 'plate,' 票 piào → 票子 piàozi 'ticket.'

NOTE

In the Beijing dialect of Mandarin, the suffix 儿/兒 (ér) is routinely added to words in many categories, especially to nouns and classifiers. 儿/兒 r suffixation adds a retroflex (r) sound but no additional syllable to the word. If a word ends in a final consonant, the 儿/兒 r suffix replaces the final consonant: 份 fèn → 份儿/份兒 fèr 'a portion,' 玩 wán → 玩儿/玩兒 wár 'to play,' 电影/電影 diànyǐng → 电影儿/電影兒 diànyǐr 'movie,' etc. The suffix may also replace a vowel in the final: 孩 hái → 孩儿/孩兒 hár 'child.'

In this book, we write -r suffixed words in terms of their changed pronunciation. That is, we write wár and not wánr or wán'er.

2.2.1.2 Location suffixes

Location words may be suffixed with 头/頭 tóu, 面 miàn, or 边/邊 biān to make them two-syllable words: 下头/下頭 xiàtóu 'below,' 外面 wàimian 'outside,' 左边/左邊 zuǒbiān 'left side,' etc.

In Mandarin spoken in southern China and Taiwan, the specifiers 这/這 zhè, 那 nà, nèi and 哪 nǎ, něi are suffixed with 里/裏 when they are used as location words: 这里/這裏 zhèlǐ 'here,' 那里/那裏 nàlǐ 'there,' and 哪里/哪裏 nǎlǐ? 'where?'

► 7.3, 47.1

2.2.1.3 Abbreviation

Words and phrases that are longer than two syllables are often abbreviated to two syllables. The two syllables that form the new, abbreviated word are typically the first syllable of each of the words in the phrase or the first two syllables of the first word in the phrase, though other combinations occur.

超级市场/超級市場	chāojí shìchǎng	supermarket	→	超市 chāoshì
公共汽车/公共汽車	gōnggòng qìchē	public bus	→	公车/公車 gōngchē
飞机场/飛機場	feijīchǎng	airport	→	机场/機場 jīchǎng

2.3 Word-specific tone changes

In addition to the tone changes mentioned in section 1.1.3 for all third-tone syllables, there are certain tone changes that occur in specific words.

2.3.1 Tone change in the word 不 *bù

不 bù changes to bú when it occurs before another fourth-toned syllable in the same word, phrase, or breath group:

	4-4	→	2-4
不对/不對 not correct	bù duì	→	bú duì
不必 need not	bù bì	→	bú bì

2.3.2 Tone change in the numbers 一 yī '1,' 七 qī '7,' and 八 bā '8'

The tone of the numbers 一 yī '1,' and, less commonly, 七 qī '7,' and 八 bā '8' may change to second tone yí, qí, and bá before a fourth-toned syllable in the same word, phrase, or breath group:

	1-4	→	2-4
一共 altogether	yīgòng	→	yígòng
一定 certainly	yīdìng	→	yídìng
一辈子 a lifetime	yī bèizi	→	yí bèizi
七块钱/七塊錢 seven dollars	qī kuài qián	→	qí kuài qián
八倍 eightfold	bā bèi	→	bá bèi

In addition, 一 yī changes to fourth tone before syllables with first, second, or third tone.

	1-1	→	4-1
一张/一張 one sheet (e.g. of paper)	yī zhāng	→	yì zhāng
	1-2	→	4-2
一条/一條 one thin strip (e.g. of news)	yī tiáo	→	yì tiáo
	1-3	→	4-3
一碗 one bowl	yī wǎn	→	yì wǎn

2.4 Change to neutral tone

In Beijing and northern China, certain syllables lose their original tone and are pronounced as neutral tone. This tone change does not occur in Taiwan, where all syllables retain their original tones.

► 1.1.3

The complete conditions for change to neutral tone are complex, but here are some general rules for the change of a second syllable to neutral tone.

- The second syllable is a repetition of the first syllable:

	tone-tone	→	tone-neutral
太太 Mrs	tàitài	→	tàitai
弟弟 younger brother	dìdì	→	dìdi
谢谢/謝謝 thank you	xièxiè	→	xièxie
看看 take a look	kànkàn	→	kànkān

- The second syllable is a suffix that does not contribute a meaning to the word. This includes the suffix 子 zǐ and the directional suffixes 头/頭 tóu, 面 miàn, and 边/邊 biān:

	tone-tone	→	tone-neutral
孩子 child	háizi	→	háizi
里头/裏頭 inside	lǐtóu	→	lǐtou

- The meaning of the second syllable is the same as or overlaps with the meaning of the first syllable:

	tone-tone	→	tone-neutral
衣服 clothing	yīfú	→	yīfu
衣 yī clothing
服 fú clothing
事情 matter/situation	shìqíng	→	shìqíng
事 shì situation
情 qíng situation

The second syllable retains its tone when it adds to and expands the meaning of the first syllable. Examples include:

学期/學期	学/學	期
xuéqī	xué	qī semester	study	interval
作法	作	法
zuòfǎ	zuò	fǎ
method of doing	do	method
看完	看	完
kànwán	kàn	wán
finish reading	read	finish

Sometimes, the use of full or neutral tone in the second syllable makes a difference in meaning. Here are two examples:

老子	Lǎo Zǐ	Laozi, the Taoist philosopher
老子	lǎozi	used to refer to one's father, or, humorously, to oneself
孙子	Sūn zǐ	5 th C BC treatise on the art of war
孙子	sūnzi	grandson

2.5 Incorporating foreign words and naming foreign objects

Chinese has not borrowed freely from other languages. However, when it incorporates foreign words into the language, it typically uses the following strategies:

- Adapting the foreign pronunciation to conform to the syllable structure of Chinese.

Names

罗斯福/羅斯福	Luósīfú	Roosevelt
加繆/加繆	Jiāmóu	Camus
丘吉尔/邱吉爾	Qiūjǐ'ěr	Churchill
拿破仑/拿破崙	Nápòlún	Napoleon
莎士比亚/莎士比亞	Shāshìbǐyà	Shakespeare

Objects

比萨/比薩	bǐsà	pizza
汉堡包/漢堡包	hànbǎobāo	hamburger

► 1.1

- Forming new words based on meaning or function.
- When new items enter China, they often lose their foreign pronunciation and get new Chinese names that reflect their meaning or function. Here are some examples:

电视/電視	diànshì	television (electric vision)
电脑/電腦	diànnǎo	computer (electric brain)
微波炉/微波爐	wēibō lú	microwave oven (micro-wave-stove)
手机/手機	shǒujī	cell phone/mobile phone (hand machine)
热狗/熱狗	règǒu	(lit.) hot dog
卫星/衛星	wèixīng	satellite (protection star)

- Forming new words based on meaning while preserving the foreign pronunciation.

万维网/萬維網	wàn wéi wǎng	the World Wide Web (a net of 10,000 connections)
可乐/可樂	kělè	cola (it can make you happy)
拖拉机/拖拉機	tuōlājī	tractor (drag pull machine)
摩托车/摩托車	mótuō chē	motorcycle (a vehicle you touch and support with your hands)
信用卡	xìnyòng kǎ	credit card (trust card)
吉普车/吉普車	jípǔchē	jeep (lucky widely used vehicle)

Foreign companies often follow this principle when translating the names of their companies and their products into Chinese.

可口可乐/可口可樂	Kěkǒukělè	Coca Cola [soft drink] (pleasant to drink and it can make you happy)
福特	Fútè	Ford [automobiles] (happiness – exceptional)
汰渍/汰漬	Tàizì	Tide [laundry detergent] (eliminate stains and sludge)

The Chinese writing system: an overview

Although transcription systems can be used to write Chinese, Chinese characters are the basis of written communication in China. This chapter presents an overview of Chinese characters.

3.1 Traditional and simplified characters

There are two standard systems of characters in current use: traditional characters and simplified characters. Simplified characters are the official characters used in mainland China and Singapore. Traditional characters are the official characters used in Taiwan and other parts of the Chinese-speaking world.

Most characters in the traditional and simplified systems are identical. However, in the simplified character system, many frequently used characters have been simplified from their traditional, more complex form. Here are some examples.

Traditional	Simplified	Pronunciation	Meaning
國	国	guó	country
東	东	dōng	east
車	车	chē	car
買	买	mǎi	buy
寫	写	xiě	write

A simplified way of writing characters has existed for hundreds of years. Simplified characters were used in informal documents and in some forms of calligraphy before they were adopted by mainland China as the official form. Therefore, although the two forms now have some political significance, you may encounter simplified characters in use in Taiwan and traditional characters in use in mainland China.

3.2 The structure of Chinese characters: the radical and the phonetic

3.2.1 The radical

All Chinese characters contain a radical, a sequence of strokes that broadly categorize the character in terms of meaning.

In the set of traditional characters, there are 214 radicals. In the set of simplified characters, there are 189 radicals. Some radicals may occur as independent characters. Others only occur as part of a character.

Here is a list of some of the most common radicals, including their simplified form if there is one.

Traditional radical	Alternate form	Radicals with simplified forms	Meaning
人	亻		person
刀	刂		knife
力			energy
水	氵		water
門		门	door
土			earth
竹	艹		bamboo
口			mouth
口			enclosure
心	忄		heart
火	灬		fire
木			wood
日			sun
食		饣	eat, food
艸	艹	艹	grass
言		讠	language
金		钅	metal/gold

When a radical is simplified, the simplified form is used in all of the characters in which it occurs. Here are some examples.

Traditional	Simplified	Pronunciation	Meaning
話	话	huà	speech
錢	钱	qián	money
鋼	钢	gāng	steel
飯	饭	fàn	rice
餓	饿	è	hungry

3.2.2 The phonetic

Some characters are radicals by themselves. Examples include:

水	shuǐ	water
木	mù	wood
人	rén	person

However, most characters include a radical and additional sets of strokes. Often, these additional strokes provide a hint at the pronunciation of the character. When they do, they are called the phonetic.

Here are examples of characters with phonetics. As you can see, the pronunciation of the phonetic may be identical or similar to the pronunciation of the character.

Character	Phonetic: the character sounds like . . .
问/問 wèn to ask	门/門 mén door
间/間 jiān between 简/簡 jiǎn simple
们/們 men plural marker
清 qīng clear	青 qīng blue or green
情 qíng situation, sentiment
请/請 qǐng to request
河 hé river	可 kě approve, can
哥 gē older brother

Noting phonetic information is a helpful way to remember characters. However, the phonetic rarely provides complete information about the pronunciation of a character.

3.3 The traditional classification of characters

Chinese characters originated during the early Shang dynasty or the late Xia dynasty, in the seventeenth century BC. One of the earliest Chinese dictionaries, the Shuowen Jiezi, compiled in AD 121, established a classification of characters that is still used today. The classification identified the following six categories based on structure and representation of meaning.

3.3.1 Pictographs 象形 xiàng xíng

Pictographs originated as pictures of objects. They represent only a small portion of Chinese characters. The modern forms are stylized versions of the ancient forms. Here are comparisons of the Shang Dynasty forms with the modern forms of the same characters.

Shang form	Modern form	Meaning
	水 shuǐ	water
	日 rì	sun
	目 mù	eye

3.3.2 Ideographs 指事 zhǐ shì

Ideographs represent abstract meanings, often having to do with spatial orientation. Only a small number of characters are ideographs. Examples are presented here.

Shang form	Modern form	Meaning
二	上 shàng	above
一	下 xià	below
𠄎	中 zhōng	middle (picture of a target hit by an arrow)

3.3.3 Associative compounds 会意/會意 huì yì

The meaning of these characters is reflected in the meaning of their component parts.

Character	Composed of
好	hǎo	good	女 nǚ woman + 子 zǐ child
话/話	huà	speech	言 yán language + 舌 shé tongue

3.3.4 Phonetic compounds 形声/形聲 xíngshēng

Phonetic compounds are the most common type of Chinese character and are discussed in 3.2.2 above.

3.3.5 False borrowings 假借 jiǎjiè

False borrowings involve the use of a character to refer to another word with identical pronunciation but different meaning. For example, the word for ‘wheat,’ written as 来/來, a picture of the wheat plant, was ‘borrowed’ to write the abstract concept ‘come,’ which, at the time, had the same pronunciation as the word for wheat. The character for ‘wheat’ was later revised to distinguish it from the character for ‘come.’ In present-day writing, ‘wheat’ is written as 麦/麥 mài and ‘come’ is written as 来/來 lái. The similarity in the characters can be seen in the traditional form of the characters. Note that the pronunciation of the two words is no longer identical, though they still rhyme.

3.3.6 Semantic derivations 转注/轉注 zhuǎnzhù

Characters are considered 转注/轉注 zhuǎnzhù when they are used to represent a meaning that is derived from the original meaning of the character. For example, the character 网/網 wǎng, originally a picture of a fishing net, is used to refer to networks in general. It is the character used in one of the Chinese translations of the World Wide Web: 万维网/萬維網 wàn wéi wǎng. The simplified character for net, 网, is the older form of the character.

3.4 Character stroke order: 笔顺/筆順 *bǐshùn3.4.1 Basic rules of stroke order

Each Chinese character contains a precise number of strokes written in a fixed order. Below are the basic rules of stroke order for the writing of Chinese characters.

Rule

- 1 Horizontal (横 héng) precedes vertical (竖/豎 shù).
- 2 Left falling stroke (撇 piě) precedes right falling stroke (捺 nà).
- 3 First top, then bottom.
- 4 First left, then right.
- 5 First outside, then inside.
- 6 First complete the inside of a box, then seal the box.
- 7 First center, then sides.
- 8 First horizontal (横 héng), then left falling stroke (撇 piě), then right falling stroke (捺 nà).

Example

十 人 三 他 月 日 小
大

3.4.2 Special stroke order rulesRule*

- 1 Write the dot (点/點 diǎn) last if it is positioned at the top right corner of a character.
- 2 Write the dot (点/點 diǎn) last if it is positioned inside a character.
- 3 If the character includes the curved left-falling stroke (横折撇/横摺撇 héng zhé piě) and one other component, write the curved left-falling stroke last.
- 4 If the character consists of more than one horizontal stroke (横 héng) and vertical stroke (竖/豎 shù), write the vertical stroke first, and the horizontal stroke at the bottom last.
- 5 If a character has a horizontal stroke (横 héng) in the middle, write the horizontal stroke last.

Example

我 太 建 上
女

Phrase order in the Mandarin sentence

4.1 Basic phrase order

The basic order of the Mandarin sentence is

topic + subject + predicate

A sentence need not have an overt topic. In addition, if the subject is understood from the context of the sentence, it is often omitted from the sentence.

The predicate consists of everything in the sentence except for the topic and subject, including the verb, its objects, negation, adverbial modifiers, prepositional phrases, and aspect particles. The following sections present the order of these constituents.

4.2 The position of direct and indirect objects

In the neutral sentence in which nothing is emphasized, the direct and indirect objects of the verb follow the verb. We refer to the verb and its objects as the verb phrase.

If there is an indirect object, it precedes the direct object.

subject + verb + indirect object + direct object

他给我一本书。

他給我一本書。

Tā gěi wǒ yī běn shū.

He gave (gives) me one book.

Most verbs take only a direct object.

subject + verb + direct object

我看了那些书。

我看了那些書。

Wǒ kàn le nà xiē shū.

I read those books.

The object may also occur before the subject for emphasis. In this position it is topicalized.

► 57

4.3 The position of prepositional phrases

Prepositional phrases generally occur right before the verb and its objects.

subject + prepositional phrase + verb + direct object

他跟他的女朋友吃晚饭。

他跟他的女朋友吃晚飯。

Tā gēn tā de nǚ péngyou chī wǎnfàn.

He eats dinner with his girlfriend.

► 14

4.4 The position of location phrases

The location phrase, the phrase that indicates where an action occurs, is a type of prepositional phrase. It always occurs before the verb phrase.

subject + location phrase + verb phrase

我在家吃饭。

我在家吃飯。

Wǒ zài jiā chī fàn.

I eat at home.

Within the location phrase, the order of constituents is from the largest to the smallest. Letters are addressed following this principle.

中国北京朝阳区建国门外大街一号

中國北京潮陽區建國門外大街一號

Zhōngguó Běijīng Cháoyáng qū Jiànguó mén wài dà jiē yī hào

China Beijing Chaoyang District Jianguo Gate Outer Road Number 1 → Number 1, Jianguo Gate Outer Road, Chaoyang District, Beijing, China

► 22.7

4.5 The position of 'time when' phrases

A phrase that indicates the 'time when' a situation takes place occurs at the beginning of the predicate.

subject + time when + predicate

我 每天 喝咖啡。

Wǒ měitiān hē kāfēi.

I drink coffee every day.

他 每天 跟他的女朋友吃晚饭。

他 每天 跟他的女朋友吃晚飯。

Tā měitiān gēn tā de nǚ péngyou chī wǎnfàn.

He eats dinner with his girlfriend every day.

If 'time when' is emphasized or contrasted with another time, it may occur before the subject:

昨天我不太舒服。今天已经没问题了。

昨天我不太舒服。今天已經沒問題了。

Zuótiān wǒ bù tài shūfu. Jīntiān yǐjīng méi wèntí le.

Yesterday I was a bit uncomfortable. Today it is no longer a problem.

Within the ‘time when’ phrase, the order of constituents is from the largest block of time to the smallest block of time:

一九九八年二月十五日 yī jiǔ jiǔ bā nián èryuè shíwǔ rì
1998 year February 15 → February 15, 1998

昨天晚上八点钟 昨天晚上八點鐘 zuótiān wǎnshàng bā diǎn zhōng yesterday evening 8 o'clock → 8 o'clock last night

4.6 The relative order of the ‘time when’ phrase and the location phrase

When a sentence includes both a ‘time when’ phrase and a location phrase, ‘time when’ generally occurs before location.

subject + time when + location + verb phrase

我每天在家吃饭。 我每天在家吃飯。
Wǒ měitiān zài jiā chī fàn.
I eat at home every day.

4.7 The position of adverbs

Adverbs occur at the beginning of the predicate, before the verb and any prepositional phrase. Adverbs usually occur after the ‘time when’ phrase.

我上个月只看了一个电影。
我上個月只看了一個電影。
Wǒ shàng gè yuè zhǐ kàn le yī gè diànyǐng.
Last month I only saw one movie.

4.8 The position of negation

Negation occurs before the verb and any prepositional phrase. It usually occurs after an adverb, though certain adverbs may either precede or follow negation.

▶ 15, 27.2

4.9 The position of duration phrases

Duration phrases are time phrases that indicate the length of time that an action occurs. Duration phrases directly follow the verb. Unlike English, there is no preposition associated with the expression of duration in Mandarin.

我在中国住了三年。
我在中國住了三年。
Wǒ zài Zhōngguó zhù le sān nián.
I in China lived three years. → I lived in China for three years.

我昨天晚上睡了八个钟头。

我昨天晚上睡了八個鐘頭。

Wǒ zuótiān wǎnshàng shuì le bā gè zhōngtóu.

I yesterday evening slept eight hours. → I slept for eight hours yesterday.

4.10 Order within the noun phrase

The main noun in the noun phrase, the head noun, occurs as the last word in the phrase. All phrases that describe or modify the head noun occur before the head noun.

那本很有意思的书

那本很有意思的書

nà běn hěn yǒu yìsi de shū

that very interesting book

4.11 Phrase order in questions

In Mandarin, the order of phrases in questions is identical to the order of phrases in statements. Unlike English and many European languages, Mandarin questions are not characterized by a special question word order.

Statement

我喜欢他。

我喜歡他。

Wǒ xǐhuan tā.

I like him.

Content question

你喜欢谁?

你喜歡誰?

Nǐ xǐhuan shéi?

Who do you like?

Yes-no question

你喜欢他吗?

你喜歡他嗎?

Nǐ xǐhuan tā ma?

Do you like him?

4.12 The position of aspect particles

Mandarin indicates the aspect of an event; that is, the way that the event is viewed by the speaker, with three different aspect particles, 了 le perfective, 着/著 zhe durative, and 过 guo experiential. These aspect particles directly follow the verb (or, for the perfective particle 了 le, either the verb or verb + object phrase) and always occur in neutral tone. Sentences that include the durative aspect particle 着/著 zhe often also include the words 在 zài or 正在 zhèng zài at the beginning of the verb phrase.

我已经吃饭了。

我已經吃飯了。

Wǒ yǐjīng chī fàn le.

I've already eaten.

他们吃着饭呢。

他們吃著飯呢。

Tāmen chīzhe fàn ne.

They are eating.

你吃过中国饭吗？

你吃過中國飯嗎？

Nǐ chīguo Zhōngguó fàn ma?

Have you eaten Chinese food before?

Nouns

In Mandarin, the same form of the noun is used in subject and object position.

Subject

猫吃鱼。 貓吃魚。

Māo chī yú.

Cats eat fish. (or) The cat eats fish.

他学中文。
他學中文。

Tā xué Zhōngwén.

He studies Chinese.

Object

我养猫。 我養貓。

Wǒ yǎng māo.

I raise a cat/cats.

我喜欢他。
我喜歡他。

Wǒ xǐhuan tā.

I like him.

With the exception of the written form of the third person pronoun, tā (see 5.2 below), Mandarin nouns are not marked for gender, and there is not the distinction between masculine, feminine, and neuter found in many European languages. The properties of Mandarin nouns are described here.

5.1 Common nouns

Most nouns are common nouns. Their referents may be concrete (纸/紙 zhǐ ‘paper,’ 桌子 zhuōzi ‘table,’ 水 shuǐ ‘water’) or abstract (思想 sīxiǎng ‘thought,’ 原则/原則 yuánzé ‘principle,’ 自由 zìyóu ‘freedom’). Mandarin makes no grammatical distinction between ‘mass’ and ‘count’ nouns.

Mandarin common nouns have a single, invariant form. They do not reflect number, and the same form of the noun is used whether the noun is singular or plural. When no number is used with a noun, the noun is understood to be neither singular nor plural, but simply unspecified for number. In addition, nouns that occur without any modifiers or descriptions have a general rather than a specific reference. For example, 书/書 shū refers to ‘book’ in general and not to any specific book.

When it is necessary to indicate the number of a noun, the noun is modified by a number + classifier phrase. The classifier is required after the number. Number + noun without an intervening classifier is ungrammatical. Compare the following:

Say this

一本书/一本書

yì běn shū

one book

Say this

三个人/三個人

sān gè rén

three people

Not this

*一书/一書

yì shū

Not this

*三人

sān rén

► 6, 8

When a specifier 这/這 zhè, zhèi 'this/these,' 那 nà, nài 'that/those,' or the question specifier 哪 nǎ, nǎi 'which' modifies the noun, it also must be followed by a classifier or number + classifier. If the number is 'one,' the number may be omitted.

这(一)本书	那两本书	哪三本书?
這(一)本書	那兩本書	哪三本書?
zhè (yì) běn shū	nà liǎng běn shū	nǎ sān běn shū?
this book	those two books	which three books?

► 7

A small number of common nouns referring to people can be suffixed with -们/們 men, the suffix that also marks the plural form of pronouns (see section 5.2 below).

同志们/同志們	tóngzhìmen	comrades
孩子们/孩子們	háizimen	children
学生们/學生們	xuéshēngmen	students

This use of -们/們 men with common nouns is relatively rare. It conveys a sense of inclusion and is sometimes used when addressing an audience.

同学们，今天我们听马老师作的报告。
同學們，今天我們聽馬老師作的報告。

Tóngxuémen, jīntiān wǒmen tīng Mǎ lǎoshī zuò de bàogào.

Fellow students, today we are going to listen to a report by teacher Ma.

When a noun is suffixed with -们/們 men it cannot be further modified with any kind of modifying phrase, including a number + classifier phrase.

Say this	Not this
我们的同学	*我们的同学们
我們的同學	我們的同學們
wǒmen de tóngxué	wǒmen de tóngxuémen
our fellow students
三个孩子	*三个孩子们
三個孩子	三個孩子們
sān gè háizi	sān gè háizimen
three children

5.2 Pronouns

Mandarin has first, second, and third person pronouns and a reflexive pronoun.

Mandarin pronouns have the following properties:

- Pronouns are not distinguished in terms of grammatical role. The same pronouns are used for subject, object, possession, etc.
- Pronouns have singular and plural forms. The suffix -们/們 men is added to the singular form to make it the plural form.
- Gender is not reflected in the spoken language. The written language has distinctions for the second and third person pronouns, though only the third person gender distinction is commonly used.

	Singular	Plural
First person	我 wǒ I/me	我们/我們 wǒmen we/us (exclusive or neutral) 咱们/咱們 zánmen we (inclusive)
Second person	你 nǐ (masculine or neutral) 妳 nǐ (feminine) you	你们 nǐmen you
Third person	他 tā (masculine or neutral) 她 tā (feminine) 它/牠 tā (non-human or inanimate) he/she/it	他们/他們 tāmen (masculine or non-specific for gender) 她们/她們 tāmen (feminine) they/them
Reflexive	自己 zìjǐ self

5.2.1 The reflexive pronoun 自己 zìjǐ 'self'

Mandarin has only one reflexive pronoun, and it is not marked for person or gender. To indicate person, the reflexive may optionally be preceded by the relevant personal pronoun.

我自己 wǒ zìjǐ myself	我们自己/我們自己 wǒmen zìjǐ ourselves
你自己 nǐ zìjǐ yourself	你们自己/你們自己 nǐmen zìjǐ yourselves
他自己/她自己 tā zìjǐ himself, herself	他们自己/他們自己 tāmen zìjǐ themselves

自己 zìjǐ 'self' is also used without a personal pronoun. When it occurs in object position, it is understood to refer to the subject:

你在中国一定得把自己照顾好。
你在中國一定得把自己照顧好。

Nǐ zài Zhōngguó yīdìng děi bǎ zìjǐ zhàogù hǎo.

When you are in China you certainly should take good care of yourself.

没有人不喜欢自己的。
沒有人不喜歡自己的。

Méi yǒu rén bù xǐhuan zìjǐ de.

No one doesn't like him/herself.

自己 zìjǐ 'self' may be used to indicate contrast with another noun phrase or pronoun:

我希望他们结婚，可是我自己不想结婚。
我希望他們結婚，可是我自己不想結婚。

Wǒ xīwàng tāmen jiéhūn, kěshì wǒ zìjǐ bù xiǎng jiéhūn.

I hope they will get married, but I myself don't plan to get married.

这是我自己的事。你不用管。
這是我自己的事。你不用管。

Zhè shì wǒ zìjǐ de shì. Nǐ bù yòng guǎn.

This is my affair. You need not be concerned with it.

5.2.2 The inclusive pronoun 咱们/咱們 zánmen 'we'

The inclusive pronoun 咱们/咱們 zánmen 'we' is used in northern dialects of Mandarin. 咱们/咱們 zánmen 'we' refers to the speaker, other people associated with the speaker, and to the addressee. When a speaker uses 咱们/咱們 zánmen 'we' as the subject, he or she includes you in the remarks.

咱们都是自己人。
咱们都是自己人。

Zánmen dōu shì zìjǐ rén.

We are all family. (We, including you, are all one family.)

'Inclusive' 咱们/咱們 zánmen contrasts with an 'exclusive' use of 'we' that is associated with 我们/我們 wǒmen. In the exclusive sense, 我们/我們 wǒmen refers to the speaker and others associated with the speaker but not to the addressee.

我们欢迎你。
我們歡迎你。

Wǒmen huānyíng nǐ.

We welcome you.

咱们/咱們 zánmen only has the inclusive meaning. In addition, 咱们/咱們 zánmen is only used as subject, and never as object.

我们/我們 wǒmen can have either inclusive or exclusive meaning and it occurs as subject and object. It is much more commonly used than 咱们/咱們 zánmen.

5.2.3 Modification of pronouns

Pronouns represent an entire noun phrase. Therefore, in general, they are not further modified. However, Mandarin has a small number of literary expressions in which the pronoun is modified:

可怜的我 可憐的我 kělián de wǒ
poor me

美丽的她 美麗的她 měilì de tā
pretty her

善良的高老师 善良的高老師 shànliáng de Gāo lǎoshī
good-hearted professor Gao

5.2.4 Possession involving pronouns

Mandarin does not have possessive pronouns. The meaning of possessive pronouns is conveyed by pronoun + 的 de.

我的朋友 wǒ de péngyou
my friend

他的小狗 tā de xiǎogǒu
his puppy

Here is a table showing the Mandarin equivalent of English possessive pronouns. When pronoun + 的 de is followed by a noun, the English equivalent is my, your, his/her, our, and their. When pronoun + 的 de is not followed by a noun, the English equivalent is mine, yours, his/hers, ours, and theirs.

Singular		Plural
my/mine	我的 wǒ de	our/ours	我们的/我們的 wǒmen de 咱们的/咱們的 zánmen de your/yours	你的 nǐ de	your/yours	你们的/你們的 nǐmen de his (her)/his (hers)	他的 (她的) tā de	their/theirs	他们的/他們的 tāmen de
Reflexive one's	自己的 zìjǐ de
Interrogative whose?	谁的? /誰的? shéi de?

这是我的书。
這是我的書。
Zhè shì wǒ de shū.
This is my book.

这是我的，那是你的。
這是我的，那是你的。
Zhè shì wǒ de, nà shì nǐ de.
This is mine, that is yours.

► 9.2.1.2, 29.2.2

5.3 Proper nouns

Proper nouns include personal names, place names, names of companies, names of schools, etc.

牛津大学 牛津大學
Niújīn Dàxué
Oxford University

伦敦/倫敦
Lúndūn
London

万里长城/萬里長城
Wànlǐ Chángchéng
The Great Wall

喜马拉雅山脉/喜瑪拉雅山脈
Xǐmǎlāyǎ shān mài
Himalayan Mountains

Proper nouns, like pronouns, typically occur without additional modification. As is the case with pronouns, Mandarin has a small number of literary expressions in which the proper noun may be modified. Here are some examples.

可爱的王美玲

可愛的王美玲

kě'ài de Wáng Měilíng charming Wang Meiling

山清水秀的台湾

山清水秀的臺灣

shānqīng shuǐxiù de Táiwān

Taiwan of green hills and clear streams → beautiful Taiwan

地大物博的美国

dìdà wùbó de Měiguó

America vast in territory and rich in resources

Numbers

6.1 Mandarin numbers 0–99

6.1.1 Numbers 0–10

0	○ or 零 líng
1	一 yī	6	六 liù
2	二 èr , 两/兩 liǎng	7	七 qī
3	三 sān	8	八 bā
4	四 sì	9	九 jiǔ
5	五 wǔ	10	十 shí

The number 2 occurs in two forms.

- When counting without a classifier, the number 2 is always 二 èr.

一 二 三 四 五 yī - èr - sān - sì - wǔ
1 2 3 4 5

- When it occurs in a phrase with a classifier, the number 2 is 两/兩 liǎng.

两本书 兩本書 liǎng běn shū
two books

两个人 兩個人 liǎng gè rén
two people

► 9.1

Telephone numbers are recited as a series of single digits from 0 to 9. When reciting a telephone number, the number 2 is always 二 èr.

我的电话号码是八六二二五六〇二。
我的電話號碼是八六二二五六〇二。

Wǒ de diànhuà hàomǎ shì bā liù èr èr wǔ liù líng èr.

My phone number is 8 6 2 2 5 6 0 2.

► 26.5

6.1.2 Numbers 11–19

The numbers 11–19 consist of the number 10 [十 shí] followed by the numbers 1 [一 yī] through 9 [九 jiǔ] as follows. Note that the number 12 is 十二 shí'èr and not *十两/十兩 shí liǎng.

11	十一	shíyī	16	十六	shíliù
12	十二	shí'èr	17	十七	shíqī
13	十三	shísān	18	十八	shíbā
14	十四	shísì	19	十九	shíjiǔ
15	十五	shíwǔ

6.1.3 Numbers 20–90

The numbers 20, 30, 40, etc. consist of the numbers 2 [二 èr] through 9 [九 jiǔ] followed by the number 10 [十 shí] as follows:

20	二十	èrshí	60	六十	liùshí
30	三十	sānshí	70	七十	qīshí
40	四十	sìshí	80	八十	bāshí
50	五十	wǔshí	90	九十	jiǔshí

The numbers 21, 22, etc. are formed as follows:

21	二十一	èrshíyī	57	五十七	wǔshíqī
22	二十二	èrshí'èr	68	六十八	liùshíbā
35	三十五	sānshíwǔ	74	七十四	qīshísi
46	四十六	sìshíliù	99	九十九	jiǔshíjiǔ

6.2 Number 100 and higher

6.2.1 100, 1,000, 10,000, and 100,000,000

Chinese has distinct words for multiples of 100, 1,000, 10,000, and 100,000,000 as follows:

Hundreds	百 bǎi	100	一百 yī bǎi
Thousands	千 qiān	1,000	一千 yī qiān
Ten thousands	万/萬 wàn	10,000	一万/一萬 yī wàn
Hundred millions	亿/億 yì	100,000,000	一亿/一億 yī yì

These number words function as classifiers. Therefore, the number 2 is usually 两/兩 liǎng when it occurs immediately before the word for ‘hundred,’ ‘thousand,’ or ‘ten-thousand’: 两百/兩百 liǎng bǎi, 两千/兩千 liǎng qiān, 两万/兩萬 liǎng wàn, etc. In many regional dialects of Mandarin, 二百 èr bǎi, 二千 èr qiān, 二万/二萬 èr wàn, etc. is also acceptable.

6.2.2 Forming numbers through 9,999

Numbers up to 9,999 follow the same pattern as in English:

352		三百		五十	二
		sān bǎi		wǔshí	èr
1,670	一千	六百		七十
	yī qiān	liù bǎi		qīshí
3,482	三千	四百		八十	二
	sān qiān	sì bǎi		bāshí	èr
9,222	九千	二百 or 两百/兩百		二十	二
	jiǔ qiān	èr bǎi or liǎng bǎi		èrshí	èr

6.2.3 'Zero' as a placeholder

The word 〇/零 líng may be used when the 'hundreds' place or the 'tens' place is empty, provided there is a number before and after 〇/零 líng. For example, it can be used to mark the 'hundreds' place when the thousands and tens are filled, as in the following number.

7,066      七千      零      六十      六
qī qiān      líng      liù shí      liù

It can be used to mark the 'tens' place when the hundreds and single numbers are filled, as in the following number.

9,102      九千      一百      〇      二
jiǔ qiān      yī bǎi      líng      èr

When two consecutive places are empty, 〇/零 líng occurs only once.

6,006      六千      零      六
liù qiān      líng      liù

6.2.4 Forming numbers 10,000 to 100,000,000

Languages read numbers in terms of the categories that they distinguish. English distinguishes tens, hundreds, thousands, millions, and up. Numbers between one thousand and one million are read in terms of the numbers of thousands that they contain.

Chinese distinguishes the categories of tens, hundreds, thousands, ten-thousands, and hundred millions. Numbers between ten thousand and one-hundred million are read in terms of the number of ten-thousands that they contain. Compare the way that English and Chinese read the following numbers.

	English	Chinese
1,000	one thousand	一千 yī qiān one thousand
10,000	ten thousand	一万/一萬 yī wàn one ten-thousand
100,000	one hundred thousand	十万/十萬 shí wàn ten ten-thousands
1,000,000	one million	百万/百萬 bǎi wàn one hundred ten-thousands
10,000,000	ten million	千万/千萬 qiān wàn one thousand ten-thousands
100,000,000	one hundred million	亿/億 yì
1,000,000,000	one billion	十亿/十億 shí yì ten one hundred-millions

Observe how these numbers are read in Chinese.

	亿/億 yì	万/萬 wàn	千 qiān	百 bǎi	十 shí
25,250		两万 兩萬 liǎng wàn	五千 wǔqiān	二百 èrbǎi	五十 wǔshí
225,250		二十二万 二十二萬 èrshí'èr wàn	五千 wǔqiān	二百 èrbǎi	五十 wǔshí

	亿/億 yì	万/萬 wàn	千 qiān	百 bǎi	十 shí
2,225,250		两百二十二万 兩百二十二萬 liǎngbǎi èrshí'èr wàn	五千 wǔqiān	二百 èrbǎi	五十 wǔshí
22,225,250		两千二百二十二万 兩千二百二十二萬 liǎngqiān èrbǎi èrshí'èr wàn	五千 wǔqiān	二百 èrbǎi	五十 wǔshí
522,225,250	五亿 五億 wǔ yì	两千二百二十二万 兩千二百二十二萬 liǎngqiān èrbǎi èrshí'èr wàn	五千 wǔqiān	二百 èrbǎi	五十 wǔshí

6.3 Formal characters for numbers

To discourage forgery, Chinese numbers are sometimes written using the following special set of characters. The numerals on Chinese currency are written with these special characters.

	Ordinary form	Special form
1	一	壹	yī
2	二	貳	èr
3	三	叁	sān
4	四	肆	sì
5	五	伍	wǔ
6	六	陸	liù
7	七	柒	qī
8	八	捌	bā
9	九	玖	jiǔ
10	十	拾	shí
100	百	佰	bǎi
1000	千	仟	qiān

Chapter 8 presents the words and phrases associated with money.

► 8.5

6.4 Ordinal numbers

To make a number ordinal, add the prefix 第 dì before the number:

1st	第一	dì yī	20th	第二十	dì èrshí
2nd	第二	dì èr	50th	第五十	dì wǔshí
3rd	第三	dì sān	77th	第七十七	dì qīshíqī
4th	第四	dì sì	83rd	第八十三	dì bāshí sān
5th	第五	dì wǔ	95th	第九十五	dì jiǔshíwǔ
6th	第六	dì liù	100th	第一百	dì yìbǎi
10th	第十	dì shí	1,000th	第一千	dì yíqiān

NOTE In ordinal numbers, 'second' is always 第二 dì èr and never *第二/第兩 dì liǎng.

6.5 Estimates and approximations

To indicate that a quantity is 'more or less' the stated number, use the phrase 左右 zuǒyòu 'more or less,' as follows:

number + classifier (+ noun) + 左右 zuǒyòu

五十个(人)左右

五十個(人)左右

wǔshí gè (rén) zuǒyòu

about 50 (people) (50 people more or less)

一百块钱左右

一百塊錢左右

yībǎi kuài qián zuǒyòu around $100 ($100 more or less)

To indicate that a quantity is almost but not quite the stated amount, use 差不多 chàbūdūo + number 'almost number.'

差不多 chàbūdūo + number + classifier (+ noun)

差不多五十个(人)

差不多五十個(人)

chàbūdūo wǔshí gè (rén)

almost 50 people

差不多一百块(钱)

差不多一百塊(錢)

chàbūdūo yībǎi kuài (qián)

almost $100

To indicate that a quantity is greater than or equal to the stated number, use 以上 yǐshàng 'or more.' For a more formal expression with the same meaning, use 之上 zhī shàng.

number (+ classifier + noun) + 以上 yǐshàng/之上 zhī shàng

五十(个人)以上

五十(个人)之上

五十(個人)以上

五十(個人)之上

wǔshí (gè rén) yǐshàng

wǔshí (gè rén) zhī shàng

50 (people) or more

50 (people) or more

To indicate that the actual number is less than or equal to the stated number, use 以下 yǐxià 'or fewer.' For a more formal expression with the same meaning, use 之下 zhī xià.

number (+ classifier + noun) + 以下 yǐxià/之下 zhī xià

五十(个人)以下

五十(个人)之下

五十(個人)以下

五十(個人)之下

wǔshí (gè rén) zhī xià

50 (people) or less

50 (people) or less

50 or fewer (people)

50 or fewer (people)

To indicate that the actual time lies within a specified period of time, use 以內 yǐnèi. For a more formal expression with the same meaning, use 之內 zhī nèi.

一年以內

一年之內

yì nián yǐnèi

yì nián zhī nèi

within one year

within one year

To indicate the actual number is more than the stated number, use 多 duō ‘more than.’

number + 多 duō + classifier (+ noun)

五十多个人

五十多個人

wǔshí duō gè rén

more than 50 people

To indicate an approximation within a small range, use two numbers in a sequence as follows:

我一两天就回来。

我一兩天就回來。

Wǒ yì liǎng tiān jiù huí lái.

I'll come back in a day or two.

这个东西卖三四块钱。

這個東西賣三四塊錢。

Zhège dōngxi mài sān sì kuài qián.

This thing sells for three or four dollars.

This expression can be used together with 左右 zuǒyòu:

这个东西卖三四块钱左右。

這個東西賣三四塊錢左右。

Zhège dōngxi mài sān sì kuài qián zuǒyòu.

This thing sells for around three or four dollars.

6.6

Fractions, percentages, decimals, half, and multiples

6.6.1

Fractions

To indicate fractions, use the pattern:

X 分 之 Y

fēn zhī

三分之一

sān fēn zhī yī

one-third  $\frac{1}{3}$

Note that the ‘whole’ is expressed first and the ‘part of the whole’ is expressed second.

$\frac{1}{4}$	四分之一	sì fēn zhī yī
$\frac{2}{5}$	五分之二	wǔ fēn zhī èr
$\frac{9}{10}$	十分之九	shí fēn zhī jiǔ
$\frac{7}{9}$	九分之七	jiǔ fēn zhī qī
$\frac{1}{15}$	十五分之一	shíwǔ fēn zhī yī

6.6.2

Percentages

Percentages are expressed as parts of 100. The expression used for percentages is the same as for fractions, but the ‘whole’ is always 百 bǎi ‘100’:

百 分 之 + number

bǎi fēn zhī number

10% 百分之十

bǎi fēn zhī shí

25% 百分之二十五

bǎi fēn zhī èrshíwǔ

37% 百分之三十七

bǎi fēn zhī sānshíqī

66% 百分之六十六

bǎi fēn zhī liùshíliù

99% 百分之九十九

bǎi fēn zhī jiǔshíjiǔ

6.6.3 Decimals

Decimals are recited as a series of single digits and zeros after a decimal point. The decimal point is read as 点/點 diǎn:

1.1	一点一/一點一	yī diǎn yī
2.5	(二 or) 两点五/(二 or) 兩點五	(èr or) liǎng diǎn wǔ
14.56	十四点五六/十四點五六	shísi diǎn wǔ liù
30.808	三十点零八/三十點零八	sānshí diǎn bā líng bā
8.06	八点〇六/八點〇六	bā diǎn líng liù

If there is no number before the decimal point, the fraction may optionally be recited as 〇点/點 (XXX) líng diǎn (XXX):

.35	〇点三五/〇點三五	líng diǎn sān wǔ
.27	〇点二七/〇點二七	líng diǎn èr qī

NOTE

Chinese often omits the final zero after a decimal point. For example, $8.60 may also be written as $8.6.

6.6.4 Indicating 'half'

The word 半 bàn means 'half.'

To indicate half of something, place 半 bàn before the classifier associated with the thing.

半碗饭/半碗飯 bàn wǎn fàn half a bowl of rice

半本书/半本書 bàn běn shū
half a book

半杯水 bàn bēi shuǐ half a glass of water

► 8

To indicate one or more things and a half, place 半 bàn immediately after the classifier associated with the thing:

number + classifier + 半 bàn

三碗半(饭)/三碗半(飯)
sān wǎn bàn (fàn)
three and a half bowls (of rice)

三本半(书)/三本半(書)
sān běn bàn (shū)
three and a half volumes (of books)

三杯半(水)
sān bēi bàn (shuǐ)
three and a half cups (of water)

To indicate 'half' in time expressions, see Chapter 49.

► 49.1.1, 49.1.3.2, 49.1.4

6.6.5 Indicating multiples of a quantity with 倍 bèi

倍 bèi is a classifier and is always preceded by a number: 一倍 yī bèi, 两倍/兩倍 liǎng bèi, 三倍 sān bèi, etc.

一倍 yī bèi means 'one fold,' or 'one time more than a given quantity.' 两倍/兩倍 liǎng bèi means 'twofold,' 三倍 sān bèi means 'threefold,' etc.

倍 bèi often occurs with expressions that imply an increase:

价格都增加了一倍了。

價格都增加了一倍了。

Jiàgé dōu zēngjiā le yī bèi le.

Prices have all doubled (increased by one-fold).

今年这本书比去年贵了一倍。

今年這本書比去年貴了一倍。

Jīnnián zhè běn shū bǐ qùnián guì le yī bèi.

This year this book is twice as expensive as it was last year.

倍 bèi also occurs in equational sentences such as the following:

我的书是你的书的两倍。

我的書是你的書的兩倍。

Wǒ de shū shì nǐ de shū de liǎng bèi.

I have twice as many books as you.

(lit. 'My books are the equivalent of two times your books.')

If 半 bàn 'half' occurs, it follows 倍 bèi:

今年学中文的学生是去年的一倍半。

今年學中文的學生是去年的一倍半。

Jīnnián xué Zhōngwén de xuésheng shì qùnián de yī bèi bàn.

The number of students studying Chinese this year is  $1\frac{1}{2}$  times greater than last year.

▶ 6.6.4

6.6.6 Discounts, sales, and percentage off the price

The expression for a discount or sale is the verb phrase 打折 dǎ zhé.

Discounts are expressed as a percentage of the original or full price.

九折 jiǔ zhé is 90% of the original price, or 10% off. 七点五折/七點五折 qīdiǎn wǔ zhé is 75% of the original price, or 25% off. Here are additional examples of discounts. Discounts are written with either Chinese or Arabic numerals.

8折 bā zhé                      80% of original price                      20% off

5折 wǔ zhé                      50% of original price                      50% off or                                      or 半折 bàn zhé                      half of original price

二折 èr zhé                      20% of original price                      80% off

一折 yī zhé                      10% of original price                      90% off

To find out if an item is discounted or on sale, you can ask:

打折吗?

or                      打不打折?

or                      有折吗?

打折嗎?

有折嗎?

Dǎ zhé ma?

Dǎ bù dǎ zhé?

Yǒu zhé ma?

Do you discount?

Do you discount?

Is there a discount?

To find out how much of a discount there is, you can ask:

打几折?/打幾折?

Dǎ jǐ zhé?

How much discount is there?

6.7 Lucky and unlucky numbers

Some numbers have special significance in Chinese based on their value in traditional Chinese numerology or because they are near-homophones with a word with positive or negative connotations. Here are some numbers with special significance.

Numbers with negative connotations – unlucky numbers

四 sì (near homophone with 死 sǐ ‘to die’)

五 wǔ (near homophone with 无/無 wú ‘nothing’)

Numbers with positive connotations – lucky numbers

六 liù (near homophone with 留 liú ‘remain, leftover/excess’)

八 bā (near homophone with 发/發 fā ‘prosperity’)

The special significance of odd and even numbers

- 单号/單號 dānhào ‘odd numbers.’ Odd-numbered items are appropriate for funerals and other sad occasions.
- 双号/雙號 shuānghào ‘even numbers.’ Even-numbered items (except for the number 4) are appropriate for weddings and other happy occasions.

6.8 Numbers used in phrases and expressions

Numbers, especially sequential numbers, are often used in Chinese phrases.

1's and 2's

一清二楚

yī qīng èr chǔ

perfectly clearly

他说得一清二楚。

他說得一清二楚。

Tā shuō de yī qīng èr chǔ.

He said it perfectly clearly.

3's and 4's

张三李四

張三李四

Zhāng Sān Lǐ Sì

John Doe and Mary Smith (ordinary people)

不三不四

bù sān bù sì

7's and 8's

乱七八糟

亂七八糟

luàn qī bā zāo

a mess/disorganized

七上八下

qī shàng bā xià

6.9 — yī as a marker of sequence

In addition to functioning as a number, the word 一 yī is also used to indicate sequence in the following structure:

— yī + verb

as soon as verb occurs . . .

他一看見他孩子就很高兴。

他一看見他孩子就很高興。

Tā yī kànjian tā háizi jiù hěn gāoxìng.

As soon as he sees (his) children he is happy.

▶ 42.3.3

6.10 Numbers that are used as words

Numbers that are homophonous or near homophones with words may be used as abbreviations for words. This kind of substitution is particularly common on the internet and in written advertisements and signs. Examples include:

5 3 0 五三零

wǔ sān líng

(我想你)

(wǒ xiǎng nǐ)

I'm thinking of you – I miss you.

5 2 0 五二〇

wǔ èr líng

(我爱你)

(wǒ ài nǐ)

I love you

8 8 八八

bā bā

(拜拜)

Specifiers and demonstratives

这/這 zhè and 那 nà have two functions.

They can be used as demonstratives, or words that are used to point out an item:

那是我的手机。 那是我的手機。
Nà shì wǒ de shǒujī.
That is my cellphone.

They can be used as specifiers, or words that occur as part of a noun phrase and that identify specific items:

这三本书 這三本書 zhè sān běn shū
these three books

When used as specifiers, these words each have an alternative pronunciation. 这/這 may be pronounced zhè or zhèi. 那 may be pronounced nà or nèi. The choice of pronunciation varies by speaker and region of China.

7.1

这/這 zhè ‘this’ and 那 nà ‘that’ as demonstratives

As demonstratives, 这/這 zhè ‘this’ and 那 nà ‘that’ refer to an entire noun phrase, either a concrete object or an abstract concept. They always occur at the beginning of the sentence, and they serve as the subject of the sentence. They can occur in statements or in questions.

那是中文字典。
Nà shì Zhōngwén zìdiǎn.
That is a Chinese dictionary.

这是我的书。
這是我的書。
Zhè shì wǒ de shū.
This is my book.

那是什么？ 那是甚麼？
Nà shì shénme?
What is that?
(lit. ‘That is what?’)

这是什么意思？ 這是甚麼意思？
Zhè shì shénme yìsi?
What is the meaning of this?
(lit. ‘This is what meaning?’)

7.2

这/這 zhè, zhèi ‘this/these’ and 那 nà, nài ‘that/those’ as specifiers

When they are used as specifiers, 这/這 zhè, zhèi ‘this/these’ and 那 nà, nài ‘that/those’ are part of a noun phrase. They occur before the number if there is one, and before the classifier and the noun in this order:

specifier + (number) + classifier + noun

► 6, 8, 9

Here are examples of noun phrases that begin with specifiers. Following each noun phrase there is an example showing how the noun phrase is used in a sentence.

Noun phrase that begins with a specifier

Notice that 这/這 zhè, zhèi and 那 nà, nài do not have separate singular and plural forms.

7.3

这儿/這兒 zhèr and 这里/這裏 zhèlǐ ‘here,’ 那儿/那兒 nàr and 那里/那裏 nàlǐ ‘there’

这儿/這兒 zhèr (这里/這裏 zhèlǐ) ‘here’ and 那儿/那兒 nàr (那里/那裏 nàlǐ) ‘there’ indicate location. 这儿/這兒 zhèr ‘here’ and 那儿/那兒 nàr ‘there’ are used in the north of China, including Beijing. 这里/這裏 zhèlǐ and 那里/那裏 nàlǐ are used in the south of China, including Taiwan. The meaning and use of 这儿/這兒 zhèr and 这里/這裏 zhèlǐ is the same, as is the meaning and use of 那儿/那兒 nàr and 那里/那裏 nàlǐ. Each member of the pair is interchangeable in our examples here and throughout this book.

这儿/這兒 zhèr ‘here’ and 那儿/那兒 nàr ‘there’ may occur at the beginning of the sentence as the subject. As subjects, they may optionally be preceded by the location preposition 在 zài ‘at.’

(在) 这儿有很多商店。

(在) 這兒有很多商店。

(在) 那儿没有停车场。

(在) 那兒沒有停車場。

(Zài) nàr méi yǒu tíngchē chǎng.

There (in that location) there aren’t any parking lots.

When they are not the subject, 这儿/這兒 zhèr ‘here’ and 那儿/那兒 nàr ‘there’ must be preceded by the location preposition 在 zài ‘at.’

我在这儿工作。

我在這兒工作。

Wǒ zài zhèr gōngzuò.

I work here.

我在那儿买东西。

我在那兒買東西。

Wǒ zài nàr mǎi dōngxi.

► 14

People cannot serve as location nouns. To make a person into a location, follow it with a location specifier.

Please come to me. [to my location]

Classifiers

8.1 The structure of phrases involving classifiers

A classifier is a word that occurs between the specifier and/or number and the noun. In Chinese, a classifier always occurs between a specifier or number and a noun in this order:

specifier + number + classifier + noun

Specifier and/or number + classifier + noun forms a noun phrase.

NOTES

- 1 Classifiers are sometimes referred to as 'measure words.'
- 2 In English, mass nouns such as 'coffee,' 'rice,' and 'sand' occur with classifiers. In Chinese, all nouns occur with classifiers when they are preceded by a specifier and/or number.

► 6, 7, 9

Here are examples of noun phrases with specifiers, numbers, classifiers, and nouns. The classifier is emphasized in each example. The classifier is often omitted when a Mandarin noun phrase is translated into English.

Specifier + classifier + noun	Number + classifier + noun	Specifier + number + classifier + noun
这个人 這個人 zhègè rén this person	三本书 三本書 sān běn shū three books	这两碗饭 這兩碗飯 zhè liǎng wǎn fàn these two bowls of rice
那个学校 那個學校 nàgè xuéxiào that school	三杯咖啡 sān bēi kāfēi three cups of coffee	那三本书 那三本書 nà sān běn shū those three books

8.2 Choosing the classifier

8.2.1 Nouns and associated classifiers

Most nouns are associated with a particular classifier. Classifiers are often not predictable from the noun so they must be memorized. Some dictionaries indicate the classifier associated with a noun.

Noun	Classifier	Noun phrase
书/書 shū book	本 běn volume	三本书/三本書 sān běn shū three books
纸/紙 zhǐ paper	张/張 zhāng sheet	一张纸/一張紙 yī zhāng zhǐ one piece of paper
钢笔/鋼筆 gāngbǐ pen	枝 zhī branch	这枝钢笔/這枝鋼筆 zhè zhī gāngbǐ this pen
房子 fángzi house	所 suǒ building	一所房子 yī suǒ fángzi one house
猫/貓 māo cat	只/隻 zhī classifier for animals	两只猫/兩隻貓 liǎng zhī māo two cats
车/車 chē car	辆/輛 liàng classifier for cars	三辆车/三輛車 sān liàng chē three cars

树/樹 shù tree	棵 kē classifier for trees	一棵树/一棵樹 yī kē shù a tree
人 rén person	个/個 gè classifier for people and many other nouns	一个人/一個人 yī gè rén one person

位 wèi is a polite classifier for people. When it is used, the noun typically does not occur:

NOTE

一位	yī wèi	one person
两位/兩位	liǎng wèi	two people

8.2.2 Classifiers that indicate a property of the noun

Some classifiers indicate a property of the noun. These classifiers are often translated into English:

Shape of noun	张/張 zhāng a flat sheet	一张纸/一張紙 yī zhāng zhǐ a sheet of paper
The shape of the container of the noun	杯 bēi cup	一杯茶 yī bēi chá a cup of tea
The weight of the noun	斤 jīn 0.5 kilograms	一斤苹果 yī jīn píngguǒ 0.5 kilograms of apples
The value of the noun	毛 máo dime	一毛钱/一毛錢 yī máo qián a dime's worth of money

Different classifiers may be used to describe a noun in different ways.

Noun	Classifier	Noun phrase
饭/飯 fàn rice	碗 wǎn bowl	一碗饭/一碗飯 yī wǎn fàn one bowl of rice
饭/飯 fàn rice	斤 jīn 0.5 kilograms	两斤饭/兩斤飯 liǎng jīn fàn one kilogram of rice
面包/麵包 miànbāo bread	条/條 tiáo loaf	一条面包/一條麵包 yī tiáo miànbāo a loaf of bread

水 shuǐ water	壶/壺 hú pot/vase	一壶水/一壺水 yī hú shuǐ a pot/vase of water
花 huā flower	瓶 píng bottle	一瓶花 yī píng huā a vase of flowers
花 huā flower	束 shù bouquet	一束花 yī shù huā a bouquet of flowers

8.2.3 个/個 gè, the general classifier

The most commonly used classifier is 个/個 gè. It is used with many different nouns including people and things. It does not contribute any meaning to the noun phrase in which it occurs. It is generally pronounced with neutral tone.

一个人/一個人

yī gè rén

a person

一个问题/一個問題

yī gè wèntí

a problem/a question

一个东西/一個東西

yī gè dōngxi

a thing (a physical object)

In mainland China, in informal speech, 个/個 gè can be used as the classifier for almost any noun, even those with an established classifier. This phenomenon is sometimes referred to as 个化/個化 gè huà 'ge-ization.'

一个车/一個車

yī gè chē

(compare with 一辆车/一輛車 yī liàng chē) a car

一个房子/一個房子

yī gè fángzi

(compare with 一所房子 yī suǒ fángzi) a house

8.3 Omission of the head noun

In modern Mandarin, if a noun phrase includes a specifier and/or a number, the classifier may not be omitted. However, the head noun may be omitted from the noun phrase.

Say this

三本书 [or] 三本

sān běn shū [or] sān běn

Not this

8.4 Classifiers that occur without a noun

The words for 'day' and 'year' are classifiers. They may be preceded by a number, and they are never followed by a noun.

天 tiān day

年 nián year

一天 yī tiān one day

一年 yī nián one year

两天/兩天 liǎng tiān two days

两年/兩年 liǎng nián two years

► 34.1, 36.1, 37.8, 49.2

8.5 Money and prices

In Chinese, money and prices are expressed as noun phrases. The units of money, dollars, dimes, and cents are expressed by classifiers. The word for money, 钱/錢 qián, is a noun, and may occur at the end of the noun phrase.

In informal and spoken contexts, the classifiers for money are as follows:

块/塊	kuài	dollar
毛	máo	dime
分	fēn	cent

分 fēn represents 1 cent to 9 cents. Multiples of 10 cents are represented by 毛 máo.

五块/五塊	三毛	八分	钱/錢	= $5.38
wǔ kuài	sān máo	bā fēn	qián
四十八块/塊	九毛	六分	钱/錢	= $48.96
sìshíbā kuài	jiǔ máo	liù fēn	qián

The number 2 in the phrases ‘2 dollars,’ ‘2 dimes’ (20 cents), or ‘2 cents’ may be either 二 èr or 两/兩 liǎng.

三块/三塊	四毛	二分	钱/錢	= $3.42
sān kuài	sì máo	èr fēn	qián
		or 两分/兩分
		liǎng fēn

The noun 钱/錢 qián ‘money’ need not occur in a money phrase. If it is absent, the classifier that immediately precedes it may also be absent.

四十八块/塊	九毛	六	= $48.96
sìshíbā kuài	jiǔ máo	liù

If the classifier is absent, the number 2 can only be represented as 二 èr and not as 两/兩 liǎng.

三块/三塊	四毛	二	= $3.42
sān kuài	sì máo	èr

Chinese also has the following formal written classifiers for dollars and dimes.

元/圓	yuán	dollar
角	jiǎo	dime

These are the classifiers used on currency and in formal financial transactions.

For the formal characters for numbers, see

▶ 6.3

When 元/圓 yuán and 角 jiǎo are used, the noun 钱/錢 qián does not occur in the money phrase. 元/圓 yuán and 角 jiǎo are often not used together in the same price. 角 jiǎo tends to occur only when the denomination is smaller than one 元/圓 yuán.

Formal/written

$3.00	三元/圓	sān yuán
$0.60	六角	liù jiǎo

To ask ‘how much money?’ say 多少钱? /多少錢? duōshao qián?

这两本书多少钱?

這兩本書多少錢?

Zhè liǎng běn shū duōshao qián?

How much (money) are these two books?

Noun phrases

A noun phrase consists of a noun and any words that describe or ‘modify’ the noun. Here is an example of a noun phrase with the noun emphasized.

三个大老虎 三個大老虎
sān gè dà lóuhǔ
three big tigers

Additional examples of noun phrases are presented below.

In this chapter, we refer to the noun that is being described or modified as the head noun and to the words or phrases that describe or modify the head noun as the modifier.

In Mandarin Chinese, the relative position of modifier and noun is constant:

In Chinese, all noun modifiers occur before the head noun.

9.1

Modifying a noun with a specifier and/or number

Nouns can be modified by

- a specifier (‘this,’ ‘that,’ ‘which?’)
- or a number (‘four,’ ‘twenty’),
- or a specifier and number together (‘these four,’ ‘those twenty,’ ‘which two?’)

In Mandarin, the classifier associated with the noun being modified must be included in the modifying phrase. The entire phrase precedes the head noun as follows:

specifier + classifier + noun

那	本	书
那	本	書
nà	běn	shū
that		book

number + classifier + noun

两	本	书
兩	本	書
liǎng	běn	shū
two		books

specifier + number + classifier + noun

那	三	个	人
那	三	個	人
nà	sān	gè	rén
those	three		people
哪	三	个	人
哪	三	個	人
nǎ	sān	gè	rén
which	three		people?

► 6, 7, 8

9.2

Modifying a noun with all other modifiers: modification with 的 de

Noun modifiers may also be nouns, pronouns, verbs, or phrases that include a verb. These kinds of modifiers are typically followed by the particle 的 de, and the noun phrase has the following form:

modifier + 的 de + head noun

In English, when a modifier includes a verb, the modifier occurs after the head noun as a relative clause introduced by a relative pronoun ('who,' 'whom,' 'which') or a complementizer ('that'). In these examples, the modifier of the noun is presented in square brackets.

NOTE

the book [that I bought] the people [who spoke to you]

In Mandarin, all modifiers precede the head noun. In addition, Mandarin has no words that correspond to relative pronouns or complementizers. Do not attempt to translate them into Chinese.

9.2.1

Examples of noun phrases with different types of modifiers

9.2.1.1

Modifiers that are nouns

9.3

Omission of the particle 的 de

The particle 的 de is sometimes omitted from the modifier.

的 de may be omitted:

- when the modifier is an unmodified one-syllable adjectival verb.
贵的车/贵的車 guì de chē → 贵车/貴車 guì chē expensive car but not
很贵的车/很贵的車 hěn guì de chē → *很贵车/很貴車 hěn guì chē
- when the modifier is closely associated with the noun, describing, for example, nationality:
美国的人/美國的人 Měiguó de rén → 美国人/美國人 Měiguó rén American person
- or a close personal relationship in which the modifier is a pronoun:
我的爸爸 wǒ de bàba → 我爸爸 wǒ bàba my father

9.4

Noun modifiers in a series

In Mandarin Chinese, a noun may be modified by any number of modifiers.

- The modifiers occur in a series before the head noun.
- A modifier that is a specifier and/or a number ends with a classifier. All other modifiers may end in the particle 的 de.
- The head noun occurs only once, at the end of the series of modifiers.

Here are examples of noun phrases in which the head noun is modified by a series of modifiers. Each modifying phrase is included in [square brackets].

我们[昨天看的][刚出来的][中国的]电影 我們[昨天看的][剛出來的][中國的]電影 wǒmen [zuótiān kàn de] [gāng chūlái de] [Zhōngguó de] diànyǐng
we [yesterday see] [just come out] [China] movie the Chinese movie that just came out that we saw yesterday

[nǐ gěi wǒ jièshào de] [nà liǎng gè] [hěn cōngmíng de] liúxuéshēng
[you introduced to me] [those two] [very smart] exchange students those two very smart exchange students who you introduced me to Modifiers may occur in any order. However, modifiers involving inherent personal characteristics often occur closer to the head noun.

[穿毛衣的][很可爱的]小孩子
[穿毛衣的][很可愛的]小孩子
[chuān máoyī de] [hěn kě'ài de] xiǎo háizi
[wearing a sweater] [very cute] child
the very cute child who is wearing a sweater

Noun modifiers involving specifiers and numbers often occur first in a sequence of modifiers, though they may also occur closer to the head noun for emphasis or contrast.

[那个][戴眼镜的][很高的]人
 [那個][戴眼鏡的][很高的]人
[nàge] [dài yǎnjìng de] [hěn gāo de] rén

 [很高的][戴眼鏡的][那個]人
[hěn gāo de] [dài yǎnjìng de] [nàge] rén

9.5 Omission of the head noun

When the head noun is predictable from the context, it may be omitted. The presence of 的 de or a classifier at the end of a phrase identifies the phrase as a noun phrase modifier. When the head noun is omitted, 的 de cannot be omitted.

这是谁做的菜?

Adjectival verbs

Adjectival verbs translate into adjectives in English. They include 高 gāo ‘be tall,’ 贵/貴 guì ‘be expensive,’ 小 xiǎo ‘be small,’ 大 dà ‘be big,’ 好 hǎo ‘be good,’ etc.

Mandarin adjectival verbs, unlike English adjectives, are not preceded by a linking verb such as the verb 是 shì ‘be.’

Say this

他高。

Tā gāo.

He is tall.

那本书贵。

那本書貴。

Nà běn shū guì.

That book is expensive.

那个学校大。

那個學校大。

Nàge xuéxiào dà.

That school is big.

Not this

*他是高。

Tā shì gāo.

*那本书是贵。

那本書是貴。

Nà běn shū shì guì.

*那个学校是大。

那個學校是大。

Nàge xuéxiào shì dà.

The properties of adjectival verbs are discussed below.

NOTE

是 shì may occur before adjectival verbs, but only for emphasis.

► 57.3

10.1 Negation of adjectival verbs

Adjectival verbs are negated by 不 bù. They are never negated by 没/沒 méi.

他不高。

Tā bù gāo.

He is not tall.

那本书不贵。

那本書不貴。

Nà běn shū bù guì.

That book is not expensive.

那个人不好。

那個人不好。

Nàge rén bù hǎo.

*他没/沒高。

Tā méi gāo.

*那本书没贵。

那本書沒貴。

Nà běn shū méi guì.

*那个人没好。

那個人沒好。

Nàge rén méi hǎo.

10.2 Yes-no questions with adjectival verbs

Adjectival verbs can occur in yes-no questions formed by 吗/嗎 ma or the verb-not-verb structure.

那个学校大吗?

那個學校大嗎?

Nàge xuéxiào dà ma?

Is that school big?

那个学校大不大?

那個學校大不大?

Nàge xuéxiào dà bù dà?

Is that school big?

▶ 28.1

10.3 Modification by intensifiers

Adjectival verbs can be modified by intensifiers. Most intensifiers precede the adjectival verb.

Intensifier		Intensifier + adjectival verb
很 hěn	very	很好 hěn hǎo	be very good
真 zhēn	really	真好 zhēn hǎo	be really good
比较/比較 bǐjiào	rather	比较好/比較好 bǐjiào hǎo	be rather good
相当/相當 xiāngdāng	quite	相当好/相當好 xiāngdāng hǎo	be quite good
特别 tèbié	especially	特别好 tèbié hǎo	be especially good
非常 fēicháng	extremely	非常好 fēicháng hǎo	be extremely good
尤其 yóuqí	especially	尤其好 yóuqí hǎo	be especially good
极其/極其 jíqí	extremely	极其好/極其好 jíqí hǎo	be extremely good
太 tài	too	太好 tài hǎo	be too good
更 gèng	more	更好 gèng hǎo	be even better
最 zuì	most	最好 zuì hǎo	be best

The intensifier suffixes 得很 de hěn ‘very,’ 极了/極了 jíle ‘extremely,’ and 得不得了 de bù déliǎo ‘extremely’ follow the adjectival verb. They are sometimes referred to as degree complements or complements of degree.

好得很 hǎo de hěn
be very good

好极了 好極了 hǎojíle
be terrific

好得不得了 hǎo de bù déliǎo
be terrific

Stative verbs and the modal verbs 会/會 huì and 能 néng can also be modified by intensifiers, but they do not take intensifier suffixes.

10.4 Two-syllable preference

Adjectival verbs generally occur in two-syllable phrases. In affirmative form, when no special emphasis is intended, one-syllable adjectival verbs are usually preceded by 很 hěn. When negated, 不 bù provides the additional syllable.

他很高。
Tā hěn gāo.
He is tall.

他不高。
Tā bù gāo.
He is not tall.

那本书很贵。
那本書很貴。
Nà běn shū hěn guì.
That book is expensive.

那本书不贵。
那本書不貴。
Nà běn shū bù guì.
That book is not expensive.

10.5 Comparative meaning

Adjectival verbs do not have a distinct comparative form. However, in certain contexts they have comparative meaning.

They have comparative meaning when the context implies a comparison:

Q: 谁高? / 誰高?
Shéi gāo?
Who is tall?
or
Who is taller?

A: 他高。
Tā gāo.
He is tall.
or
He is taller.

They have comparative meaning when they occur in comparison structures:

他比你高。
Tā bǐ nǐ gāo.
He is taller than you.

► 30.6, 33

They have comparative meaning when followed by 一点/一點 yīdiǎn 'a little more'.

可以便宜一点吗?

可以便宜一點嗎?

Kěyǐ piányi yīdiǎn ma?

Can it be a little cheaper?

They also have comparative meaning when they occur in structures that indicate change.

► 10.9

To explicitly express comparative meaning, precede the adjectival verb with the intensifier 更 gèng or the expression 还(要)/還(要) hái (yào).

他更高。

他还(要)高。

他還(要)高。

Tā gèng gāo.

Tā hái (yào) gāo.

He is (even) taller.

He is (even) taller.

► 33.5

10.6 Superlative meaning

Adjectival verbs do not have a distinct superlative form. To express the superlative meaning, precede the adjectival verb with the intensifier 最 zuì 'most.'

他最高。

那本书最贵。

那本書最貴。

Tā zuì gāo.

Nà běn shū zuì guì.

He is the tallest.

That book is the most expensive.

► 33.6

10.7 Adjectival verbs and comparison structures

Adjectival verbs are used in comparison structures.

Comparison structures involving 比 bǐ 'more than' and 没有/沒有 méi yǒu 'less than' typically end with an adjectival verb or a modified adjectival verb.

我比你高。

Wǒ bǐ nǐ gāo.

I am taller than you.

我没有你高。

我沒有你高。

Wǒ méi yǒu nǐ gāo.

I am not as tall as you.

► 33

10.8 Linking adjectival verbs

The adverb 又 yòu can be used to link adjectival verbs as follows. The structure is used to convey the meaning 'both ... and ...'

那个男的又高又大。

那個男的又高又大。

Nàge nán de yòu gāo yòu dà.

That guy is both big and tall.

那双鞋子很好。又便宜又舒服。

那雙鞋子很好。又便宜又舒服。

Nà shuāng xiézi hěn hǎo. Yòu piányi yòu shūfu.

That pair of shoes is really good. They are both cheap and comfortable.

10.9 Adjectival verbs and expressions that indicate change over time

10.9.1 越来越 yuè lái yuè adjectival verb ‘more and more’ adjectival verb

东西越来越贵。

東西越來越貴。

Dōngxi yuè lái yuè guì.

10.9.2 越 yuè action verb 越 yuè adjectival verb ‘the more’ (action), ‘the more’ (adjectival verb)

他越说越快。

他越說越快。

Tā yuè shuō yuè kuài.

The more he speaks, the faster he speaks.

▶ 38.3

10.10 Adjectival verbs and sentence final 了 le

Sentence final 了 le may occur at the end of a sentence with an adjectival verb to indicate change.

你高了。

Nǐ gāo le.

You have gotten taller.

When the intensifier 太 tài ‘too’ modifies an adjectival verb, the adjectival verb is typically followed by sentence final 了 le.

东西太贵了。

東西太貴了。

Dōngxi tài guì le.

Things are too expensive.

你太聪明了。

你太聰明了。

Nǐ tài cōngmíng le.

Stative verbs

Stative verbs describe situations that do not involve action. Examples of stative verbs include 喜欢/喜歡 xǐhuan ‘like,’ 爱/愛 ài ‘love,’ 像 xiàng ‘resemble,’ 想 xiǎng ‘want,’ 要 yào ‘want,’ 需要 xūyào ‘need,’ 怕 pà ‘fear,’ 尊敬 zūnjìng ‘respect,’ 感谢/感謝 gǎnxiè ‘appreciate,’ 懂 dǒng ‘understand,’ 信 xìn ‘believe,’ and 想念 xiǎngniàn ‘miss.’ Certain stative verbs have special meanings and properties and will be discussed separately below. They include the equational verbs 是 shì ‘be’ and 姓 xìng ‘be family named,’ the verb 有 yǒu ‘have,’ ‘exist,’ and the location verb 在 zài ‘be located at.’

Stative verbs are similar to adjectival verbs in their form of negation, their occurrence with intensifiers, and their use in comparison structures.

► 10.1, 10.3, 33

11.1 Negation of stative verbs

Most stative verbs may only be negated by 不 bù. The stative verb 有 yǒu ‘have’ may only be negated by 没/沒 méi.

不 bù negates most stative verbs      没/沒 méi only negates 有 yǒu

他不像他爸爸。

Tā bù xiàng tā bàba.

He doesn't resemble his dad.

他不怕狗。

Tā bù pà gǒu.

He is not afraid of dogs.

我不要钱。

我不要錢。

Wǒ bù yào qián.

I don't want money.

他没有车。

他沒有車。

Tā méi yǒu chē.

He doesn't have a car.

11.2 Modification by intensifiers

Stative verbs, like adjectival verbs, can be preceded and modified by intensifiers. The intensifiers are emphasized in each of the following sentences.

我们很尊敬他。

我們很尊敬他。

Wǒmen hěn zūnjìng tā.

We all respect him a lot.

我很想念你。

我很想念你。

Tā tèbié xūyào nǐ de zhīchí.

He especially needs your support.

For a complete list of intensifiers, see section 10.3.

11.3 Indicating completion, past time, and change of state

The verb suffixes 了 le and 过/過 guo cannot be used to indicate the completion or past time of a stative verb. To indicate that a state existed in the past, use a time expression or adverb that refers to the past.

我小的时候怕狗。

我小的時候怕狗。

Wǒ xiǎo de shíhou pà gǒu.

When I was small I was afraid of dogs.

我以前很喜欢吃口香糖。

我以前很喜歡吃口香糖。

Wǒ yǐqián hěn xǐhuan chī kǒuxiāngtáng.

I used to like to chew gum. (lit. 'Before, I liked to chew gum.')

When a stative verb is followed by 了 le, it indicates change of state.

我懂了!

我懂了!

Wǒ dǒng le!

I understand (now)!

► 37.1, 38

Some verbs can function as a stative verb and as an action verb.

有 yǒu as a stative verb

她很有钱。

11.6 The verb of possession and existence: 有 yǒu ‘have,’ ‘exist’

有 yǒu has two meanings: ‘have’ and ‘exist.’

11.6.1 有 yǒu used to express possession

有 yǒu means ‘have’ when the subject is something that can have possessions. This includes people, animals, or any other noun that can be described as ‘having’ things:

我有一个弟弟。

我有一個弟弟。

Wǒ yǒu yī gè dìdì.

I have a younger brother.

Nàge shūdiàn yǒu hěn duō jiù shū.

▶ 29.2.1

11.6.2 有 yǒu used to express existence

有 yǒu indicates existence when the subject is a location. The most common English translation of this meaning is ‘there is’ or ‘there are.’

▶ 47.1

11.6.3 Possession vs. existence

The meanings of possession and existence are closely related, and often a Chinese sentence with 有 yǒu can be interpreted as conveying either possession or existence. The difference in interpretation typically depends upon whether the subject is understood to be a possessor or a location.

美国大学有很多留学生。

12.4.1 Strong obligation: must, have to

The Mandarin words used to indicate strong obligation (must) are 必须/必須 bìxū, 必得 bìděi, and 得 děi. 必得 bìděi and 必须/必須 bìxū are more formal than 得 děi. 必须/必須 bìxū is used in legal pronouncements and in other formal spoken and written contexts.

Action verbs

Action verbs are verbs that describe doing things. They include 买/買 mǎi ‘shop,’ 学/學 xué ‘study,’ 看 kàn ‘look at,’ ‘watch,’ ‘read,’ 吃 chī ‘eat,’ 睡 shuì ‘sleep,’ 去 qù ‘go,’ 唱 chàng ‘sing,’ 洗 xǐ ‘wash,’ etc.

This chapter shows you how to talk about completed, past, and ongoing actions, and introduces the overall properties of action verbs. There are two kinds of action verbs, those that describe open-ended actions, and those that describe actions that cause a change. The last two sections of this chapter present the characteristics of these two types of verbs.

13.1 Indicating that an action is complete

To indicate that an action is complete – that is, that it is viewed as a bounded event – follow the action verb or the verb + object with the perfective particle 了 le.

The location of 了 le, either after the action or after the verb + object phrase, depends upon properties of the object.

If the object consists of a noun phrase without any modification, that is, without a preceding specific, number, classifier, or description phrase, 了 le typically follows the object.

她买东西了。

她買東西了。

Tā mǎi dōngxi le.

She bought things.

她到图书馆去了。

她到圖書館去了。

Tā dào túshūguǎn qù le.

She went to the library.

If the object includes a description, including a specifier, a number + classifier, a question word involving quantity, or any other description, 了 le occurs directly after the verb.

我看了那个电影。

我看了那個電影。

Wǒ kàn le nàge diànyǐng.

I saw that movie.

他吃了两碗饭。

他吃了兩碗飯。

Tā chī le liǎng wǎn fàn.

He ate two bowls of rice.

你点了几个菜？

Nǐ diǎn le jǐge cài?
 How many dishes did you order?

我借了我同屋的车。
 我借了我同屋的車。
Wǒ jiè le wǒ tóngwū de chē.
 I borrowed my roommate's car.

▶ 17, 37.1

13.2 Indicating that an action has been experienced in the past

To indicate that the subject had the experience of performing some action in the past, follow the action verb with the verb suffix 过/過 guo. The verb suffix 过/過 guo is used when talking about actions that the subject does not perform on a regular basis or for actions that happened in the remote past. It is not used when talking about actions that have occurred recently.

我看过那个电影。
 我看過那個電影。
Wǒ kànguo nàge diànyǐng.
 I've seen that movie before.

我来过这里。
 我來過這裏。
Wǒ láiguo zhèlǐ.
 I've been here before.

▶ 17, 37.6

13.3 Negating actions

13.3.1 Indicating that an action does not occur or will not occur

To indicate that an action does not occur or will not occur, negate the action verb with 不 bù.

我不吃肉。
Wǒ bù chī ròu.
 I don't eat meat.

台北从来不下雪。
 臺北從來不下雪。
Táiběi cónglái bù xià xuě.

 明天是星期六。我們不上課。
Míngtiān shì xīngqīliù. Wǒmen bù shàng kè.
 Tomorrow is Saturday. We don't attend class.

13.3.2 Indicating that an action did not occur in the past

To indicate that an action did not occur in the past, negate the action verb with 没/沒 (有) méi (yǒu).

我今天没(有)吃早饭。

我今天沒(有)吃早飯。

Wǒ jīntiān méi (yǒu) chī zǎofàn.

I didn't eat breakfast today.

我没买电脑。

我沒買電腦。

Wǒ méi mǎi diànnǎo.

I didn't buy a computer.

▶ 27.1.2, 37.3

When a verb is negated with 没/沒 (有) méi (yǒu), it cannot be suffixed with 了 le. It can, however, be suffixed with 过/過 guo.

▶ 37.6

Say this

我没吃过日本菜。

我沒吃過日本菜。

Wǒ méi chīguo Riběn cài.

I have never eaten Japanese food before.

Not this

*我没吃了日本菜。

我沒吃了日本菜。

Wǒ méi chī le Riběn cài.

▶ 37.6

13.4 Asking about actions

To ask if an action generally occurs, will occur, or is complete, ask a yes–no question.

13.4.1 Yes–no questions with 吗/嗎 ma

你学中文吗?

你學中文嗎?

Nǐ xué Zhōngwén ma?

Do you study Chinese?

你今天晚上去图书馆吗?

你今天晚上去圖書館嗎?

Nǐ jīntiān wǎnshàng qù túshūguǎn ma?

Are you going to the library tonight?

你吃饭了吗?

你吃飯了嗎?

Nǐ chī fàn le ma?

Have you eaten?

13.4.2 Verb-not-verb yes-no questions

To ask a yes-no question about whether an action generally occurs or will occur, use 不 bù and ask:

(subject) verb 不 bù verb (object)

你学不学中文?

你學不學中文?

Nǐ xué bù xué Zhōngwén?

Do you study Chinese?

你今天晚上去不去图书馆?

你今天晚上去不去圖書館?

Nǐ jīntiān wǎnshàng qù bù qù túshūguǎn?

Are you going to the library tonight?

To ask a yes-no question about whether an action is complete, use 没有/沒有 méi yǒu:

(subject) verb (object) 了 le 没有/沒有 méi yǒu

你吃饭了没有?

你吃飯了沒有?

Nǐ chī fàn le méi yǒu?

Have you eaten?

13.5 Open-ended action verbs

Open-ended action verbs refer to actions that can have duration and can be performed for a period of time. Examples of open-ended action verbs include 念 niàn 'study/read aloud,' 买/買 mǎi 'shop,' 写/寫 xiě 'write,' 学/學 xué 'study,' 跑 pǎo 'run,' 吃 chī 'eat,' 玩 wán 'play,' and 唱 chàng 'sing.'

13.5.1 Duration of open-ended actions

To indicate the duration of an open-ended action verb, follow the verb with a duration expression. In the following examples, the verb is emphasized.

他在中国住了一年。

他在中國住了一年。

Tā zài Zhōngguó zhù le yīnián.

He lived in China for a year.

他每天看一个钟头的报。

他每天看一個鐘頭的報。

Tā měitiān kàn yī gè zhōngtōu de bào.

He reads a newspaper for one hour every day.

► 39.1

To emphasize the ongoing action of an open-ended action verb without specifying the length of the duration, follow the verb with the durative aspect particle 着/著 zhe. 在 zài and 呢 ne often occur with 着/著 zhe. 在 zài occurs before the verb and 呢 ne occurs at the end of the sentence.

他在说着话呢。

他在說著話呢。

Tā zài shuōzhe huà ne.

He is speaking.

► 17, 39.2

13.5.2 Open-ended action verbs and obligatory objects

Open-ended action verbs are typically followed by an obligatory object, a noun phrase that serves as the direct object of the verb. Many open-ended action verbs have a default object, an object that automatically occurs with the verb.

Default objects contribute little or no meaning to the verb + object phrase and are typically not translated into English.

Open-ended action verb	Default object	Verb + object	Example sentence
说 說 shuō speak	话 話 huà speech	说话 說話 shuō huà speak	他们在说话呢。 他們在說話呢。 Tāmen zài shuō huà ne. They are speaking.
看 kàn read	书 書 shū book	看书 看書 kàn shū read	我喜欢看书。 我喜歡看書。 Wǒ xǐhuan kàn shū. I like to read.
吃 chī eat	饭 飯 fàn rice	吃饭 吃飯 chī fàn eat	我们吃饭吧！ 我們吃飯吧！ Wǒmen chī fàn ba! Let's eat!
写 寫 xiě write	字 zi character	写字 寫字 xiě zì write	他不会写字。 他不會寫字。 Tā bù huì xiě zì. He can't write.
画 畫 huà paint	画儿 畫兒 huàr picture	画画儿 畫畫兒 huà huàr paint	他会画画儿。 他會畫畫兒。 Tā huì huà huàr. He can paint.
唱 chàng sing	歌儿 歌兒 gēr song	唱歌儿 唱歌兒 chàng gēr sing	他周末跟朋友唱歌儿。 他週末跟朋友唱歌兒。 Tā zhōumò gēn péngyou chàng gēr. He sings with friends at the weekend.
洗 xǐ wash	澡 zǎo bathe	洗澡 xǐ zǎo wash; bathe	孩子不喜欢洗澡。 孩子不喜歡洗澡。 Háizi bù xǐhuan xǐ zǎo. Children do not like to bathe.
睡 shuì sleep	觉 覺 jiào a sleep	睡觉 睡覺 shuì jiào sleep	你几点钟睡觉？ 你幾點鐘睡覺？ Nǐ jǐdiǎn zhōng shuì jiào? What time do you go to sleep?

When an object with fuller meaning is used, it replaces the default object.

For example:

- 'to eat' is 吃饭/吃飯 chī fàn
'to eat dumplings' is 吃饺子/吃餃子 chī jiǎozi and not *吃饭饺子/吃飯餃子 chī fàn jiǎozi.
- 'to write' is 写字/寫字 xiě zì
'to write English' is 写英文/寫英文 xiě Yīngwén and not *写字英文/寫字英文 xiě zì Yīngwén

Change-of-state action verbs

- ‘to read’ is 看书/看書 kàn shū
 ‘to read a newspaper’ is 看报/看報 kàn bào and not *看书报/看書報 kànshū bào.

The direct object may be absent when it can be inferred from the context of the sentence.

Q: 你吃了晚饭吗?
你吃了晚飯嗎?
Nǐ chī le wǎnfàn ma?
Did you eat dinner?

A: 吃了。
Chī le.
I ate (dinner).

When it receives special emphasis, the direct object may occur at the beginning of the sentence as the topic, instead of after the verb.

那个电影我还没看过。
那個電影我還沒看過。
Nàge diànyǐng wǒ hái méi kànguo.
That movie, I still haven’t seen (it).

Verbs that indicate this state may be suffixed with 着/著 zhe to focus on the ongoing nature of the state. Here are some examples. A list of additional change-of-state verbs with related ongoing states is presented in 13.6.2.

Prepositions and prepositional phrases

Prepositions occur before a noun phrase and indicate some relationship between the noun phrase and the main verb of the sentence. The preposition plus its noun phrase forms a prepositional phrase.

14.1 The grammar of the prepositional phrase in the Mandarin sentence

Here are the two rules to follow when using prepositional phrases.

Rule 1. In Mandarin, the prepositional phrase occurs immediately before the verb phrase.

Compare this with English, in which the prepositional phrase occurs immediately after the verb phrase.

他们	[给弟弟]	[买了冰淇淋]。
他們	[給弟弟]	[買了冰淇淋]。
Tāmen	[gěi dìdì]	[mǎi le bīngqílín].
They [for younger brother] [buy ice cream]
They bought ice cream for younger brother.

她	[跟同学]	[聊天]。
她	[跟同學]	[聊天]。
Tā	[gēn tóngxué]	[liáo tiān].
She [with classmates] [chat]
She chats with classmates.

There is one exception to this rule. If the prepositional phrase indicates where the subject is located as a result of the action, the prepositional phrase follows the verb.

他跳到床上。 Tā tiào dào chuáng shàng. He jumped onto the bed.

Rule 2. Nothing occurs between the preposition and its noun phrase object.

- The suffixes 了 le, 着/著 zhe, and 过/過 guo follow verbs, but not prepositions:

Say this

他在中国住过一年。
他在中國住過一年。
Tā zài Zhōngguó zhùguo yīnián.
He lived in China for a year.

我昨天跟他说话了。
我昨天跟他說話了。
Wǒ zuótiān gēn tā shuō huà le.
I spoke with him yesterday.

Not this

*他在过中国住一年。
他在過中國住一年。
Tā zàiguó Zhōngguó zhù yīnián.

*我昨天跟了他说话。
我昨天跟了他說話。
Wǒ zuótiān gēn le tā shuō huà.

- Adverbs occur before the prepositional phrase. They do not occur between the prepositional phrase and the main verb.

Say this

请你马上到我家来。

請你馬上到我家來。

Qǐng nǐ mǎshàng dào wǒ jiā lái.

Please come to my home immediately.

我一定跟你去看电影。

我一定跟你去看電影。

Wǒ yīdìng gēn nǐ qù kàn diànyǐng.

I will definitely go with you to see a movie.

Not this

*请你到我家马上来。

*請你到我家馬上來。

Qǐng nǐ dào wǒ jiā mǎshàng lái.

Adverbs

Adverbs are words that modify the verb or verb phrase.

15.1 General properties of adverbs

In Mandarin, adverbs occur at the beginning of the verb phrase, before the verb and any prepositional phrase.

Most adverbs must precede negation, but some adverbs may occur before or after negation.

她一定不去。 Tā yīdìng bù qù. She's definitely not going.	and also	她不一定去。 Tā bù yīdìng qù. She may not go. (She is not definitely going.)
她也许不去。 她也許不去。 Tā yéxǔ bù qù. Perhaps she won't go.	but not	*她不一定去 她不一定去 Tā bù yéxǔ qù.
她并不喜欢我。 她並不喜歡我。 Tā bìng bù xǐhuan wǒ. She doesn't like me at all.	but not	*她并不喜欢我。 她並不喜歡我。 Tā bù bìng xǐhuan wǒ.

► 27.2

Unlike verbs, adverbs typically cannot be the one word answer to a yes-no question.

Question	Respond with this	Not this
他们经常在那个饭馆吃饭吗? 他們經常在那個飯館吃飯嗎? Tāmen jīngcháng zài nàge fànguǎn chī fàn ma? Do they often eat at that restaurant?	对。 對。 Duì. Correct. or 他们经常在那儿吃饭。 他們經常在那兒吃飯。 Tāmen jīngcháng zài nàr chī fàn. They often eat there.	*经常。 經常。 Jīngcháng.

Mandarin has a number of structures that are adverbial in function in that they describe the way an action is performed. See

► 31

Adjectival verbs, stative verbs, and modal verbs may be modified by intensifiers such as 很 hěn ‘very,’ 太 tài ‘too,’ and 真 zhēn ‘really.’

► 10.3, 11.2, 12.6.3

Adverbs add many different kinds of meaning to a sentence. This chapter presents adverbs that have logical functions. Other adverbs are presented throughout this book in chapters that focus on the meanings associated with the specific adverbs.

► 27.1, 34, 35, 36.2, 37, 38, 40, 41.2

15.2 Adverbs with logical function: 也 yě, 都 dōu, 还/還 hái, 就 jiù, 只 zhǐ, and 才 cái

15.2.1 也 yě ‘also, in addition’

也 yě is used to introduce a second verb phrase. It never follows negation.

也 yě can be used to introduce a second verb phrase that adds additional information about the subject.

小王学中文。他也学日文。
 小王學中文。他也學日文。
Xiǎo Wáng xué Zhōngwén. Tā yě xué Rìwén.
 Little Wang studies Chinese. He also studies Japanese.

When the subjects are identical in reference, the second subject may be omitted:

小王学中文，也学日文。
 小王學中文，也學日文。
Xiǎo Wáng xué Zhōngwén, yě xué Rìwén.
 Little Wang studies Chinese and also studies Japanese.

也 yě can be used to indicate that two different subjects share similar properties or perform the same action.

小王很高。小李也很高。
Xiǎo Wáng hěn gāo. Xiǎo Lǐ yě hěn gāo.
 Little Wang is very tall. Little Li also is very tall.

小王上大学。小李也上大学。
 小王上大學。小李也上大學。
Xiǎo Wáng shàng dàxué. Xiǎo Lǐ yě shàng dàxué.
 Little Wang attends college. Little Li also attends college.

► 40.1

Since 也 yě introduces additional information it can sometimes be translated by ‘and’ in English. However, it is very different from English ‘and.’ ‘And’ can connect almost any kind of phrase; 也 yě can only occur before verbs or verb phrases.

Compare this Mandarin example and its English translation.

我学中文，也学中国历史。

我學中文，也學中國歷史。

Wǒ xué Zhōngwén, yě xué Zhōngguó lìshǐ.

I study Chinese and I also study Chinese history.

Chinese conjunctions that join noun phrases and convey the meaning of the English ‘and’ include 和 hé and 跟 gēn.

我学中文和中国历史。

我學中文和中國歷史。

Wǒ xué Zhōngwén hé Zhōngguó lìshǐ.

I study Chinese and Chinese history.

► 40.7

15.2.2 都 dōu ‘all, both’

都 dōu can indicate that a verb phrase is true for the entire subject.

我们都学中文。

我們都學中文。

Wǒmen dōu xué Zhōngwén.

We all study Chinese.

小王和小李都学中文。

小王和小李都學中文。

Xiǎo Wáng hé Xiǎo Lǐ dōu xué Zhōngwén.

Little Wang and Little Li both study Chinese.

都 dōu can indicate that a verb is true for multiple objects. Typically, when 都 dōu refers to objects, the objects occur before the verb as the topic of the sentence.

中文，日文，他都学。

中文，日文，他都學。

Zhōngwén, Rìwén, tā dōu xué.

Chinese, Japanese, he studies them both.

► 57.1

都 dōu before a verb without an object can be used to express the meaning ‘completely.’

我都懂。

Wǒ dōu dǒng.

I understand everything.

都 dōu can occur with a question word to indicate that something is universally true.

她什么都会。

她甚麼都會。

Tā shénme dōu huì.

She can do everything.

她什么时候都很忙。

她甚麼時候都很忙。

Tā shénme shíhòu dōu hěn máng.

She is always busy.

► 46.4

都 dōu can occur before or after negation. The relative position of negation and 都 dōu reflects a difference in meaning.

The sequence 都 dōu + negation conveys the meaning ‘all not.’

都 dōu before negation may indicate that the negated verb phrase is true for the entire subject.

他们都学中文。
他們都學中文。

Tāmen dōu méi xué Zhōngwén.

They have not all studied Chinese.

都 dōu before negation can also indicate that the negated verb is true for the entire object. Often, when 都 dōu refers to the object, the object is topicalized.

猪肉，牛肉我都不吃。
豬肉，牛肉我都不吃。

Zhūròu, niúròu wǒ dōu bù chī.

Pork, beef, I don't eat either.

都 dōu after negation indicates that negation is not true for the entire subject or that it is not true for the entire object. The sequence negation + 都 dōu can often be translated into English as ‘not all.’

我们不都是中国人。她是美国人，他是英国人。只有我是中国人。
我們不都是中國人。她是美國人，他是英國人。只有我是中國人。

Wǒmen bù dōu shì Zhōngguó rén. Tā shì Měiguó rén, tā shì Yīngguó rén.

Zhǐ yǒu wǒ shì Zhōngguó rén.

We are not all Chinese. She is American, he is English. Only I am Chinese.

美国人不都有钱。有的有钱，有的没有钱。
美國人不都有錢。有的有錢，有的沒有錢。

Měiguó rén bù dōu yǒu qián. Yǒu de yǒu qián, yǒu de méi yǒu qián.

15.2.3 还/還 hái ‘in addition, still, also, else’

你还要买什么？ 你還要買甚麼？

Nǐ hái yào mǎi shénme?

What else do you want to buy?

还/還 hái may introduce additional information about a noun phrase. In this function it is similar to 也 yě ‘also.’

他会说中文，还会说日文。
他會說中文，還會說日文。

Tā huì shuō Zhōngwén, hái huì shuō Rìwén.

He can speak Chinese (and) can also speak Japanese.

还没(有)/還沒(有) hái méi (yǒu) translates into English as ‘not yet’ or ‘still.’

他还没回来呢。 他還沒回來呢。

Tā hái méi huí lái ne.

He hasn't returned yet. (He still hasn't returned.)

▶ 40.2

还有/還有 hái yǒu is a phrase that occurs at the beginning of a sentence or clause and introduces additional information. It can be translated into English as ‘in addition.’

NOTE

她的男朋友很和气。还有，他很帅！
她的男朋友很和氣。還有，他很帥！

Tā de nán péngyou hěn héqì. Hái yǒu, tā hěn shuài!

Her boyfriend is very friendly. In addition, he is really cute!

▶ 40.3

15.2.4

就 jiù ‘only, uniqueness’

When 就 jiù precedes a verb phrase that is not linked to another verb phrase, it conveys the meaning of uniqueness.

In some sentences, this meaning is best translated by the English word ‘only’:

我就有一块钱。
我就有一塊錢。
Wǒ jiù yǒu yī kuài qián.
I only have one dollar.

In some contexts, 就 jiù conveys precise identification of a noun phrase. If the noun phrase is a person or place, there may be no English equivalent for 就 jiù.

王： 你找谁？ 你找誰？	林： 我找王美玲。	王： 我就是。
Wáng: Nǐ zhǎo shéi? Wang: Who are you looking for?	Lín: Wǒ zhǎo Wáng Měilíng. Lin: I am looking for Wang Meiling.	Wáng: Wǒ jiù shì. Wang: That's me.

If the noun phrase is part of a location phrase, 就 jiù may be translated as ‘right’ or ‘precisely.’

Q: 赵经理的办公室在哪儿？ 趙經理的辦公室在哪兒？ Zhào jīnglǐ de bàngōngshì zài nǎr? Where is Manager Zhao's office?	A: 她的办公室就在这儿。 她的辦公室就在這兒。 Tā de bàngōngshì jiù zài zhèr. Her office is right here.
Q: 图书馆在哪儿？ 圖書館在哪兒？ Túshūguǎn zài nǎr? Where is the library?	A: 就在火车站的对面。 就在火車站的對面。 Jiù zài huǒchēzhàn de duìmiàn. Right across from the train station.

就 jiù is also used to link two verb phrases and to signal a relationship of sequence between them.

我看了报以后就睡觉。

我看了報以後就睡覺。

Wǒ kàn le bào yǐhòu jiù shuì jiào.

After I read the newspaper I will go to sleep.

她很聪明。一学就会。

她很聰明。一學就會。

Tā hěn cōngmíng. Yī xué jiù huì.

She is really smart. As soon as she studies it, she gets it.

▶ 42.2.2.1

这件事情不就是我一个人知道。

這件事情不就是我一個人知道。

Zhè jiàn shìqíng bù jiù shì wǒ yī gè rén zhīdao.

(As for) this matter, it is not just I who knows.

15.2.5 只 zhǐ 'only'

只 zhǐ can be used interchangeably with 就 jiù to express the meaning 'only.' It does not have any of the other meanings or functions associated with 就 jiù.

我只有一块钱。

我只有一塊錢。

Wǒ zhǐ yǒu yī kuài qián.

I only have one dollar.

Like 就 jiù, 只 zhǐ typically precedes negation, but may also follow it.

这件事情不只是我一个人知道。

這件事情不只是一個人知道。

Zhè jiàn shìqíng bù zhǐ shì wǒ yī gè rén zhīdao.

(As for) this matter, it is not just I who knows.

15.2.6 才 cái 'only, only then'

才 cái indicates that something is less than expected. In sentences in which there is only a single verb, 才 cái may be translated into English as 'only.'

他才认识五个字。

他才認識五個字。

Tā cái rènshi wǔ gè zì.

He only knows (recognizes) five characters [and that is fewer than one would expect].

那个孩子才一岁。当然还不会说话。

那個孩子才一歲。當然還不會說話。

Nàge háizi cái yīsuì. Dāngrán hái bù huì shuō huà.

That child is only one year old. Of course (s/he) can't speak yet.

我今天才挣了三百元。

Wǒ jīntiān cái zhèng le sānbǎi yuán.

Today I only earned 300 yuan (300 dollars).

When 才 cái is used to link two verb phrases as in the following sentences, it may be translated as ‘only then.’

她做完了功课才睡觉。

她做完了功課才睡覺。

Tā zuòwán le gōngkè cái shuì jiào.

She finishes doing her homework and only then goes to sleep.

那本书我看了两次才懂。

那本書我看了兩次才懂。

Nà běn shū wǒ kàn le liǎng cì cái dǒng.

That book, I read it twice and only then understood (it).

► 42.2.2.2

才 cái never follows negation.

In sentences with 才 cái, perfective 了 le does not occur in the main clause.

15.2.7 而已 éryǐ ‘and that is all’

In Taiwan, the sentence final expression 而已 éryǐ ‘and that is all’ is commonly used to reinforce the sense of only contributed by 就 jiù, 只 zhǐ, and 才 cái.

我只有五块钱而已。

我只有五塊錢而已。

Wǒ zhǐ yǒu wǔ kuài qián éryǐ.

I only have five dollars (and that is all).

他就写了一个字而已。

他就寫了一個字而已。

Tā jiù xiě le yī gè zì éryǐ.

He only wrote one character (and that is all).

The meaning ‘only if’ is expressed with the sentence initial phrase 除非 chúfēi.

Conjunctions

Conjunctions are words that join phrases belonging to the same grammatical category and indicate a relationship between them. Mandarin conjunctions include the following.

16.1 Conjunctions that indicate an 'additive' or 'and' relationship

16.1.1 和 hé

王明和李安是大学生。
王明和李安是大學學生。
Wáng Míng hé Lǐ Ān shì dàxuéshēng.
Wang Ming and Li An are college students.

16.1.2 跟 gēn

北京跟上海都是很值得去看的地方。
Běijīng gēn Shànghǎi dōu shì hěn zhíde qù kàn de dìfang.
Beijing and Shanghai are both places worth seeing.

跟 gēn also functions as a preposition.

16.1.3 同 tóng

我同他的关系很不错。
我同他的關係很不錯。
Wǒ tóng tā de guānxi hěn bù cuò.
The relationship between him and me is not bad (really good).

16.1.4 与/與 yǔ

我们对中国的文化与历史都很有兴趣。
我們對中國的文化與歷史都很有興趣。
Wǒmen duì Zhōngguó de wénhuà yǔ lìshǐ dōu hěn yǒu xìngqù.
We are really interested in Chinese culture and history.

NOTE 同 tóng is used in southern China and is not common in the north. 与/與 yǔ is used in literary phrases.

16.2

Conjunctions that indicate a disjunctive or 'or' relationship

16.2.1

还是/還是 háishi 'or'

还是/還是 háishi is used in questions that ask the addressee to choose between two alternatives, only one of which can be true or possible. It conveys the sense of 'either . . . or.' 还是/還是 háishi questions often end with 呢 ne.

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| Q: 你是来旅游的还是来学习的?你是來旅遊的還是來學習的?Nǐ shì lái lǚyóu de háishi lái xuéxí de?Did you come for vacation or to study?   | A: 我是来学习的。我是來學習的。Wǒ shì lái xuéxí de.I came to study.        |
| Q: 你要喝红茶还是喝花茶呢?你要喝紅茶還是喝花茶呢?Nǐ yào hē hóng chá háishi hē huā chá ne?Do you want to drink black tea or jasmine tea?(In Chinese: red tea or jasmine tea?) | A: 我要喝红茶。我要喝紅茶。Wǒ yào hē hóng chá.I want to drink black tea. |

还是/還是 háishi precedes verb phrases. However, if the second verb phrase begins with 是 shì, 是 shì is usually omitted.

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| Q: 你是美国人还是英国人呢?你是美國人還是英國人呢?Nǐ shì Měiguórén háishi Yīngguó rén ne?Are you American or British? | A: 我是美国人。我是美國人。Wǒ shì Měiguórén.I'm American. |
|---|--|

还是/還是 háishi is sometimes included in an answer to a 还是/還是 háishi question to mark the preferred alternative. In this usage, 还是/還是 háishi functions as an adverb and not as a conjunction.

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| Q: 你想这个问题, 是现在讨论好还是以后再讨论好?你想這個問題, 是現在討論好還是以後再討論好?Nǐ xiǎng zhègè wèntí, shì xiànzài tāolùnhǎo háishi yǐhòu zài tāolùn hǎo?(As for) this question, do you thinkwe should talk about it now or later? | A: 我想还是以后再讨论好。我想還是以後再討論好。Wǒ xiǎng háishi yǐhòuzài tāolùn hǎo.I think we should talkabout it later. |
|---|---|

16.2.2

或者 huòzhě 'or'

或者 huòzhě 'or' is used in statements to present two alternatives, both of which are possible.

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| Q: 你要今天去长城还是明天去长城?你要今天去長城還是明天去長城?Nǐ yào jīntiān qù Chángchéng háishimíngtiān qù Chángchéng?Do you want to go to the Great Walltoday or tomorrow? | A: 今天去或者明天去都行。Jīntiān qù huòzhěmíngtiān qù dōu xíng.Today and tomorrow areboth okay. |
|---|---|

Mandarin conjunctions are much more restricted than English conjunctions in the grammatical categories that they join. In Mandarin, the 'and' conjunctions only join noun phrases. The 'or' conjunctions only join verb phrases.

Most Mandarin connecting words are adverbs. They are presented in the relevant chapters on sentence connection.

Aspect

Aspect refers to the way that an action is viewed, either from the outside, as a bounded event, or from the inside, as an ongoing situation. Languages differ as to whether aspectual distinctions are signaled in the grammar. In Mandarin, they are. Mandarin grammar marks three different aspectual distinctions—perfective, durative, and experiential—each signaled by a verb suffix: 了 le perfective, 着/著 zhe durative, and 过/過 guo experiential. These suffixes, often referred to as aspect particles, directly follow the verb (or, for perfective 了 le, either the verb or verb + object phrase). Mandarin also signals progressive aspect with pre-verbal 在 zài or the phrase 正在 zhèngzài. Progressive aspect is discussed section 17.2.1.

17.1 Perfective aspect

The perfective aspect marker 了 le signals that an action is viewed as bounded and complete.

17.1.1 Perfective 了 le in simple sentences

17.1.1.1 The location of perfective 了 le in simple sentences

了 le follows the object of the verb if the object is an unmodified noun, such as the object in the verb phrases 吃饭/吃飯 chī fàn ‘eat,’ 说话/說話 shuō huà ‘speak,’ 写字/寫字 xiě zì ‘write,’ 看书/看書 kàn shū ‘read,’ 洗澡 xǐ zǎo ‘bathe,’ and 看电视/看電視 kàn diànshì ‘watch television.’

我已经吃饭了。

我已經吃飯了。

Wǒ yǐjīng chī fàn le.

I have already eaten.

他们昨天在宿舍看电视了。

他們昨天在宿舍看電視了。

Tāmen zuótiān zài sùshè kàn diànshì le.

They watched television in the dorm yesterday.

了 le directly follows the verb if the object of the verb is a modified noun. Modified nouns are nouns with any kind of modifier, including:

specifier + classifier + noun

我看了那个电影。

我看了那個電影。

Wǒ kàn le nàge diànyǐng.

I saw that movie.

(specifier) + number + classifier + noun

我看了(这)两本书。

我看了(這)兩本書。

Wǒ kàn le (zhè) liǎng běn shū.

I read (these) two books.

(number + classifier +) description phrase + noun

我吃了(一碗)牛肉面。

我吃了(一碗)牛肉麵。

Wǒ chī le (yī wǎn) niúròu miàn.

I ate (a bowl of) beef noodles.

我借了他的车。

我借了他的車。

Wǒ jiè le tā de chē.

I borrowed his car.

► 7, 8, 9

17.1.1.2 Stating that an action does not or has not happened

Perfective 了 le only occurs in affirmative sentences, never in negative sentences. This is because it signals that an action is viewed as a complete, bounded event. Actions that do not happen can never be seen as complete or bounded.

To indicate that an action does not happen, negate the action verb with 不 bù.

他不吃早饭。

他不吃早飯。

Tā bù chī zǎofàn.

He does not eat breakfast.

To indicate that an action has not happened, negate the ENTIRE action verb phrase with 没/沒 méi, or 没/沒有 méi yǒu. If the action includes a prepositional phrase, 没/沒 méi precedes the prepositional phrase.

他没吃早饭。

他沒吃早飯。

Tā méi chī zǎofàn.

He did not eat breakfast.

我没给他打电话。

我沒給他打電話。

Wǒ méi gěi tā dǎ diànhuà.

I did not phone him.

► 13.3.2, 27.1.2, 37.3

17.1.1.3 Asking whether actions are complete

To ask whether an action is complete, use a 吗/嗎 question or a verb-not-verb yes-no question as follows.

你吃饭了吗?

你吃飯了嗎?

Nǐ chī fàn le ma?

Have you eaten?

你吃饭了没有?

你吃飯了沒有?

Nǐ chī fàn le méi yǒu?

Have you eaten?

你看完了那本书吗？
 你看完了那本書嗎？
Nǐ kànwán le nà běn shū ma?
 Have you finished reading that book?

你看完了那本书没有？
 你看完了那本書沒有？
Nǐ kànwán le nà běn shū méi yǒu?
 Have you finished reading that book?

▶ 37.4

17.1.2 Perfective 了 le in sequence sentences

Perfective aspect 了 le may be used in narrative sequence sentences that can be translated as ‘after VP<sub>1</sub>, VP<sub>2</sub>.’ 了 le can co-occur with other markers of sequence in these sentences: the adverb 就 jiù and the noun 以后/以後 yǐhòu ‘after.’

我吃了饭以后就给你打电话。
 我吃了飯以後就給你打電話。
Wǒ chī le fàn yǐhòu jiù gěi nǐ dǎ diànhuà.
 After I eat I will phone you.

Sometimes, perfective 了 le is the only explicit marker of sequence in a sequence sentence.

你到了宿舍请给我打电话。
 你到了宿舍請給我打電話。
Nǐ dào le sùshè qǐng gěi wǒ dǎ diànhuà.
 (After) you arrive at the dorm, phone me.

Sequence can also be inferred without perfective 了 le.

我回家以后就给你打电话。
 我回家以後就給你打電話。
Wǒ huí jiā yǐhòu jiù gěi nǐ dǎ diànhuà.
 After I return home, I will phone you.

To indicate that the entire sequence is a complete bounded event, include perfective 了 le in the second clause, following the guidelines for the placement of perfective 了 le in section 17.1.1.1.

他吃了饭就走了。
 他吃了飯就走了。
Tā chī le fàn jiù zǒu le.
 After he ate, he left.

学生做完了功课就交给老师了。
 學生做完了功課就交給老師了。
Xuésheng zuòwán le gōngkè jiù jiāo gěi lǎoshī le.
 After the students finished their work, they handed it to the teacher.

These sentences have two instances of 了 le. The one that follows the first verb indicates sequence. The one that occurs in the second clause indicates that the sequence is a complete event.

▶ 42.2.3, 42.2.4

17.1.3 Perfective aspect vs. past tense

Aspect is different from tense. While aspect focuses on the internal or external properties of events, tense anchors events to time, marking them as past, present, or future. There is some overlap between perfective aspect in Mandarin and past tense in English, especially in simple affirmative sentences. But there are many times when perfective aspect and past tense do not overlap. Here are the major differences between tense in English and perfective aspect in Mandarin.

- Perfective aspect is only a feature of action verbs. Stative verbs, adjectival verbs, and modal verbs cannot be followed by perfective 了 le. In English, tense is a feature of all verbs.
- Perfective aspect is only a feature of verbs in affirmative form. In English, tense is a feature of verbs in affirmative and negative sentences.
- In narrative sequence sentences, perfective aspect can occur in the first clause to signal sequence. In English, the verbs in sequence sentences are marked for relative tense, not sequence.

17.2 Durative aspect

Durative aspect focuses on the internal structure of a situation and signals that it is ongoing. Mandarin marks durative aspect in two ways, with the verb suffix 着/著 zhe, and with pre-verbal 在 zài or 正在 zhèngzài. Sentences with durative aspect often end with the final particle 呢 ne.

着/著 zhe and 在 zài/正在 zhèngzài focus on different types of duration. 着/著 zhe indicates that a verb describes a continuous situation. We will refer to it here as the durative suffix. 在 zài and 正在 zhèngzài focus on the progression of a situation over time. 正在 zhèngzài focuses on the progression of a situation that is happening now, and can often be translated as ‘right now.’ 在 zài and 正在 zhèngzài are sometimes referred to as progressive markers, and we will use that term here. Durative and progressive aspect markers can sometimes occur together to describe a situation, but there are times when only one or the other is appropriate.

17.2.1 Progressive markers

The progressive markers 在 zài and 正在 zhèngzài usually occur with open-ended action verbs, since actions can progress over time. 在 zài can also occur with certain adjectival verbs. See 17.2.3. 在 zài and 正在 zhèngzài immediately precede the verb phrase, including any prepositional phrase associated with the verb, and they can only occur in the main clause of a sentence.

subject 在 zài verb phrase (呢 ne)

他们在学习中文。

他們在學習中文。

Tāmen zài xuéxí Zhōngwén.

They are (in the middle of) studying Chinese.

他还在穿衣服呢。

他還在穿衣服呢。

Tā hái zài chuān yīfú ne.

He is still getting dressed. (He is still putting on clothes.)

我同屋在睡觉呢。

我同屋在睡覺呢。

Wǒ tóngwū zài shuì jiào ne.

My roommate is sleeping.

他们正在做作业呢。

他們正在做作業呢。

Tāmen zhèngzài zuò zuòyè ne.

They are doing homework right now.

她正在给妈妈打电话。

她正在給媽媽打電話。

Tā zhèngzài gěi māma dǎ diànhuà.

She's phoning her mom right now.

她在跟朋友唱歌。

她在跟朋友唱歌。

Tā zài gēn péngyou chàng gē.

She's singing with friends.

To negate sentences with progressive aspect, Beijing Mandarin speakers use 没/没(有) méi(yǒu):

他们没在学中文。

他們沒在學中文。

Tāmen méi zài xué Zhōngwén.

They are not studying Chinese.

Speakers from other Mandarin-speaking regions may also negate these sentences with 不 bù.

17.2.2 The durative aspect suffix 着/著 zhe

The durative aspect suffix 着/著 zhe emphasizes the durative nature of the action as an unchanging, ongoing situation.

着/著 zhe may occur as a suffix for open-ended action such as 吃 chī 'eat,' 说/說 shuō 'speak,' 睡 shuì 'sleep,' 洗 xǐ 'bath,' 看 kàn 'look at, read,' and 写/寫 xiě 'write.' When used with open-ended action verbs, it focuses on the ongoing nature of the action.

他们说着话呢。

他們說著話呢。

Tāmen shuō zhe huà ne.

They are (in the middle of the action of) speaking.

他们睡着觉呢。

他們睡著覺呢。

Tāmen shuì zhe jiào ne.

They are (in the middle of the action of) sleeping.

她哭着呢。

她哭著呢。

Tā kūzhe ne.

She's (in the middle of the action of) crying.

着/著 zhe can also be used as a suffix for change-of-state placement verbs such as 站 zhàn 'stand,' 坐 zuò 'sit,' 停 tíng 'stop,' 挂 guà 'hang,' 穿 chuān 'put on.' When used with change-of-state action verbs, the verb refers to the resulting state, and not to the action itself:

她穿着高跟鞋。

她穿著高跟鞋。

Tā chuānzhe gāogēnxié.

She is wearing (she is in) high-heeled shoes.

孩子都在屋子里坐着。

孩子都在屋子裡坐著。

Háizi dōu zài wūzi li zuòzhe.

The children are all sitting in the room.

墙上挂着一张画儿。

牆上掛著一張畫兒。

Qiángshàng guàzhe yī zhāng huà.

There is a painting hanging on the wall.

17.2.3 Duration vs. progression

Sometimes, either 着/著 zhe or 在 zài can occur with a verb. The choice of 着/著 zhe or 在 zài changes the sense of the verb in ways that illustrate the difference between the two types of durative aspect markers. Here are some examples.

穿着/穿著 chuānzhe

她穿着高跟鞋。
她穿著高跟鞋。

Tā chuānzhe gāogēnxié.

She is wearing (she is in) high-heels.

在穿 zài chuān

她在穿高跟鞋。

Tā zài chuān gāogēnxié.

She's putting on high heels.

The verb 穿 chuān means both 'put on (clothing on the torso or legs)' or 'wear (clothing on the torso or legs).' When suffixed with 着/著 zhe, which focuses on unchanging, durative situations, the verb must be interpreted as 'wear.' When preceded by the aspect marker 在 zài, which focuses on the progression of a situation, the verb must be interpreted as 'put on.'

Here are additional examples:

挂着/掛著 guàzhe

墙上挂着一张画儿。
牆上掛著一張畫兒。

Qiánghàng guàzhe yī zhāng huà.

There is a painting hanging on the wall.

在掛 zài guà

爸爸在挂画儿呢。
爸爸在掛畫兒呢。

Bàba zài guà huà ne.

Dad is hanging pictures.

挂 guà means 'hang (an object on a wall)' or 'be hanging (on a wall).' When someone is performing the action of hanging more than one picture, the action itself involves a progression that takes place over time. Preceding 挂 guà with the progressive aspect marker 在 zài emphasizes that ongoing progression. In contrast, once an item is hung on a wall, it remains hanging there, an unchanging state. Suffixing 挂 guà with 着/著 zhe emphasizes the ongoing, unchanging nature of the situation. The same contrast is illustrated in the following pair of sentences with 写/寫 xiě 'write.' When 写/寫 xiě is preceded by 在, the sentence emphasizes the ongoing progression of writing. When 写/寫 xiě is suffixed with 着/著 zhe, the sentence emphasizes the unchanging, ongoing nature of something that is written.

写着/寫著 xiězhe

门上写着你的名字。
門上寫著你的名字。

Ménshang xiězhe nǐ de míngzi.

Your name is written on the door.

在写/在寫 zài xiě

弟弟在写汉字。 弟弟在寫漢字。

Dìdì zài xiě Hànzì.

Younger brother is writing Chinese characters.

Here are two examples, one with an action verb, one with an adjectival verb, that include both the durative suffix 着/著 zhe and the progressive marker 在 zài. In this first example with the open-ended action verb 开/開 kāi ‘drive,’ the suffix 着/著 zhe is acceptable with or without the second clause 不能打电话/不能打電話 bù néng dǎ diànhuà ‘(one) can’t make a phone call.’ But the use of 在 zài is only acceptable when the second clause occurs.

我在开着车呢，不能打电话。
我在開著車呢，不能打電話。

Wǒ zài kāizhe chē ne, bù néng dǎ diànhuà.

I am driving right now and can’t make a phone call.

With or without the second clause, 开/開 kāi ‘drive,’ has duration. But only with the inclusion of the second clause does the situation involve a progression, in this case from driving to driving while making a phone call.

The following sentence, with the adjectival verb 热/熱 rè ‘be hot,’ is acceptable with or without 在 zài. Without 在 zài it means that the soup is in the state of being hot. With the inclusion of 在 zài the sentence means that the soup is ‘becoming hot’ or is ‘being heated.’ In other words, 在 zài adds a sense of progression to the action.

汤在热着呢。
湯在熱著呢。

Tāng zài rèzhe ne.

The soup is being heated.

17.2.4 Duration of a background event

The durative aspect marker 着/著 zhe is commonly used in complex sentences to indicate that an action is ongoing in the background while some other action occurs. This kind of sentence takes the following form.

subject verb<sub>1</sub>-着/著 zhe (object<sub>1</sub>), verb<sub>2</sub> (object<sub>2</sub>)

她听着音乐做作业。
她聽著音樂做作业。

Tā tīngzhe yīnyuè zuò zuòyè.

She is doing homework while listening to music. (background action: listening to music)

他们走着路谈话。
他們走著路談話。

Tāmen zǒuzhe lù tán huà.

They’re chatting while walking. (background action: walking)

她坐着睡觉。 她坐著睡覺。

Tā zuòzhe shuì jiào.

She’s sleeping sitting down. (background action: sitting)

别吃着东西开车。 別吃着東西開車。

Bié chīzhe dōngxi kāi chē.

Don’t eat while you are driving. (background action: eating)

Progressive aspect cannot be used in sentences like these.

17.3 Experiential aspect

Experiential aspect focuses on an action that has occurred in the past and signals that it is relevant to the current discourse. Mandarin marks experiential aspect with the verb suffix 过/過 guo. 过/過 guo immediately follows the verb and typically occurs in neutral tone. It can only be used with action verbs, and conveys the meaning that the subject has done the action before.

我看过那个电影。

我看過那個電影。

Wǒ kànguo nàge diànyǐng.

I have seen that movie before.

我来过这里。

我來過這裏。

Wǒ láiguo zhèli.

I have been here before.

The experiential suffix 过/過 guo is appropriate in the following circumstances:

- when talking about actions that the subject does not perform on a regular basis:

我去过中国。

我去過中國。

Wǒ qùguo Zhōngguó.

I've been to China before. (I have had the experience of going to China.)

- when talking about actions that happened in the remote past:

我小的时候听过那个故事。

我小的時候聽過那個故事。

Wǒ xiǎo de shíhou tīngguo nàge gùshi.

When I was small (young), I heard that story.

- when talking about actions that are repeatable:

我登过万里长城。

我登過萬里長城。

Wǒ dēngguo Wànlǐ Chángchéng.

I climbed the Great Wall.

Actions that are not repeatable cannot be suffixed with 过/過 guo.

Say this

她高中毕业了。

她高中畢業了。

Tā gāozhōng bìyè le.

She graduated high school.

Do not say this

*她高中毕业过。

她高中畢業過。

Tā gāozhōng bìyè guo.

A verb can be suffixed with both experiential 过/過 guo and perfective 了 le. When it is, 过/過 guo precedes 了 le. The meaning conveyed is that the subject has experienced the action of the verb and that the entire event is viewed in its entirety as closed and bounded.

那部电影我已经看过了，不要再看了。

那部電影我已經看過了，不要再看了。

Nà bù diànyǐng wǒ yǐjīng kànguo le, bù yào zài kàn le.

I've already seen that movie before. I don't want to see it again.

The negation of verb-过/過 guo is 没/沒(有) méi(yǒu) + verb- 过/過 guo.

我没看过那部电影。
我沒看過那部電影。

Wǒ méi kànguo nà bù diànyǐng.
I have not seen that movie before.

我没来过这里。 我沒來過這裏。

Wǒ méi láiguo zhèlǐ.
I have not been here before.

我没登过万里长城。
我沒登過萬里長城。

Wǒ méi dēngguo Wànlǐ Chángchéng.
I have not climbed the Great Wall before.

To ask whether the subject has performed an action before, ask a 吗/嗎 question or a verb-not-verb question as follows:

subject verb-过/過 guo object 吗/嗎 ma?

or

subject verb-过/過 guo object 没有/沒有 méi yǒu?

你看过那个电影吗?
你看過那個電影嗎?

Nǐ kànguo nàge diànyǐng ma?
Have you seen that movie?

你看过那个电影没有?
你看過那個電影沒有?

Nǐ kànguo nàge diànyǐng méi yǒu?
Have you seen that movie?

你登过万里长城吗?
你登過萬里長城嗎?

Nǐ dēngguo Wànlǐ Chángchéng ma?
Have you climbed the Great Wall?

你登过万里长城没有?
你登過萬里長城沒有?

Nǐ dēngguo Wànlǐ Chángchéng méi yǒu?
Have you climbed the Great Wall?

17.4 A comparison of aspectual distinctions

Aspectual distinctions are part of a system, so they exist in opposition to each other. Perfective aspect looks at the boundaries of events that occur in a time relevant to the present. Durative aspect looks at an action from the inside, focusing on the ongoing nature of the action. Experiential aspect, like perfective aspect, signals bounded events, but only events whose completion took place at a time remote from, or separated from, the present.

Resultative verbs

18.1 Structure of resultative verbs

Resultative verbs consist of an action verb ‘head’ and a resultative suffix:

action verb + resultative suffix

For example, the action verb 听/聽 tīng ‘listen’ + the resultative suffix 见/見 jiàn ‘perceive’ form the resultative verb 听见/聽見 tīngjiàn ‘hear.’ ‘Listen’ and ‘hear’ are related in meaning. ‘Listen’ is an open-ended action. ‘Hear’ is the perception of sounds that results from listening. English typically uses two different verbs to express actions and their results or conclusions. Mandarin uses the same verb for both, adding a resultative suffix to the action to indicate result or conclusion.

Aspect markers occur after the resultative suffix and never between the action verb head and the suffix. For example, to indicate that an action occurred and reached a particular conclusion or result, add perfective 了 le to the end of the resultative verb, and not between the action verb and the resultative suffix.

他写完了功课。 他寫完了功課。

Tā xiěwánle gōngkè.

He finished doing (writing) his homework.

Not this

*他写了完功课。 *他寫了完功課。

Tā xiělewán gōngkè.

► 13, 17

Similarly, when indicating that an action did not reach a particular result or conclusion, the resultative verb as a whole is negated with 没/沒 méi ‘not.’ 没/沒 méi can only occur at the beginning of a resultative verb, and may never occur between the action verb and resultative suffix.

Say this

我从来没写错过那个字。
我從來沒寫錯過那個字。

Wǒ cónglái méi xiěcuòguo nàgè zì.

I have never written that character incorrectly.

Not this

*我从来写没错过那个字。
*我從來寫沒錯過那個字。

Wǒ cónglái xiě méi cuòguo nàgè zì.

18.2 Action verb heads

The action verb head may be either an open-ended action verb or a change-of-state action verb.

Open-ended action verbs refer to actions that have duration and can be performed for a period of time. They include 说/說 shuō ‘speak,’ 写/寫 xiě ‘write,’ 吃 chī ‘eat,’ 听/聽 tīng ‘listen,’ 唱 chàng ‘sing,’ 睡 shuì ‘sleep,’ and many other verbs. Their meanings do not entail the completion or result of the action. For example, the open-ended action verb 找 zhǎo means ‘look for’ something, not ‘find’ something, the open-ended action verb 买/買 mǎi means ‘shop for’ things, not ‘buy’ things, and the open-ended action verb 听/聽 tīng means ‘listen to’ something, not ‘hear’ something.

Change-of-state verbs refer to events in which the action of the verb results in a change. They include 站 zhàn ‘stand up,’ 坐 zuò ‘sit down,’ 放 fàng ‘put or place’ (something somewhere), 挂/掛 guà ‘hang’ (something up), and many other verbs.

► 13.5, 13.6

18.3 Resultative suffixes

Resultative suffixes contribute one of the following meanings to the resultative verb.

- They indicate the result of the action. These suffixes are often called ‘complements of result’ or ‘result complements.’
For example: 写/寫 xiě ‘write’ 写错/寫錯 xiěcuò ‘write incorrectly’
- They indicate the conclusion of the action.
For example: 写/寫 xiě ‘write’ 写完/寫完 xiěwán ‘finish writing’

Here are common resultative endings, followed by examples of resultative verbs in which the endings occur. The list of resultative verbs is not exhaustive. Action verbs can freely combine with resultative suffixes as long as the action can be concluded in the way that the suffix indicates.

Resultative verbs with idiomatic meanings will be discussed at the end of this chapter.

NOTE A third type of suffix, directional suffixes (sometimes called directional complements), also serve as suffixes on action verbs. Action verb + directional suffixes form directional verbs. The properties of directional verbs are very similar to those of resultative verbs.

Resultative verbs in affirmative and negative sentences

In affirmative sentences, resultative verbs indicate that an action concludes in a particular way. When talking about actions that have already concluded, affirmative sentences with resultative verbs include the perfective aspect suffix 了 le.

我找到了我的手机。

我找到了我的手機。

Wǒ zhǎodàole wǒ de shǒujī.

I found my cellphone.

我已经用完了父母给我的钱。

我已經用完了父母給我的錢。

Wǒ yǐjīng yòngwánle fùmǔ gěi wǒ de qián.

I have already spent the money that my parents gave to me.

你猜对了；我有三块钱。

你猜對了；我有三塊錢。

Nǐ cǎiduìle; wǒ yǒu sān kuài qián.

You guessed it right; I have three dollars.

我们商量好了，今天晚上出去吃饭。

我們商量好了，今天晚上出去吃飯。

Wǒmen shānglianghǎole, jīntiān wǎnshàng chūqu chī fàn.

We've agreed, we're going out to eat tonight.

The object of the resultative verb may be topicalized.

这个字，你又写错了。

這個字，你又寫錯了。

Zhèige zì, nǐ yòu xiěcuòle.

You wrote this character wrong again.

Resultative verbs can also be used to talk about concluding an action in the future. In situations like these, the perfective aspect marker does not occur.

我明天能把这本书看完。

我明天能把這本書看完。

Wǒ míngtiān néng bǎ zhè běn shū kàn wán.

I can finish reading this book tomorrow.

When a resultative verb is used in a negated sentence, the sentence conveys the information that some action was not or has not been completed. Negation is always 没/沒 méi, and it occurs right before the resultative verb.

今天的功课，我还没做完。

今天的功課，我還沒做完。

Jīntiān de gōngkè, wǒ hái méi zuò wán.

Today's homework, I haven't yet finished doing it.

还没预备好呢。

還沒預備好呢。

Hái méi yùbèihǎo ne.

I haven't finished preparing.

Perfective 了 le never occurs in negated sentences, but when talking about some action that has never occurred before, the experiential aspect marker 过/過 guò may occur right after the resultative verb.

她从来没做错过事。

她從來沒做錯過事。

Tā cónglái méi zuòcuòguo shì.

She's never done anything wrong before.

18.5 Asking yes–no questions with resultative verbs

To ask a yes–no question with 吗/嗎 ma, simply end your question with 吗/嗎 ma.

我刚才说的话你听见了吗？

我剛才說的話你聽見了嗎？

Wǒ gāngcái shuō de huà nǐ tīngjiànle ma?

Did you hear what I just said?

You can also ask yes–no questions using one of the following verb-not-verb structures. Native speakers differ in their preferences for these forms. When using the verb + 了 le + 没有/沒有 méi yǒu form, the object is often omitted. 了 le is not used in the 有没有/有沒有 yǒu méi yǒu form.

(object) (subject) resultative verb 了 le 没有/沒有 méi yǒu

今天的功课你做完了没有？

今天的功課你做完了沒有？

你的手機有沒有找到？

Nǐ de shǒujī yǒu méi yǒu zhǎodào?

Nǐ yǒu méiyǒu zhǎodào nǐ de shǒujī?

18.6 The potential form of resultative verbs

The potential form of resultative verbs indicates that the subject is able to, or unable to, reach the desired result or conclusion. The potential is created by adding the potential infixes 得 de or 不 bu between the action verb head and the resultative suffix, as follows.

Affirmative potential form

action verb + 得 de + resultative suffix

do the action and be able to reach the conclusion or result

找得到 zhǎodedào ‘able to find’

做得完 zuòdewán ‘able to finish doing’

看得懂 kàndedǒng ‘read and be able to understand’

Negative potential form

action verb + 不 bu + resultative suffix

do the action but be unable to reach the conclusion or result

找不到 zhǎobudào ‘unable to find’

做不完 zuòbuwán ‘unable to finish doing’

看不懂 kànbudǒng ‘read but be unable to understand’

Aside from the potential infixes 得 de and 不 bu, nothing occurs between the action verb head and the resultative suffix.

Here are sentences with resultative verbs in the affirmative and negative potential form. Notice that the aspectual suffixes 了 le and 过/過 guo never occur when the potential form of a resultative verb is used.

你听得见他说的话吗？

你聽得見他說的話嗎？

Nǐ tīngdejian tā shuō de huà ma?

Can you hear what he is saying?

我想到了一个你想不到的办法。

我想到了一個你想不到的辦法。

Wǒ xiǎngdào le yí gè nǐ xiǎngbúdào de bànfǎ.

那個孩子很小，離得開母親嗎？

Nèige háizi hěn xiǎo, lídekāi mǔqīn ma?

That child is very young. Can he be separated from his mother?

To ask a verb-not-verb yes–no question involving a resultative verb in potential form, state the affirmative potential form of the resultative verb followed by the negative potential form:

你听得见听不见他说的话？

你聽得見聽不見他說的話？

Nǐ tīngdejiàn tīngbujìàn tā shuō de huà?

Are you able or not able to hear what he said?

老师说的话，你记得住记不住？

Directional verbs

19.1 Structure of directional verbs

Directional verbs consist of an action verb that involves motion (a motion verb) and a directional suffix.

motion verb + directional suffix

For example, the motion verb 坐 zuò 'sit' + the directional suffix 下 xià 'down' form the resultative verb 坐下 zuòxià 'sit down.'

Directional suffixes are also sometimes referred to as directional complements.

19.4.2 The position of the location phrase in sentences with directional verbs

Sentences with directional verbs with simple directional suffixes cannot include a location phrase. Sentences with directional verbs with complex directional suffixes can include a location phrase. The location phrase occurs between the first part of the suffix (the part that indicates absolute direction) and 来/來 lái or 去 qù.

*verb of motion + direction + location + 来/來 lái or 去 qù

Wǒ hái méi bǎ dōngxi fàngxià.

19.4.4 Aspectual suffixes with directional verbs

The perfective aspect suffix 了 le can occur with directional verbs. It occurs at the very end of the directional suffix.

Tā páshàng shān qù le.

她把书都拿回图书馆去了。

她把書都拿回圖書館去了。

Tā bǎ shū dōu náhuí túshūguǎn qù le.

She took all of the books back to the library.

19.5 The potential form of directional verbs

Like resultative verbs, most directional verbs also have a potential form. The potential is formed by the inclusion of the potential infixes 得 de or 不 bu between the motion verb and the directional suffix.

Affirmative potential form

motion verb + 得 de + directional suffix

‘able to perform the motion in the specified direction’

拿得来/拿得來 nádelái ‘able to bring over’

19.6 Asking yes-no questions with directional verbs

To ask a yes-no question with 吗/嗎 ma about an action involving a directional verb, simply place 吗/嗎 ma at the end of the sentence.

她把书都拿回图书馆去了吗？

她把書都拿回圖書館去了嗎？

Tā bǎ shū dōu náhuí túshūguǎn qù le ma?

Did she take all of the books back to the library?

When using a directional verb, verb-not-verb yes–no questions may take one of the following forms. Mandarin speakers differ in their preferences for these forms. When using the affirmative statement + 没有/沒有 méi yǒu form, the destination location (presented here in square brackets) is often omitted. 了 le does not occur in the 有没有/有沒有 yǒu méi yǒu form.

affirmative statement + 没有/沒有 méi yǒu

她把书都拿回[图书馆]去了没有?

她把書都拿回[圖書館]去了沒有?

Tā bǎ shū dōu náhuí [túshūguǎn] qù le méi yǒu?

Did she take all of the books back (to the library)?

她有沒有把書都拿回圖書館去?

Tā yǒu méi yǒu bǎ shū dōu náhuí túshūguǎn qù?

Did she take all of the books back to the library?

To ask a verb-not-verb yes–no question about a directional expression in potential form, use the following structure topic (object in sentence initial position) + subject + affirmative potential + negative potential

这么高的山，你上得去上不去?

這麼高的山，你上得去上不去?

Zhème gāo de shān, nǐ shàngdeqù shàngbuqù?

A mountain this high, can you climb (up) it?

把 bǎ sentences: The ‘disposal’ construction

把 bǎ sentences focus on what happens to the object of a verb as the result of some action. They answer the question: What does/did the subject do to the object? 把 bǎ sentences can always be paraphrased as: the subject takes/took the object and does/did (an action) with it. The structure of 把 bǎ sentences is sometimes called the ‘disposal construction.’

20.1 The structure of 把 bǎ sentences

把 bǎ sentences take the following form:

subject + 把 bǎ object + action verb

他把我的车偷走了。

他把我的車偷走了。

Tā bǎ wǒ de chē tōuzǒu le.

He stole my car away.

The 把 bǎ construction is widely used in Mandarin, but it may only be used when the object and the verb have certain properties.

20.2 Properties of the subject and object in 把 bǎ sentences

20.2.1 Properties of the subject

The subject in a 把 bǎ sentence must be capable of causing something to happen. This includes subjects that are animate such as people, animals, insects, etc., and also inanimate forces of nature such as rain, wind, earthquakes, floods, etc.

把 bǎ sentences with animate subject

我把英文翻成中文了。

Wǒ bǎ Yīngwén fānchéng Zhōngwén le.

I translated the English into Chinese.

谁把烤鸭吃光了。

誰把烤鴨吃光了。

Shéi bǎ kǎoyā chīguāng le.

Who ate (finished eating) the roast duck?

鸡把虫都吃了。

雞把蟲都吃了。

Jī bǎ chóng dōu chī le.

The chicken(s) ate all of the worms.

把 bǎ sentences with inanimate subjects

昨天晚上大火把他们家烧了。
昨天晚上大火把他們家燒了。

Zuótiān wǎnshang dàhuǒ bǎ tāmen jiā shāo le.
Last night a big fire burned their home.

这几天真把妈妈忙坏了。
這幾天真把媽媽忙壞了。

Zhèjǐtiān zhēn bǎ māma máng huài le.
These last few days have really worn Mom out.

Causation does not have to be deliberate or intentional.

他不知不觉地把所有的饺子都吃完了。
他不知不覺地把所有的餃子都吃完了。

Tā bùzhī-bùjué de bǎ suǒyǒu de jiǎozi dōu chīwán le.
Without realizing it, he ate up all the dumplings.

If you want to say that the subject deliberately caused something to happen, you can add an expression such as 故意/故意 gùyì ‘deliberately’ before 把 bǎ.

他故意把我的衣服弄坏了。
他故意把我的衣服弄壞了。

Tā gùyì bǎ wǒ de yīfu nòng huài le.
He deliberately ruined my clothes.

20.2.2 Properties of the object

- The object must refer to something definite or generic. Objects are definite if they have already been mentioned in the discourse, or if they are preceded by the specifier 这 zhè ‘this, these’ or 那 nà ‘that, those,’ or are modified by a description phrase.

我已经把那本书看完了。
我已經把那本書看完了。

Wǒ yǐjīng bǎ nà běn shū kàn wán le.
I already finished reading that book.

他把孩子的衣服都洗干净了。
他把孩子的衣服都洗乾淨了。

Tā bǎ hái zi de yī fu dōu xǐ gān jìng le.
He washed the children’s clothing clean.

Objects are generic if they refer to a group or class of objects in general rather than to a specific or definite object. When you say ‘I like mustard on hot dogs,’ both ‘mustard’ and ‘hot dogs’ have generic rather than definite or specific reference.

他经常把花儿送给女朋友。
他經常把花兒送給女朋友。

Tā jīngcháng bǎ huār sòng gěi nǚ péngyou.
He regularly sends his girlfriend flowers.

- The object must exist independently of the action of the verb. In 把 bǎ sentences, the verb can do something to the object, but it cannot create the object. Therefore, for example, you can use 把 bǎ to say that you revised an essay, but not that you wrote it.

她把文章改了改。

Tā bǎ wénzhāng gǎile gǎi.
She revised the essay.

*她把文章写了写。
她把文章寫了寫。
Tā bǎ wénzhāng xiěle xiě.
(intended: She wrote the essay.)

Similarly, you can use 把 bǎ to say that you finished a painting, but not that you created it by painting it.

*她把画儿画了。

Tā bǎ huà huà le.
(intended: She painted the painting.)

20.3 Properties of the verb in 把 bǎ sentences

The verb in 把 bǎ sentences must refer to a bounded, complete action that has an endpoint. There are a number of ways to add an endpoint to an action verb.

20.3.1 Adding an endpoint to a change-of-state verb

To add an endpoint to a change-of-state action verb such as 忘 wàng 'forget,' 丢 diū 'lose,' and 卖/賣 mài 'sell,' do one of the following.

- Follow the verb with the perfective aspect particle 了 le.

我把他们的名字都忘了。
我把他們的名字都忘了。
Wǒ bǎ tāmen de míngzi dōu wàng le.

► 17.1

我把袜子给丢掉了。
我把襪子給丟掉了。
Wǒ bǎ wàzi gěi diūdiào le.
I lost my socks.

► 18.3.2

- For change-of-state verbs that refer to placing an object in a location, such as 放 fàng 'put, place,' and 挂/掛 guà 'hang,' follow the verb with the location phrase that indicates where the object will be located as a result of the action.

20.4 Negation in 把 bǎ sentences

Bié bǎ nǐ de míngzi xiě cuò le.
Don't write your name incorrectly.

你不可以把这些东西带回家。
你不可以把這些東西帶回家。
Nǐ bù kěyǐ bǎ zhè xiē dōngxi dài huí jiā.
You can't take these things home.

If a 把 bǎ sentence refers to an event that did not occur, negation is 没/沒(有) méi (yǒu).

他没把故事说清楚。
他沒把故事說清楚。
Tā méi bǎ gùshi shuō qīngchu.
He didn't tell the story clearly.

20.5 Adverbs and modal verbs in 把 bǎ sentences

Adverbs and modal verbs that refer to the entire action occur before 把 bǎ.

我已经把功课交给老师了。
我已經把功課交給老師了。
Wǒ yǐjīng bǎ gōngkè jiāo gěi lǎoshī le.
I already gave my homework to the teacher.

你得把你的房间收拾收拾。

你得把你的房間收拾收拾。

Nǐ děi bǎ nǐ de fángjiān shōushi shōushi.

You should clean up your room.

When it refers to the entire action, the adverb 都 dōu occurs after 把 bǎ and its object, before the verb phrase.

他把房间都整理好了。

他把房間都整理好了。

Tā bǎ fángjiān dōu zhěnglǐ hǎo le.

He straightened up the room completely.

他把饺子都吃完了。

他把餃子都吃完了。

Tā bǎ jiǎozi dōu chīwán le.

He finished eating all the dumplings.

都 dōu can also occur before 把 bǎ. When it does, it refers to the subject of the sentence.

他们都把房间整理好了。

他們都把房間整理好了。

Tāmen dōu bǎ fángjiān zhěnglǐ hǎo le.

They all straightened up the room. (All of them did the action)

The passive

21.1 The structure of the Mandarin passive

In active sentences, the subject is typically the agent, the noun phrase that initiates the action, and the object of the verb is the noun phrase affected by the action of the verb.

subject	+ verb	+ object
agent		affected object
他	偷走了	我的车。
他	偷走了	我的車。
Tā	tōuzǒu le	wǒ de chē.
He stole my car.

In Mandarin passive sentences, the affected noun phrase occurs as the subject of the verb, and the agent occurs as the object of a passive marking preposition. As is typical with prepositional phrases, the prepositional phrase occurs before the verb:

subject + prepositional phrase + verb

► 14

NOTE

The exception is when the prepositional phrase indicates the location of the object as a result of the action of the verb. In that case, the prepositional phrase follows the verb.

► 14.1

Mandarin has three passive marking prepositions (passive markers): 被 bèi, 叫 jiào, and 让/讓 ràng, all of which may be translated with English 'by.'

subject	+ passive NP		+ verb
affected NP	agent
我的车	[被/叫/让]	他	偷走了。
我的車	[被/叫/讓]	他	偷走了。
Wǒ de chē	[bèi/jiào/ràng]	tā	tōuzǒu le.
My car was stolen by him.

In passive structures, the word 给/給 gěi is sometimes placed before the verb.

那本字典	[被/叫/让]	小李	给借走了。
那本字典	[被/叫/讓]	小李	給借走了。
Nà běn zìdiǎn	[bèi/jiào/ràng]	Xiǎo Lǐ	gěi jièzǒu le.
That dictionary was borrowed by Little Li.

The passive and negation

The presence of 给/給 gěi before the verb indicates that the sentence is passive, even when the passive markers 被 bèi, 叫 jiào, and 让/讓 ràng do not occur.

那个坏人给抓住了。
 那個壞人給抓住了。
Nàge huàirén gěi zhuāzhù le.
 That bad person was arrested.

The agent of a passive sentence need not be an animate entity. An inanimate entity, a force, or a situation may also function as the agent. For example:

他们的房子[被/叫/让]火烧了。
 他們的房子[被/叫/讓]火燒了。
Tāmen de fángzi [bèi/jiào/ràng] huǒ shāo le.
 Their house was burned by fire.

他被学校撤职了。
 他被學校撤職了。
Tā bèi xuéxiào chèzhí le.
 He was fired by the school.

An agent is obligatory when using the passive markers 叫 jiào and 让/讓 ràng. An agent is optional for the marker 被 bèi.

他被撤职了。
 他被撤職了。
Tā bèi chèzhí le.
 He was fired.

When the passive marker is followed by an object, all of the passive markers are interchangeable. Therefore, all remaining examples in this chapter will be illustrated with only one passive marker.

21.2 The passive and negation

The function of negated passive sentences is to indicate that some action has not occurred in the past. Therefore, negation in passive sentences is typically 没/沒(有) méi (yǒu). 没/沒(有) méi (yǒu) must occur before the passive marking preposition, and never before the verb.

Say this

你的车没有被警察拖走。
 你的車沒有被警察拖走。
Nǐ de chē méi yǒu bèi jǐngchá tuōzǒu.
 Your car wasn't towed away by the police.

Not this

*你的车被警察没有拖走。
 你的車被警察沒有拖走。
Nǐ de chē bèi jǐngchá méi yǒu tuōzǒu.

The passive form can also be used when expressing prohibitions and warnings.

别被你的朋友给骗了。
 別被你的朋友給騙了。
Bié bèi nǐ de péngyou gěi piàn le.
 Don't let yourself be cheated by your friend.

我们作的事不要被别人知道。
 我們作的事不要被別人知道。
Wǒmen zuò de shì bù yào bèi biéren zhīdao.
 We shouldn't let other people know what we did. (lit. 'What we've done shouldn't be known by others.')

► 51.1.2

21.3 Conditions for using the passive in Mandarin

The Mandarin passive is used under the following circumstances:

- To express adversity
To indicate that the event has negative consequences or is in some way ‘bad news’ for the narrator, addressee, or affected noun:

我的钱被小偷偷走了。
我的錢被小偷偷走了。
Wǒ de qián bèi xiǎotōu tōuzǒu le.
My money was stolen by a thief.

This association of the passive with bad news, once a signature feature of the passive in Mandarin, is becoming less common.

- To express surprise or astonishment

我们的秘密被政府发现了。
我們的秘密被政府發現了。
Wǒmen de mìmì bèi zhèngfǔ fāxiàn le.
Our secret was discovered by the government.

- To emphasize the affected noun phrase rather than the agent

这儿的树都被人砍了。
這兒的樹都被人砍了。
Zhèr de shù dōu bèi rén kǎn le.
The trees here were all cut down by people.

- To describe an action when the agent is unknown

昨天银行被抢了。
昨天銀行被搶了。
Zuótiān yínháng bèi qiǎng le.
The bank was robbed yesterday.

- To avoid mentioning the agent of an action

我女儿被骗了。 我女兒被騙了。
Wǒ nǚ'ér bèi piàn le.
My daughter was cheated.

21.4 Differences between the passive markers 被 bèi, 叫 jiào, and 让/讓 ràng

- Frequency: 被 bèi occurs more frequently in written or formal contexts than the other passive markers. In colloquial speech, 叫 jiào and 让/讓 ràng are more commonly used. Dialects differ in the preferred passive marker.
- Adversity: 被 bèi connotes stronger adversity than the other passive markers.

21.5 Additional functions of 让/讓 ràng, 叫 jiào, and 给/給 gěi

In addition to their role in passive sentences, 让/讓 ràng, 叫 jiào, and 给/給 gěi have other functions.

- 叫 jiào is also used as a verb meaning ‘call,’ or ‘order.’
- 让/讓 ràng is also used as a verb meaning ‘let’ or ‘allow.’

- 给/給 gěi is also used as a verb meaning ‘give,’ and as a preposition meaning ‘to’ or ‘for/on behalf of.’

► 14

When the verb is not followed by an object noun phrase, 叫 jiào and 让/讓 ràng may sometimes be interpreted as either a passive marker or as a verb, and the sentence may be ambiguous.

教授让学生批评了。

教授讓學生批評了。

Jiàoshòu ràng xuésheng pīpíng le.

The professor was criticized by the students.

(让/讓 ràng = passive marker: by the students)

or

The professor now allows the students to criticize.

(让/讓 ràng = allow: allows the students)

In most cases, however, the context will make clear the function of 叫 jiào, or 让/讓 ràng, or 给/給 gěi, and only one interpretation will make sense. For example, the following sentence only makes sense if 让/讓 ràng is interpreted as ‘allow’ or ‘let’ and not as the passive marker ‘by.’

妈妈让孩子吃饼干。

媽媽讓孩子吃餅乾。

Māma ràng háizi chī bǐnggān.

Mom let the children eat cookies. (*by the children . . .)

21.6

Other Mandarin structures that highlight the affected object and de-emphasize the agent

Mandarin has several different patterns that function to emphasize an affected object or to de-emphasize or avoid mentioning the agent. These include the following:

- Topicalization

支票，银行已经收到了。

支票，銀行已經收到了。

Zhīpiào, yínháng yǐjīng shōudào le.

(As for) the check, the bank has already received it.

Names, kinship terms, titles, and terms of address

22.1 Names: 姓名 xìngmíng

The order of a Chinese name is:

family name + given name

姓	名字
xìng	míngzi
王	莉花
Wáng	Lìhuā
张/張	伟明/偉明
Zhāng	Wěimíng

In this book we translate Chinese names using Chinese word order. That is, 王莉花 Wáng Lìhuā is translated as ‘Wang Lihua’ and not ‘Lihua Wang.’

22.1.1 Family names

There are over 3500 Chinese family names. However, of these, only about 100 occur widely. This is probably the basis of the expression 老百姓 lǎobǎixìng ‘the old 100 family names,’ which is used to refer to ‘the people’ or ‘the common man.’

The three most common Chinese family names are 李 Lǐ, 王 Wáng, and 张/張 Zhāng. The next most common family names, representing the overwhelming majority of Chinese people, are 刘/劉 Liú, 陈/陳 Chén, 杨/楊 Yáng, 赵/趙 Zhào, 黄 Huáng, 周 Zhōu, 吴/吳 Wú, 徐 Xú, 孙/孫 Sūn, 胡 Hú, 朱 Zhū, 高 Gāo, 林 Lín, 何 Hé, 郭 Guō, and 马/馬 Mǎ.

Most family names are a single character/single syllable in length. However, there are a small number of two-character/two-syllable Chinese family names. The most common are 司马/司馬 Sīmǎ, 司徒 Sītú, 欧阳/歐陽 Oūyáng, and 皇甫 Huángfǔ.

22.1.2 Given names

A given name consists of one or two characters/syllables. There is no fixed inventory of given names in Chinese as there is in English such as Ruth, Michael, Lisa, and Mark. Instead, names express meaning, and families select as names, words or phrases with positive connotations that they wish to associate with their child. While this method of naming is also used in the West, it is the exception rather than the rule.

In the traditional naming process, the first character of a given name is a generational name: all children in the family who are of the same gender and in the same generation share the same first character in their given name. The second character reflects some other positive characteristic. Thus, brothers might be named 亦豪 Yì Háo (talent) and 亦强/亦強 Yì Qiáng (strength). Sisters might be named 颖怡/穎怡 Yǐng Yí (joyful) and 颖美/穎美 Yǐng Měi (beautiful).

Modern naming practice often does not include a generational name. This is especially common in mainland China. Instead, given names reflect positive attributes, and may be one or two syllables in length.

Given names are personal and somewhat private. In general, they are only used as terms of address by good friends and close acquaintances, and in closed settings such as a family, classroom, or office, where people are members of a well-defined group. Often, people use kinship terms and titles rather than names when addressing and referring to others.

22.2 Kinship terms

Here are the most commonly used kinship terms and the distinctions that they reflect.

22.2.1 Kinship terms for immediate family

Male

父亲/父親	fùqin	father
爸爸	bàba	dad
哥哥	gēge	brother older than self
弟弟	dìdi	brother younger than self

Female

母亲/母親	mǔqīn	mother
妈妈/媽媽	māma	mom
姐姐	jiějie	sister older than self
妹妹	mèimei	sister younger than self

The reference point for siblings is oneself. For example, an older brother is a brother older than oneself. If you are male and have an older brother and a younger brother, then your younger brother has two older brothers.

Your family from your perspective

我有一个哥哥、一个弟弟。
我有一個哥哥、一個弟弟。

Wǒ yǒu yī gè gēge, yī gè dìdi.

I have one older brother and one younger brother.

Your family from your younger brother's perspective

我有两个哥哥，没有弟弟。
我有兩個哥哥，沒有弟弟。

Wǒ yǒu liǎng gè gēge, méi yǒu dìdi.

I have two older brothers and no younger brother.

岳父	yuèfù	father-in-law (wife's father)
岳母	yuèmǔ	mother-in-law (wife's mother)

fml = formal term, inf = informal term

22.3 Titles

Titles refer to gender and marital status, education, or occupation. When a name includes a title, the order of information is as follows:

family name	(+ given name )	+	title
王	莉花		博士
Wáng	Lihua		bóshì
			Ph.D. (Dr.)
Dr. Wang Lihua

Chinese people often use titles when addressing others or when talking about others. Titles may be used alone or with the family name and given name.

NOTE In Taiwan, the title generally follows the family name: family name + title + given name.

22.3.1 Titles that indicate gender and marital status

The most common titles used to reflect gender and marital status are:

先生	王先生
xiānsheng	Wáng xiānsheng
Mr.	Mr. Wang
太太	王太太
tàitai	Wáng tàitai
夫人	王夫人
fūren	Wáng fūren
Mrs.	Mrs. Wang

小姐 xiǎojiě	王小姐 Wáng xiǎojiě
女士 nǚshì	王女士 Wáng nǚshì
Miss	Miss Wang

NOTE

The titles 先生 xiānsheng 'Mr.,' 太太 tàitai 'Mrs.,' and 小姐 xiǎojiě 'Miss' are standard expressions in Taiwan but are not commonly used in mainland China. There is no standardly used expression in mainland China for either Mr. or Mrs. The expression 姑娘 gūniang is gaining popularity as a way of addressing or referring to young women in mainland China, but it is only appropriate when used by those at least one generation older than the young woman. It is not used together with a name.

22.3.2 Professional titles

Commonly used professional titles include:

医生/醫生 yīshēng doctor	大夫 dàifu doctor
护士/護士 hùshì nurse	师傅/師傅 shīfu master (skilled person)

博士 bóshì doctor of philosophy (Ph.D.)

22.4 Addressing others

22.4.1 Addressing friends

Close friends may address each other using family name and given name together, or, if they are very close, by given name alone.

王莉花，早。

Wáng Lihuā, zǎo.

Wang Lihua, good morning.

莉花，最近怎么样？

莉花，最近怎麼樣？

Lihuā, zuì jìn zěnmeyàng?

Lihua, how have you been recently?

Friends or close acquaintances may also address each other using the prefix 老 lǎo 'old' or 小 xiǎo 'small' before the family name as follows:

老高	Lǎo Gāo	Old Gao	小高	Xiǎo Gāo	Little Gao
老王	Lǎo Wáng	Old Wang	小王	Xiǎo Wáng	Little Wang

老 lǎo and 小 xiǎo do not literally mean 'old' and 'little' here. 老 lǎo is used for those older than oneself, and 小 xiǎo is used for those younger than oneself.

22.4.2 Addressing family and others with kinship terms

In China, people use kinship terms rather than names to address relatives. Kinship terms are also used in informal contexts to address people who are not relatives. The term that is used depends upon the age and gender of the person whom you are addressing. Here are the kinship terms most commonly used when talking with people who are not your relatives.

大哥 dà gē older brother (title for man near your age but older than you)	大姐 dà jiě older sister (title for woman near your age but older than you)
叔叔 shūshu uncle (title for man who is about your father's age)	阿姨 āyí aunt (title for woman who is about your mother's age or older)
爷爷/爺爺 yéye grandfather (title for man who is about your grandfather's age)	奶奶 nǎinai grandmother (title for woman who is about your grandmother's age)

22.4.3 Colloquial terms of address used with strangers

The following terms are used in informal contexts to address strangers

小伙子 xiǎo huǒzi	young fellow (used to address young boys – very colloquial)
小朋友 xiǎo péngyǒu	little friend (commonly used to address children)
朋友 péngyou	friend (often used by shopkeepers to address customers)
帅哥/帥哥 shuài gē	handsome guy (used when addressing a young man one does not know, especially in the context of a restaurant or store)
美女 měi nǚ	beautiful girl (used when addressing a young women one does not know, especially in the context of a restaurant or store)

22.4.4 Using titles as terms of address

Titles are commonly used as terms of address. The titles 先生 xiānsheng ‘Mr.’, 太太 tàitai ‘Mrs.’, 小姐 xiǎojiē ‘Miss,’ and 师傅/師傅 shīfu ‘master’ are used alone without any additional name to address strangers in a polite way. 师傅/師傅 shīfu ‘master’ is often used in mainland China as a polite way to address a man in relatively informal contexts. 小姐 xiǎojiē, 姑娘 gūniang, and 美女 měi nǚ are used to address young women in service positions such as in restaurants and shops. 帅哥/帥哥 shuài gē is used to address young men in service positions. 夫人 fūren ‘Mrs.’ and 女士 nǚshì ‘Miss’ are very formal and their use is restricted to formal contexts such as speeches and formal events. The titles presented in 22.3.2 can all be used as terms of address. For occupations that are not used as titles or terms of address, see

22.5 Addressing new acquaintances and negotiating terms of address

When you meet someone for the first time, you need to determine how to address them. Since given names are not freely used, and family names are generally not used alone, an initial conversation usually includes some negotiation about terms of address. The most common expressions are as follows.

The neutral and most common way to inquire about someone’s family name is:

你姓什么?

你姓甚麼?

Nǐ xìng shénme?

What is your family name? (neutral question)

A more formal and polite way to inquire about someone’s family name is:

你貴姓? / 你貴姓

Nǐ guì xìng?

What is your family name? (polite, formal)

The most common way to reply to either of these questions is:

我姓(王)。

Wǒ xìng (Wáng).

My family name is (Wang).

A very polite and humble response to the formal question is:

敝姓(王)。

Bì xìng (Wáng).

My humble family name is (Wang).

While the polite form of the question is fairly common, the polite humble form of the response is rarely used.

The neutral and most common way to inquire about someone’s family name and given name is:

你姓什么, 叫什么名字?

你姓甚麼, 叫甚麼名字?

Nǐ xìng shénme, jiào shénme míngzi?

What is your family name and what is your given name?

The neutral and most common way to respond to this question is:

我姓(王), 叫(莉花)。

Wǒ xìng (Wáng), jiào (Lìhuā).

My family name is (Wang), my given name is (Lihua).

The very polite way to inquire about someone's family name and given name is:

请问, 尊姓大名?

請問, 尊姓大名?

Qǐng wèn, zūnxìng dànmíng?

Excuse me, what is your (honorable) name?

The polite, humble response to this question is:

敝姓(王), 小名(建国)。

敝姓(王), 小名(建國)。

Bì xìng (Wáng), xiǎo míng (Jiànguó).

My humble family name is (Wang), and my small name is (Jianguo).

People often do not inquire about given names when they first meet. When you have established a friendship, you may inquire about a given name by asking:

你叫什么名字?

你叫甚麼名字?

Nǐ jiào shénme míngzi?

What is your name?

The reply to this question is either the family name plus the given name, or the given name alone:

我叫(王玫玲)。

Wǒ jiào (Wáng Méilíng).

I am called (Wang Meiling). (My name is Wang Meiling.)

To make a general inquiry about someone's identity, ask:

你是谁?

你是誰?

Nǐ shì shéi?

Who are you?

你是...?

Nǐ shì...?

Are you...?

你是哪位?

Nǐ shì nǎi wèi?

Who are you? (polite)

To learn how someone prefers to be addressed by you, ask:

我应该怎么称呼你?

我應該怎麼稱呼你?

Wǒ yīnggāi zěnmē chēnghu nǐ?

How should I address you?

22.6 Name cards and business cards

Name cards and business cards are widely used in China, and people often exchange name cards when they meet for the first time. The information on a person's name card will help you to determine how to address him or her.

When handing your card to someone, use both hands, and give it to the person so that the writing is facing him or her. Receive a card with both hands, read the card, and thank the person who gave you the card or comment on the information on the card so that it is clear that you have read it. If business cards are exchanged during a meeting or a meal, it is customary to place the cards you receive on the table, arranged according to hierarchy, so that you can refer to them as you talk.

The organization of the Chinese name card or business card is typically as follows:

Business Organization
Title
NAME education degree
(Contact information)
Address
Telephone number
Mobile phone number
Fax number

22.7 Addressing letters and envelopes

22.7.1 Special terms for the recipient (addressee) and the sender

The name of the recipient is typically followed by the recipient's title, or the title plus the expression 收 shōu, 启/啟 qǐ, or 大启/大啟 dà qǐ. 启/啟 qǐ and 大启/大啟 dà qǐ are more formal than 收 shōu. All three expressions mean 'recipient.'

The name of the sender may be followed by the expression 寄 jì or 緘/緘 jiān. 緘/緘 jiān is more formal than 寄 jì. Both expressions mean 'sender.'

22.7.2 The format of a horizontal envelope (commonly used in mainland China)

22.7.3 The format of a vertical envelope (commonly used in Taiwan)

In vertical format, addresses are written from top to bottom.

22.7.4 Terms used in addresses and their order of presentation

Addresses in China are presented from the largest unit to the smallest. If the postal code is included in the address, it occurs before the name of the city.

The major regional distinctions used in addresses in order of size are as follows:

省	县/縣	市	乡/鄉	镇/鎮	村
shěng	xiàn	shì	xiāng	zhèn	cūn
province	county	city	town	township	village

The terms used to refer to the units in street addresses differ somewhat in Taiwan and in mainland China. Here is a summary of the most common terms. The term 胡同 hútong ‘alley’ is used in Beijing, though as streets are restructured, alleys are being eliminated.

Terms used in Taiwan

段	duàn	section
区/區	qū	district
巷	xiàng	alley
弄	lòng	alley, lane
里	lǐ	neighborhood
路	lù	road, street
号/號	hào	number

Terms used in mainland China

(大)街	(dà)jiē	street
路	lù	road, street
胡同	hútong	alley
号/號	hào	number

 北京市新街口南大街十號
Běijīng shì xīn jiē kǒu nán dà jiē shí hào

Greetings and goodbyes

This chapter contains the most common expressions used by Mandarin Chinese speakers when greeting others and saying goodbye in different contexts. The expressions here are those used by the majority of Mandarin speakers, but differences between mainland China and Taiwan are noted where relevant. In Chinese, greetings and goodbyes are typically not accompanied by body contact such as a handshake, hug, or kiss, though handshakes are becoming more common in cities.

Greetings are used to acknowledge the presence of another person. Chinese uses different kinds of greetings depending upon the relationship of speaker and addressee, the time of day in which the greeting is made, and whether or not contact is face-to-face. Greetings that take the form of questions typically need no response.

24.1 Greetings in conversations

24.1.1 Basic greeting

To greet casual acquaintances or to greet others in a shopping or business environment, or when meeting someone for the first time, or when answering the telephone, say:

你好。

Nǐ hǎo.

Hi. (How are you?)

The response to this greeting is:

你好。

Nǐ hǎo.

Hi. (How are you?)

Or, also possible, but less common:

好。谢谢。你呢？

好。謝謝。你呢？

Hǎo. Xièxie. Nǐ ne?

Fine. Thanks. And you?

NOTE

Until recently, the expression 你好 nǐ hǎo was primarily used when greeting foreigners, but in Chinese cities it is now widely used between native speakers of Chinese.

A more formal variation of this greeting uses the polite pronoun 您 nín 'you':

毛： 王经理，您好？

毛： 王經理，您好？

Máo: Wáng jīnglǐ, nín hǎo?

Mao: Manager Wang, how are you?

王： 好。

Wáng: Hǎo.

Wang: Fine.

24.1.2 Greetings with reference to time of day

The most common morning greeting is:

早。
Zǎo.
Good morning.

The response is:

早
Zǎo.
Good morning.

An alternative form of this greeting is:

早安。 Zǎo'ān.
Good morning.

or 早上好。

Zǎoshang hǎo.
Good morning.

There is no greeting associated with any other time of day.

24.1.3 Greeting people by calling them (叫 jiào)

In China, it is very common to greet others by making eye contact and calling them by name, title, or appropriate kinship term. To greet others in this way is to 叫 jiào 'call' them. This greeting can include 好 hǎo or 你好 nǐ hǎo.

罗老师! / 羅老師!
Luó lǎoshī!
Professor Ross!

张萌! / 張萌!
Zhāng Méng!
Zhang Meng!

王经理! / 王經理!
Wáng jīnglǐ!
Manager Wang!

阿姨好!
Āyí hǎo!
How are you, Auntie!

小王!
Xiǎo Wáng!
Little Wang!

Huí jiā ne?

The most general way to say goodbye and to end a conversation is:

In Taiwan, and increasingly in mainland China, people also say:

拜拜。

Bàibái. (also pronounced bàibài)

Bye bye. (borrowed from English 'bye bye')

If the participants in a conversation expect to see each other in the near future, they may use variations of 再见/再見 zàijiàn to say goodbye. These include:

一会儿见。

一會兒見。

Yīhuìr jiàn.

See you in a moment.

In informal letters to someone with whom you have a close relationship, you may use the recipient's given name, or family name and given name. Sometimes these are followed by these kinship terms:

弟	dì	younger brother, a form of address used to a younger male
姊	zǐ	elder sister, a form of address used by females of the same generation

Expressions used to extend good wishes to the addressee

These expressions occur immediately after the body of the letter, before any additional greetings.

Wishes for good health and well-being

The following phrases are standard expressions of good wishes. They occur after one of the previous phrases, before the name of the sender. Note that many are linked to a specific season or to the new year.

---	--------------	------------

More formal

敬上	jìng shàng	respectfully presented
拜上	bài shàng	respectfully yours
拜启/拜啟	bài qǐ	respectfully report
再拜	zài bài	bow twice (a polite closing to a letter)

For very formal letters written to a superior

谨启/謹啟	jǐn qǐ	cautiously and prudently respectfully present
谨禀/謹稟	jǐn bǐng	respectfully submitted

In addition, if the addressee is referred to as 兄 xiōng, 弟 dì, 姊 zǐ, or 妹 mèi in the salutation, the writer typically prefixes the reciprocal generation term to his or her name in the closing. In other words, a male writer who greets his addressee with 兄 xiōng typically closes the letter by prefixing his name with 弟 dì. A female writer who greets her addressee with 姊 zǐ typically closes the letter by prefixing her name with 妹 mèi.

In the body of a letter, the name of the sender and the date of the letter are placed at the end of the letter.

Sample letters illustrating the format and the use of these expressions are presented here.

26.4 Telephone etiquette

Telephone calls are answered with the phrase:

喂? Wèi? or Wéi?

喂? Wèi? (in either tone) is the equivalent of ‘Hello’ in English.

NOTE

喂 wèi can be used more broadly as an interjection to attract somebody’s attention. When used in answering a phone call, it is said in second or fourth tone. Second tone is more polite and more commonly used. Fourth tone conveys a sense of impatience.

Increasingly, in the cities of China, the phrase used to answer a phone call is:

喂? 你好。

Wéi? Nǐ hǎo.

Hello. How are you?

To ask to speak to someone say:

(张老师) 在吗?

(張老師) 在嗎?

(Zhāng lǎoshī) zài ma?

Is (Professor Zhang) in?

or

我找 (张老师)。她在吗?

我找 (張老師)。她在嗎?

Wǒ zhǎo (Zhāng lǎoshī). Tā zài ma?

I'm looking for (Professor Zhang). Is she in?

If the party in question is not in, say:

(她) 不在。

(Tā) bù zài.

(I am) unable to get through.

现在占线。

現在占線。

Xiànzài zhàn xiàn.

The line is busy.

26.5

Writing and reciting phone numbers and fax numbers

Phone and fax numbers are recited as a list of single digits. In mainland China, when reciting numbers, the number 1 (一) is pronounced yāo. In Taiwan it is pronounced yī. Phone and fax numbers are typically written with Arabic numerals and not with Chinese characters.

Sample numbersPhone, fax*

6	5	2	7 - 3	3	7	8
liù	wǔ	èr	qī sān	sān	qī	bā

Cell phone

1	3	5	5	7	6	7	6	6	6	6
yī	sān	wǔ	wǔ	qī	liù	qī	liù	liù	liù	liù
or
yāo	sān	wǔ	wǔ	qī	liù	qī	liù	liù	liù	liù

▶ 6.1.1

NOTE

Phone numbers that include the numerals 6 or 8 are considered particularly good and lucky. Those with the numeral 4 are less desirable. In mainland China, cell phone customers select and purchase their numbers from a list. Those with 6s and 8s are more expensive. Those with 4s are less expensive.

Negating information

27.1 Negation of verbs and verb phrases

The words that are used to negate verbs and verb phrases in Mandarin are 不 bù and 没/沒 méi. 不 bù and 没/沒 méi immediately precede the verb or anything that precedes and modifies the verb, including an adverb, a location phrase, or any other prepositional phrase.

他不喝酒。 [negation + verb]

Tā bù hē jiǔ.

He doesn't drink (alcohol).

他不一定考得好。 [negation + adverb]

Tā bù yīdìng kǎodehǎo.

她没跟弟弟说话。 [negation + prepositional phrase]

Tā méi gēn dìdì shuō huà.

She didn't speak with younger brother.

In addition to the primary role of 不 bù and 没/沒 méi as markers of negation, they often serve to identify the aspect and time frame of events.

 我還沒看完那本書。
Wǒ hái méi kànwán nà běn shū.
 I still haven't finished reading that book.

Asking questions and replying to questions

Questions are used to ask for information. Here are the most common question types in Mandarin.

28.1 Yes-no questions

Yes-no questions are questions that can be answered with ‘yes’ or ‘no.’ In Mandarin, there are several ways to ask yes-no questions. Notice that unlike English, the overall phrase order of statements and yes-no questions is the same. In addition, no helping word equivalent to ‘do’ is involved in yes-no questions in Chinese.

28.1.1 Yes-no questions with 吗/嗎 ma

When 吗/嗎 ma is added to the end of a statement, it turns the statement into a yes-no question.

Statement

她是中国人。

她是中國人。

Tā shì Zhōngguó rén.

She is a Chinese person.

他们卖橘子。

他們賣橘子。

Tāmen mài júzi.

They sell tangerines.

他会说中文。

他會說中文。

Tā huì shuō Zhōngwén.

He can speak Chinese.

Yes-no question

她是中国人吗？

她是中國人嗎？

Tā shì Zhōngguó rén ma?

Is she a Chinese person?

他们卖橘子吗？

他們賣橘子嗎？

Tāmen mài júzi ma?

Do they sell tangerines?

他会说中文吗？

他會說中文嗎？

Tā huì shuō Zhōngwén ma?

Can he speak Chinese?

28.1.2 Yes-no questions with verb-not-verb structure

Yes-no questions may also be formed by repeating the first verb of the verb phrase in affirmative and negative form. Here are examples with different types of verbs.

Modal verbs

他会不会说中文？

他會不會說中文？

Tā huì bù huì shuō Zhōngwén?

Can he speak Chinese?

▶ 12.6.2

The equational verb 是 shì 'to be'

她是不是中国人？

她是不是中國人？

Tā shì bù shì Zhōngguó rén?

Is she a Chinese person?

► 11.5

Action verbs

他们卖不卖橘子？

他們賣不賣橘子？

Tāmen mài bù mài júzi?

Do they sell tangerines?

► 13.4.1

Stative verbs

你喜欢不喜欢他？

你喜歡不喜歡他？

Nǐ xǐhuan bù xǐhuan tā?

Do you like him?

or

你喜不喜欢他？

你喜不喜歡他？

Nǐ xǐ bù xǐhuan tā?

Do you like him?

► 11

Adjectival verbs

飞机票贵不贵？

飛機票貴不貴？

Fēijī piào guì bù guì?

Are airplane tickets expensive?

► 10.2

When the main verb of a sentence is 有 yǒu, the verb-not-verb question is 有没有/有沒有 yǒu méi yǒu.

你有没有钱？

你有沒有錢？

Nǐ yǒu méi yǒu qián?

Do you have money?

► 11.6.4, 13.4.2, 27.1.2

When the verb is followed by a direct object and no other phrase, verb-not-verb may be split. In this case, not-verb can occur immediately after the object.

他会说中文不会？

他會說中文不會？

Tā huì shuō Zhōngwén bù huì?

Can he speak Chinese?

她是中国人不是？

她是中國人不是？

Tā shì Zhōngguó rén bù shì?

 Do they sell tangerines?

你有钱没有?
 你有錢沒有?
Nǐ yǒu qián méi yǒu?
 Do you have money?

The verb-not-verb structure can be used to question whether an action is complete. In this case, ‘not’ must be 没有/沒有 méi yǒu. 没有/沒有 méi yǒu occurs after the direct object, at the end of the sentence.

你吃饭了没有?
 你吃飯了沒有?
Nǐ chī fàn le méi yǒu?
 Have you eaten?

NOTE

Native speakers differ in where they put 了 le in sentences like these. Some speakers prefer to put 了 le after the object of the verb as in the example above. Some speakers prefer to put 了 le after the verb itself, as in the following example 你吃了饭没有?

 你吃了飯沒有?
Nǐ chī le fàn méi yǒu?
 Have you eaten?

▶ 13.4, 37.1

► 27.1.2

29.2.2 Expressing possession

To indicate one's possession, use the following structure:

possessor + 的 de + possessed object

哥哥的车	老师的书
哥哥的車	老師的書
gēgē de chē	lǎoshī de shū
older brother's car	teacher's book

Mandarin does not have possessive pronouns. A pronoun + 的 de is equivalent in meaning to a possessive pronoun in English.

我的钥匙	谁的书?
我的鑰匙	誰的書?
wǒ de yàoshi	shéi de shū?
my key	whose book?

A table of English possessive pronouns and their Mandarin equivalents is presented in Chapter 5.

► 5.2.4, 9.2.1.2

The possessor + 的 de may sometimes occur without the following 'possessed' noun. This is often the case when the noun is clear from the context of the sentence. In the following sentences, the noun in parentheses may be omitted.

这本书是你的(书)。
這本書是你的(書)。
Zhè běn shū shì nǐ de (shū).
This book is yours.

那个学校是他们的(学校)。
那個學校是他們的(學校)。
Nàge xuéxiào shì tāmen de (xuéxiào).
That school is theirs.

When there is a close relationship between the possessor and the possessed noun, 的 de may be omitted. 的 de is often omitted if the possessor is a pronoun.

我(的)母亲很忙。
我(的)母親很忙。
Wǒ (de) mǔqīn hěn máng.
My mother is very busy.

他是我们(的)老师。

30.6 Describing nouns in terms of attributes that imply comparison

In Mandarin, adjectival verbs imply comparison, even when they are not used in a comparison structure. This is especially true when the adjectival verb is not preceded by an intensifier. Here are examples. The context usually makes it clear whether a simple description or a comparison is intended.

The verb 是 shì is optional and is usually absent in statements in which the predicate is an age, or, in fact, any number + classifier (+ noun) phrase.

几/幾 jǐ is a classifier that is used to ask about small numbers. Therefore, it is appropriate to use when asking the age of young children, but not when asking the age of older people.

Indicating result, conclusion, potential, and extent

32.1 Indicating the result or conclusion of an action with resultative verbs

In Mandarin, action verbs refer to open-ended processes and not to their conclusions or results. For example, the verb 买/買 mǎi refers to ‘shopping,’ not ‘buying.’ The verb 找 zhǎo refers to ‘looking for’ something, not ‘finding’ it.

English sometimes uses two entirely different verbs to refer to a process and its result or conclusion. In Mandarin, processes and results are always expressed using the same verb. The process is expressed with an open-ended action verb. The result or conclusion is expressed by adding a resultative suffix to the open-ended action verb. Verbs that are formed by an action verb and a resultative suffix are often referred to as resultative verbs.

Resultative verb structure: action verb + resultative ending

NOTE Some grammars refer to the resultative suffix as a complement of result.

32.6 Indicating the extent or result of a situation

Resultative verbs indicate the result of actions. To indicate the result or extent of a situation, use the following structure:

verb 得 de verb phrase/clause

For adjectival verbs, 得 de introduces the extent of the situation, adding the meaning: so adjectival verb that verb phrase/clause.

Tā lèi de táibuqǐtóu lái le.

Māma kū de yǎnjīng dōu hóng le.

Making comparisons

Comparison structures are used to indicate that things are similar to or different from each other, or to indicate that something is more than or less than another thing in some way.

This chapter presents the structures used to make comparisons in Mandarin. It uses the following grammatical terms and abbreviations. Refer to the relevant chapters for more information about each grammatical category.

noun phrase (NP)			Chapter 9
adjectival verb (AV)	and	adjectival verb phrase (AVP)	Chapter 10
stative verb (SV)	and	stative verb phrase (SVP)	Chapter 11
modal verb (MV)			Chapter 12

Younger brother and younger sister write characters equally fast.

Here are several variations in this pattern. They differ in the order of the phrases. In all of these variations, [action verb + object] occurs before [action verb 得 de], and 一样/一樣 yīyàng AV occurs at the end of the sentence.

Variation 1

NP <sub>1</sub>	[action verb + object]	[action verb 得]	跟/和	NP <sub>2</sub>	一样	AV

33.3.2 Comparing noun phrases in terms of stative verbs

Stative verbs such as ài ‘to love’ and xǐhuan ‘to like to,’ ‘to prefer’ take noun phrase objects or verb phrase complements. The stative verb and its object or complement is a stative verb phrase (SVP). When comparing two noun phrases in terms of a stative verb phrase, say:

When the quantity is a specific number, say:

NP<sub>1</sub> 比 NP<sub>2</sub> AV [number + classifier (+ noun)]
 NP<sub>1</sub> bǐ NP<sub>2</sub> AV [number + classifier (+ noun)]
 NP<sub>1</sub> is more AV than NP<sub>2</sub> by [number + classifier (+ noun)]

► 25.3.3, 17.2, 39.2

34.5 Indicating present time by context

Time expressions are optional when the context makes it clear that the sentence refers to a present time situation. For example, in the following conversation, 现在/現在 xiànzài 'now' can be included, but it is not necessary, because the question and response clearly refer to the present time.

妈妈：你(现在)做什么功课？

媽媽：你(現在)做甚麼功課？

Māma: Nǐ (xiànzài) zuò shénme gōngkè?

Mom: What homework are you doing (now)?

孩子：我(现在)做数学。

孩子：我(現在)做數學。

Háizi: Wǒ (xiànzài) zuò shùxué.

Child: I am doing math (now).

34.6 Negation in present time situations

Present time situations are negated with 不 bù, with one exception: the verb 有 yǒu is always negated with 没 méi.

他今天不来上课。

他今天不來上課。

Tā jīntiān bù lái shàng kè.

He is not coming to class today.

我没有钱。

我沒有錢。

Wǒ méi yǒu qián.

I don't have money.

► 11.6, 27.1

Action verbs may be negated with 没/沒 méi or 没有/沒有 méi yǒu, but when so negated, they do not refer to present time. Instead, they indicate that the action did not happen in the past.

你为什么没来上课？

你為甚麼沒來上課？

Nǐ wèi shénme méi lái shàng kè?

Why didn't you come to class?

► 13.3, 17.1, 37.3

34.7 Talking about actions that begin in the past and continue to the present

To indicate that an action began in the past and continues to the present, end the sentence with sentence final 了 le. If the verb is followed by an object or a duration expression, the sentence will have two instances of 了 le, one following the verb, and the other at the end of the sentence. Sentences like these are sometimes described as having 'double 了 le.' Sentence final 了 le is sometimes described as indicating the 'present relevance' of the situation.

► 38.1.3

Wǒ kàn le liǎng běn shū le.

I've read two books (so far).

他在美国住了十年了。

他在美國住了十年了。

Tā zài Měiguó zhù le shínián le.

35.1 Expressing habitual time with the word 每 měi 'every/each'

Time expressions that indicate habitual action include the word 每 měi 'every/each.' As with other expressions that indicate the time when an action occurs, these expressions occur right after the subject, at the beginning of the predicate. Commonly used time expressions include:

The adverb 都 dōu may also occur with these expressions, right before the verb or, if there is a prepositional phrase, right before the prepositional phrase.

Talking about the future

Mandarin has no distinct future tense. Instead, future time is expressed by words and phrases that refer to the future.

36.1 Time words that refer to future time

Here are some common time words that refer to future time.

今天下午	jīntiān xiàwǔ	this afternoon
今天晚上	jīntiān wǎnshang	tonight
明天	míngtiān	tomorrow
后天/後天	hòutiān	the day after tomorrow
大后天/大後天	dà hòutiān	three days from now
下个星期/下個星期	xià gè xīngqī	next week
下个礼拜/下個禮拜	xià gè lǐbài	next week
下个月/下個月	xià gè yuè	next month
明年	míngnián	next year
将来/將來	jiānglái	in the future

The neutral position for ‘time when’ expressions is after the subject, at the beginning of the predicate. To emphasize the time when a situation occurs, put the ‘time when’ expression at the beginning of the sentence, before the subject.

我们今天晚上去看电影。
我們今天晚上去看電影。

Wǒmen jīntiān wǎnshang qù kàn diànyǐng.
We are going to see a movie tonight.

今天晚上我们去看电影。

jīntiān wǎnshang wǒmen qù kàn diànyǐng.
Tonight we are going to see a movie.

► 4.5, 49.2, 57.3.2

36.2 Adverbs that refer to future time

Common adverbs that refer to the future include the following. (Note that adverbs always occur before the [prepositional phrase +] verb phrase.)

就要 jiù yào ‘soon will’

他就要结婚了。 他就要結婚了。

Tā jiù yào jiéhūn le.
He is going to get married soon.

再 zài '(do) again in the future'

再见!

再見!

Zài jiàn!

See you again! (Goodbye)

我没听清楚，请你再说一次。

我沒聽清楚，請你再說一次。

她可能不學中文了。

Tā kěnéng bù xué Zhōngwén le.

She may not study Chinese any more.

▶ 15

Notice that the adverb 再 zài is closely related to the adverb 又 yòu. The adverb 再 zài means (to do) again in the future, and the adverb 又 yòu means (to do) again in the past. Sentences with 又 yòu '(to do) again in the past' always end with 了 le.

你前天迟到了。昨天又迟到了。

你前天遲到了。昨天又遲到了。

Nǐ qiántiān chídào le. Zuótiān yòu chídào le.

You were late the day before yesterday. Yesterday you were late again.

▶ 37.5

36.3

Indicating future time with the modal verb 会/會 huì

The modal verb 会/會 huì can be used to indicate future time. The meaning of 'future' is associated with the meanings of 'possibility' and 'prediction' conveyed by 会/會 huì.

我想他不会来了。

我想他不會來了。

Wǒ xiǎng tā bù huì lái le.

I don't think he will come.

Sometimes, 会/會 huì simply indicates future.

天气预报说，明天一定会下雨。

Indicating completion and talking about the past

Mandarin has no grammatical structure that is entirely equivalent to past tense in English. Instead, it has structures that signal the completion of an event or that indicate that an event occurred or did not occur at some time in the past, or that a situation existed at some time in the past. The primary strategies for indicating completion and talking about the past are presented in this chapter.

37.1 Marking an action as complete: perfective aspect 了 le

Mandarin uses the verb suffix 了 le to mark an action as bounded and complete. When an action is marked as complete with respect to now (speech time), completion also indicates that the action happened in the past.

Only action verbs can be marked as complete. If a stative verb, adjectival verb, or modal verb is followed by 了 le, the meaning is one of change rather than completion.

► 10, 11, 12, 11.3, 13.1, 17.1, 38.1

In the main clause of a sentence, perfective 了 le follows the verb or the verb + object phrase, depending upon the properties of the object.

When the object is an unmodified noun, perfective 了 le follows the object.

他昨天晚上唱歌了。

Tā zuótiān wǎnshàng chàng gē le.

He sang last night.

When the object of the verb is a modified noun – that is, a noun preceded by a specifier, number, and classifier, and/or any other description phrase – perfective 了 le ordinarily follows the verb.

她昨天晚上唱了几首歌。

她昨天晚上唱了幾首歌。

Tā zuótiān wǎnshàng chàng le jǐ shǒu gē.

She sang a few songs last night.

她今天穿了她姐姐的衣服。

Tā jīntiān chuān le tā jiějie de yīfu.

She wore her older sister's clothes today.

In some contexts, Mandarin speakers may put perfective 了 le after the object whether the object noun is modified or not. When in doubt about where to put 了 le, consult your Chinese teacher or a native speaker of Mandarin.

The adverb 已经/已經 yǐjīng already often occurs before an action has been marked as complete.

我已经吃晚饭了。

我已經吃晚飯了。

Wǒ yǐjīng chī wǎnfàn le.

I already ate dinner.

Q: 那件事, 你什么时候做完?

那件事, 你甚麼時候做完?

Nà jiàn shì, nǐ shénme shíhòu zuòwán?

When will you finish that matter?

A: 我已经做完了。

我已經做完了。

Wǒ yǐjīng zuòwán le.

I've already finished.

37.2 Talking about sequence with perfective 了 le

To indicate that two actions occur in sequence, follow the first action verb with 了 le.

他吃了饭就走。

他吃了飯就走。

Tā chī le fàn jiù zǒu.

He will eat and then leave. (After he eats, he will leave.)

As the translation of this sentence indicates, this sentence refers to a sequence that will take place in the future: 了 le indicates that 吃 chī 'eat' occurs before 走 zǒu 'leave.'

To indicate that a sequence of events is complete, follow the second verb or the object of the second verb with 了 le.

他吃了饭就走了。

他吃了飯就走了。

Tā chī le fàn jiù zǒu le.

After he ate, he left.

学生做完了功课就交给老师了。

學生做完了功課就交給老師了。

Xuésheng zuòwán le gōngkè jiù jiāo gěi lǎoshī le.

After the students finished their work they handed it to the teacher.

These sentences have two instances of 了 le. The one that follows the first verb indicates sequence. The one that follows the second verb or its object indicates that the sequence is complete, and by implication, past.

37.3 Indicating that an action did not occur in the past

To indicate that an action did not occur in the past, negate the verb with 没/沒 méi or 没有/沒有 méi yǒu. Do not use 不 bù as the marker of negation, and do not use 了 le after the verb when talking about an action that did not occur.

我寒假没回家。

我寒假沒回家。

Wǒ hánjià méi huí jiā.

I didn't go home for winter break.

我昨天一天都没看见他。

我昨天一天都沒看見他。

Wǒ zuótiān yī tiān dōu méi kànjian tā.

I didn't see him at all yesterday.

他没(有)买那本书。
 他沒(有)買那本書。
Tā méi (yǒu) mǎi nà běn shū.
 He didn't buy that book.

The adverb 还/還 hái may occur in sentences negated with 没(有)/沒(有) méi (yǒu). 还没(有)/還沒(有) hái méi (yǒu) means 'not yet.'

我还没吃早饭。 我還沒吃早飯。
Wǒ hái méi chī zǎofàn.
 I haven't yet eaten breakfast.

他才十三岁。当然还没结婚。
 他才十三歲。當然還沒結婚。
Tā cái shí sān suì. Dāngrán hái méi jiéhūn.
 He's only 13. Of course he hasn't yet married.

▶ 13.3.2, 17.1.1.2, 27.1.2

37.4 Asking whether an action has occurred

To ask whether an action has occurred, use a yes–no question:

*Yes–no questions with 吗/嗎 ma

Q: 你买飞机票了吗?
 你買飛機票了嗎?
Nǐ mǎi fēijī piào le ma?
 Did you buy the airplane ticket?

Verb-not-verb yes–no questions

verb 了 le (object) 没有/沒有 méi yǒu

Q: 你买了飞机票没有? 你買了飛機票沒有? Nǐ mǎi le fēijī piào méi yǒu? Have you bought (the) airplane ticket yet?	or Q: 你买飞机票了没有? 你買飛機票了沒有? Nǐ mǎi fēijī piào le méi yǒu? Have you bought (the) airplane ticket yet?
---	--

Yes–no questions with 有没有/有沒有 yǒu méi yǒu (Taiwan usage)

有没有/有沒有 yǒu méi yǒu + [prepositional phrase +] verb phrase

Q: 你有没有买飞机票?
 你有沒有買飛機票?
Nǐ yǒu méi yǒu mǎi fēijī piào?
 Have you bought the airplane ticket?

To answer 'yes' to 吗/嗎 ma or verb-not-verb yes–no questions, reply with V 了:

A: 买了。
 買了。
Mǎi le.
 [I] bought [it].

To answer 'yes' to 有没有/有沒有 yǒu méi yǒu questions, say:

A: 有。
Yǒu.
 Yes.

To answer 'no' to any form of these yes–no questions, say:

A: 沒有。
沒有。
Méi yǒu.
No.

▶ 17.1, 28.1

37.5 Indicating that an action occurred again in the past: 又 yòu verb 了 le

To indicate that an action occurred again in the past, precede the [prepositional phrase +] verb phrase with the adverb 又 yòu and follow the verb with 了 le.

他前天来了。今天早上又来了。
他前天來了。今天早上又來了。
Tā qiántiān lái le. Jīntiān zǎoshang yòu lái le.
He came the day before yesterday. This morning he came again.

Notice that the adverb 又 yòu '(to do) again in the past' is closely related to the adverb 再 zài '(to do) again in the future.'

我昨天晚上又吃饺子了。明天不要再吃了。
我昨天晚上又吃餃子了。明天不要再吃了。
Wǒ zuótiān wǎnshang yòu chī jiǎozi le. Míngtiān bù yào zài chī le.
I ate dumplings again last night. I don't want to eat them again tomorrow.

▶ 36.2

NOTE

又 yòu ... 又 yòu ... means 'both ... and ...' and can be used to link stative verbs or adjectival verbs.

他们又饿又渴。
他們又餓又渴。
Tāmen yòu è yòu kě.
They are hungry and thirsty.

▶ 10.8, 39.9, 43.4

37.6 Talking about past experience: verb suffix 过/過 guo

To indicate that an action has been experienced at least once in the indefinite past, follow the verb with the verb suffix 过/過 guo.

我吃过中国饭。
我吃過中國飯。
Wǒ chīguo Zhōngguó fàn.
I've eaten Chinese food (before).

The verb suffix 过/過 guo is appropriate in the following circumstances:

- when talking about actions that the subject does not perform on a regular basis,
- when talking about actions that happened in the remote past,

- when talking about actions that are repeatable. Actions that are not repeatable cannot be suffixed with 过/過 guo.

Do not say

*她大学毕业过。

她大學畢業過。

Tā dàxué bìyè guò.

intended: She has graduated from university before.

► 13.2, 17.3

The suffix 过/過 guo and perfective 了 le can sometimes occur together in the same sentence. When they do, 过/過 guo always occurs before 了 le.

今天的报我已经看过了。

今天的報我已經看過了。

Jīntiān de bào wǒ yǐjīng kànguo le.

I've already read today's paper.

长城我已经登过了。

長城我已經登過了。

Chángchéng wǒ yǐjīng dēngguo le.

I have already climbed the Great Wall.

To indicate that an action has never been experienced before, precede the [prepositional phrase +] verb phrase with 没/沒 méi or 没有/沒有 méi yǒu and follow the verb with 过/過 guo as follows:

没/沒(有) méi (yǒu) + verb 过/過 guo

我没吃过中国饭。

我沒吃過中國飯。

Wǒ méi chīguo Zhōngguó fàn.

I have never eaten Chinese food before.

他没坐过飞机。

他沒坐過飛機。

Tā méi zuòguo fēijī.

He has never ridden on a plane before.

When talking about events that have never been experienced before, the adverb 从来/從來 cónglái 'in the past' often occurs before the verb for additional emphasis:

我从来没吃过中国饭。

我從來沒吃過中國飯。

Wǒ cónglái méi chīguo Zhōngguó fàn.

I have never eaten Chinese food before.

NOTE 从来/從來 cónglái is only used in negative sentences.

► 17.3, 27.3, 35.3

37.7

Comparing the aspect markers 过/過 guo and 了 le

The aspect markers 过/過 guo and 了 le overlap in meaning, but they are not identical. As illustrated in Section 37.6, they may sometimes be used together. However, in many contexts, only 过/過 guo or 了 le is appropriate.

Here is a table that summarizes the meanings associated with 过/過 guo and 了 le, and illustrates their differences.

	过/過 guo	了 le
The action is complete.	过/過 guo is acceptable 我去过中国。 我去過中國。 Wǒ qùguo Zhōngguó. I've been to China before.	了 le is acceptable 我去了中国。 我去了中國。 Wǒ qù le Zhōngguó. I went to China.

- a prepositional phrase:

他是跟谁结婚的?
 他是跟誰結婚的?
Tā shì gēn shéi jiéhūn de?

If the verb has an object and the object is not a pronoun, 的 de can come either after the verb or at the end of the sentence.

昨天晚上是谁给你做的晚饭?
 昨天晚上是誰給你做的晚飯?
Zuótiān wǎnshàng shì shéi gěi nǐ zuò de wǎnfàn?

Zuótiān wǎnshàng shì shéi gěi nǐ zuò wǎnfàn de?

If the object of the verb is a pronoun, 的 de can only occur after the pronoun, at the end of the sentence.

Talking about change, new situations, and changing situations

Mandarin has a number of ways to indicate that a situation represents a change from the past or that it is in the process of change. 38.1 and 38.3 present grammatical patterns that are used to talk about change. 38.4 presents words that are used to talk about change.

38.1 Indicating that a situation represents a change

To indicate that a situation represents a change, add the particle 了 le to the end of the sentence that describes the situation. We refer to this use of 了 le as ‘sentence final 了 le.’ Here are the most common types of change associated with sentence final 了 le. Notice that in English this sense of change is sometimes expressed with the word ‘become’ (verb) or (verb) ‘now’ or ‘gotten’ (verb).

38.1.1 New information for the addressee

他们订婚了！

他們訂婚了！

Tāmen dìng hūn le!

They have become engaged!

我有两个孩子了。

我有兩個孩子了。

Wǒ yǒu liǎng gè hái zǐ le.

I have two children now (and this is information that is new for you).

38.1.2 Change of state

When the main verb of a sentence is a stative verb, sentence final 了 le indicates a change of state.

东西都贵了。

東西都貴了。

Dōngxi dōu guì le.

Things have become expensive.

他有女朋友了。

Tā yǒu nǚ péngyou le.

He has a girlfriend now. (He didn’t have one before.)

38.1.3 Actions that continue into the future: double 了 le sentences

Sentence final 了 le can be used with the perfective aspect suffix 了 le to signal that a certain portion of an action is complete but that the action is continuing into the future. Sentences like these are sometimes described as having ‘double 了 le,’ and the function of the sentence final 了 le is sometimes described as indicating the ‘present relevance’ of the situation.

他已经睡了十个钟头了。
 他已經睡了十個鐘頭了。
Tā yǐjīng shuì le shí gè zhōngtóu le.
 He has already slept for ten hours.

▶ 34.7

38.1.4 Situations that do not exist anymore

To indicate that a situation does not exist anymore, add sentence final 了 le to the end of a negated sentence:

negated sentence + sentence final 了 le

她不吃肉了。
Tā bù chī ròu le.
 She doesn't eat meat anymore.

太阳出来了。不冷了。
 太陽出來了。不冷了。
Tàiyáng chūlái le. Bù lěng le.
 The sun has come out. (It) isn't cold anymore.

38.1.5 Imminent occurrences and imminent change

Sentence final 了 le can be used to indicate that a situation will happen soon. Often, an adverb or adverbial phrase such as 快 kuài, 快要 kuài yào, or 就要 jiù yào occurs before the [prepositional phrase +] verb phrase to emphasize the fact that the situation will happen soon.

我们快到了。
 我們快到了。
Wǒmen kuài dào le.
 We will be arriving soon.

我快要做完了。
Wǒ kuài yào zuòwán le.
 I'm just about done.

38.2 Comparing sentences with and without sentence final 了 le

Notice how sentence final 了 le changes the meaning of the sentence. Without sentence final 了 le, the sentence is a description of a situation. With sentence final 了 le, the sentence focuses on a change.

No sentence final 了 le

我会看中文报。 我會看中文報。
Wǒ huì kàn Zhōngwén bào.
 I can read Chinese newspapers.

Sentence final 了 le

我会看中文报了。
 我會看中文報了。
Wǒ huì kàn Zhōngwén bào le.
 I can read Chinese newspapers now.

No sentence final 了 le

汽油很贵。

汽油很貴。

Qìyóu hěn guì.

Gasoline is very expensive.

我不喜欢吃肉。

我不喜歡吃肉。

Wǒ bù xǐhuan chī ròu.

Sentence final 了 le

汽油很贵了。

Qìyóu hěn guì le.

Gasoline has become very expensive.

我不喜欢吃肉了。

我不喜歡吃肉了。

Wǒ bù xǐhuan chī ròu le.

I don't like to eat meat anymore.

38.3 Indicating change over time

38.3.1 More and more of some situation

越来越 yuè lái yuè AV/SV/MV more and more AV/SV/MV

This pattern is used to indicate that something is becoming more and more adjectival verb (AV), stative verb (SV), or modal verb (MV) over time.

Sentence final 了 le can optionally occur with this pattern to emphasize the sense of change that the pattern conveys.

'more and more' adjectival verb

东西越来越贵(了)。

東西越來越貴(了)。

Dōngxi yuè lái yuè guì (le).

Things are getting more and more expensive.

天气越来越冷(了)。

They are getting more and more proficient in speaking Chinese.

越來越 yuè lái yuè can be used to express negative situations.

我越来越不喜欢他了。
我越來越不喜歡他了。
Wǒ yuè lái yuè bù xǐhuan tā le.
I dislike him more and more.

他们家越来越没有钱了。
他們家越來越沒有錢了。
Tāmen jiā yuè lái yuè méi yǒu qián le.
Their family has less and less money.

38.3.2 Indicating change caused by changing events

To indicate that one change causes another change, say:

越 VP 越 AV/SV/MV yuè VP yuè AV/SV/MV the more VP the more AV/SV/MV

越 yuè VP 越 yuè adjectival verb

我越吃冰淇淋越胖。
Wǒ yuè chī bīngqílín yuè pàng.

我越學中文越會說中國話。
Wǒ yuè xué Zhōngwén yuè huì shuō Zhōngguó huà.
The more I study Chinese, the more I am able to speak Chinese.

Note that this pattern indicates both change and result.

Talking about duration and frequency

When we talk about duration, we can specify the length of an action ('we walked for an hour'), or we can focus on the ongoing duration of the action without reference to its length ('while we were walking, it started to rain'). When we talk about frequency, we indicate how often an action occurs. This chapter will show you how to express both duration and frequency in Mandarin.

39.1 Specifying the length of an action with a duration phrase

Duration phrases can be used to indicate how long an action occurs. To indicate the duration of an action, follow the verb with a time phrase:

subject + verb + duration

Only open-ended actions have duration. Open-ended actions include 买/買 mǎi 'to shop,' 学/學 xué 'to study,' 看 kàn 'to look at,' 'to watch,' 'to read,' 吃 chī 'to eat,' 睡 shuì 'to sleep,' 唱 chàng 'to sing,' 洗 xǐ 'to wash,' etc.

▶ 13.5, 18.1, 18.2

39.1.1 Indicating duration when there is no object noun phrase

When the action verb does not have an object noun phrase, the duration phrase simply follows the verb. If the verb is suffixed with 了 le, the duration phrase follows 了 le.

我想在中国住一年。

我想在中國住一年。

Wǒ xiǎng zài Zhōngguó zhù yīnián.

I plan to live in China for a year.

他病了三天。

Tā bìng le sāntiān.

He was sick for three days.

39.1.2 Indicating duration when the verb takes an object

When the verb takes an object noun phrase, duration may be indicated using the following sentence patterns. In all of these patterns, the verb is followed by its object or by a duration phrase. A single verb is never followed directly by both an object and a duration phrase, with one exception. If the object is a pronoun, the pronoun may occur after the verb and before the duration phrase.

我等了三个小时了。
我等了三個小時了。
Wǒ děng le tā sān gè xiǎoshí le.
I've been waiting for him for three hours.

Pattern 1: verb + object verb + duration

The verb occurs twice in the verb phrase. First it is followed by the object, then it is followed by the duration phrase.

Say this

我每天晚上看书看四个小时。
我每天晚上看書看四個小時。
Wǒ měitiān wǎnshàng kàn shū
kàn sì gè xiǎoshí.
Every night I read (books) for four hours.

Not this

*我每天晚上看书四个小时。
*我每天晚上看書四個小時。
Wǒ měitiān wǎnshàng kàn shū
sì gè xiǎoshí.

If the sentence refers to a past event, the second occurrence of the verb is followed by 了 le.

我睡觉睡了八个钟头。
我睡覺睡了八個鐘頭。
Wǒ shuì jiào shuì le bā gè zhōngtóu.
I slept for eight hours.
我等他等了三个小时。
我等他等了三個小時。
Wǒ děng tā děng le sān gè xiǎoshí.
I waited for him for three hours.

► 37.1

Pattern 2: verb + object 有 yǒu + duration

The verb and its object are stated first, followed by 有 yǒu and the duration phrase. 有 yǒu is not directly followed by 了 le, though 了 le may occur at the end of the sentence.

我等王明有三个小时了。
我等王明有三個小時了。
Wǒ děng Wáng Míng yǒu sān gè xiǎoshí le.
I have been waiting for Wang Ming for three hours.

Pattern 3: verb + duration 的 de object noun phrase

The duration phrase plus 的 de occurs immediately before the object noun phrase. This pattern cannot be used when the object noun phrase is a pronoun.

我学了两年的中文。
我學了兩年的中文。
Wǒ xué le liǎng nián de Zhōngwén.
I studied Chinese for two years.
我睡了八个钟头的觉。
我睡了八個鐘頭的覺。
Wǒ shuì le bā gè zhōngtóu de jiào.
I slept for eight hours.

的 de is sometimes omitted.

那个学生已经学了两年(的)中文了。
那個學生已經學了兩年(的)中文了。
Nàge xuésheng yǐjīng xué le liǎng nián (de) Zhōngwén le.
That student has been studying Chinese for two years already.

Pattern 4: object noun phrase, verb + duration

The object noun phrase may occur at the beginning of the sentence, before the subject, as a topic. The verb is then directly followed by the duration phrase. This pattern cannot be used when the object noun phrase is a pronoun or a default object.

这个问题，我已经想了很久了。

這個問題，我已經想了很久了。

Zhège wèntí, wǒ yǐjīng xiǎng le hěn jiǔ le.

This problem, I have already thought about (it) for a long time.

中文，我已经学了四年了。

中文，我已經學了四年了。

Zhōngwén, wǒ yǐjīng xué le sìnián le.

Chinese, I've already studied (it) for four years.

中文，我至少会学两年。

中文，我至少會學兩年。

Zhōngwén, wǒ zhìshǎo huì xué liǎng nián.

Chinese, at the very least I will study (it) for two years.

► 57.1.2.1

39.1.3 Duration vs. time when

Note the difference between phrases that indicate duration and those that indicate time when.

Time phrases that indicate the duration of a situation always occur after the verb.

我学了两个小时了。

我學了兩個小時了。

Wǒ xué le liǎng gè xiǎoshí le.

I studied for two hours.

Time phrases that indicate the time when a situation takes place always occur before the verb:

我昨天学了中文。

我昨天學了中文。

Wǒ zuótiān xué le Zhōngwén.

I studied Chinese yesterday.

A sentence may include both a time when phrase and a duration phrase.

我昨天学了两个小时。

我昨天學了兩個小時。

Wǒ zuótiān xué le liǎng gè xiǎoshí.

Yesterday I studied for two hours.

39.1.4 Indicating how long it has been that something has not occurred

In Mandarin, only situations that occur can be described in terms of their duration. If a situation does not occur, the duration pattern cannot be used to describe it. To indicate the length of time that something has not occurred, put the time phrase before the [prepositional phrase +] verb or verb phrase.

我两天没睡觉。

我兩天沒睡覺。

Wǒ liǎng tiān méi shuì jiào.

I haven't slept for two days.

他三年没有抽烟。
 他三年沒有抽煙。
Tā sān nián méi yǒu chōu yān.
 He hasn't smoked for three years.

39.2 Emphasizing ongoing duration

39.2.1 Emphasizing the ongoing duration of an action

To emphasize the ongoing duration of an action without specifying the length of the duration, follow the verb with the suffix 着/著 zhe. To indicate that an action is ongoing at the moment of speaking, 在 zài or 正在 zhèngzài may also precede the verb. 呢 ne may occur at the end of the sentence.

他在说着话呢。
 他在說著話呢。
Tā zài shuōzhe huà ne.
 He is speaking.

她正在吃着早饭呢。
 她正在吃著早飯呢。
Tā zhèngzài chīzhe zǎofàn ne.
 She is eating breakfast right now.

在 zài before the verb may also mark duration without the verb suffix 着/著 zhe.

他在说话呢。 他在說話呢。
Tā zài shuō huà ne.
 He is speaking.

我们在吃饭呢。
 我們在吃飯呢。
Wǒmen zài chī fàn ne.
 We are eating right now. (We are right in the middle of eating.)

► 13.4, 17.2, 34.2, 34.3

The duration suffix 着/著 zhe is often used with verbs that refer to the placement or location of an object.

街上站着很多人。
 街上站著很多人。
Jiēshàng zhànzhe hěn duō rén.
 There are a lot of people standing in the street.

公共汽车上坐着很多人。
 公共汽車上坐著很多人。
Gōnggòng qìchē shàng zuòzhe hěn duō rén.
 There are a lot of people sitting on the bus.

► 34.4

This use of 着/著 zhe is similar to the use of the present progressive verb suffix '-ing' in English in its focus on ongoing actions. However, 着/著 zhe and '-ing' are not always equivalent. For example, 着/著 zhe can be used in Mandarin to emphasize the duration of an adjectival verb. The English equivalent does not typically use '-ing.'

Indicating the ongoing duration of a background event

她的脸红着呢。(AV)

她的臉紅著呢。

Tā de liǎn hóngzhe ne.

Her face is red. (Not 'Her face is being red.')

汤热着呢。(AV)

湯熱著呢。

Tāng rèzhe ne.

The soup is hot. (Not 'The soup is being hot.')

In Mandarin, 着/著 zhe may also be suffixed to certain verbs in commands. The English equivalent does not ordinarily involve '-ing.'

拿着! / 拿著!

Názhe!

Hold it!/Take it!

记着! / 記著!

Jìzhe!

Remember!

等着! / 等著!

Děngzhe!

Wait!

坐着! / 坐著!

Zuòzhe!

Sit!

► 51.1.1

39.2.2

Emphasizing the ongoing duration of a situation or state

To emphasize the ongoing duration of a situation or state, use the adverb 还/還 hái before the [prepositional phrase +] verb or verb phrase. In affirmative sentences and questions, this use of 还/還 hái can often be translated into English with the word 'still.'

他还在中国。

他還在中國。

Tā hái zài Zhōngguó.

He is still in China.

你还喜欢他吗?

你還喜歡他嗎?

Nǐ hái xǐhuan tā ma?

Do you still like him?

In negative sentences, this use of 还/還 hái can often be translated into English with the phrase 'not yet.'

他还没结婚。

他還沒結婚。

Tā hái méi jiéhūn.

He has not yet married. (He still hasn't married.)

我还没看那个电影。

我還沒看那個電影。

Wǒ hái méi kàn nàge diànyǐng.

I have not yet seen that movie. (I still haven't seen that movie.)

► 15.2.3, 40.2

39.3

Indicating the ongoing duration of a background event

When two events occur at the same time, we sometimes consider one event to be the main event and the other to be the background event. To signal that a background event is ongoing as the main event occurs, follow the verb of the background event with the verb suffix 着/著 zhe.

我们喝着咖啡谈话。

我們喝著咖啡談話。

Wǒmen hēzhe kāfēi tán huà.

We talked while drinking coffee. ('drinking coffee' is the background event)

他看着电视吃早饭。

他看著電視吃早飯。

Tā kànzhe diànshì chī zǎofàn.

He eats breakfast while watching television. ('watching television' is the background event)

To indicate that an event is a background event without focusing on its duration, use 的时候/的時候 de shíhou 'when, while.'

我在中国的时候认识他了。

我在中國的時候認識他了。

Wǒ zài Zhōngguó de shíhou rènshi tā le.

While I was in China, I met him.

▶ 43.1

39.4 Indicating frequency

39.4.1 Words used to indicate frequency

The classifiers 次 cì 'number of times' and 遍 biàn 'a time' are used to indicate frequency. They are always preceded by a number or the question words 几/幾 jǐ or 多少 duōshǎo 'how many.' 次 cì can be used to refer to the frequency of any kind of action. 遍 biàn is more restricted in its use and refers only to actions that have been performed from beginning to end.

39.4.2 The grammar of the frequency expression

To indicate the frequency of an action, follow the action verb with number + 次 cì or 遍 biàn 'times' to indicate the 'number of times' that the action occurs. If the verb is suffixed with 了 le or 过/過 guo, the frequency phrase occurs after the verb suffix.

我已经说了三次，你怎么还不懂？

我已經說了三次，你怎麼還不懂？

Wǒ yǐjīng shuō le sān cì, nǐ zěnmé hái bù dǒng?

I've already said it three times, how can you still not understand? (遍 biàn can be used instead of 次 cì in this sentence.)

A verb may be followed by both a frequency expression and an object. The frequency expression always precedes the object.

There are several ways to indicate frequency.

Pattern 1: verb + object, verb + frequency

If the verb takes an object, the verb may be repeated, once followed by the object, and once followed by the frequency expression.

我去年坐飞机坐了三次。(遍 biàn cannot be used here.)

我去年坐飛機坐了三次。

Wǒ qùnián zuò fēijī zuò le sān cì.

Last year I rode airplanes three times.

Expressing contrast

41.1 Expressing contrast with paired connecting words

Mandarin uses the following paired connecting words to express contrast.

虽然...可是	or	虽然...但是	or	虽然...不过
雖然...可是		雖然...但是		雖然...不過
suīrán... kěshì		suīrán... dànshì		suīrán... bùguò
although... but		although... but		although... however

可是 kěshì and 但是 dànshì are identical in meaning and are interchangeable. 不过/不過 bùguò conveys a slightly stronger sense of contrariness to expectation.

The Chinese connecting words occur at the beginning of their clauses or right before the predicate. Both members of the pair can occur in the same sentence. Although English permits only a single contrast connector in a sentence, in order to best illustrate the usage of the Mandarin words, the English translations in this section translate each connector in the Mandarin sentences.

虽然他是中国人，可是他还喜欢吃日本菜。
 雖然他是中國人，可是他還喜歡吃日本菜。
Suīrán tā shì Zhōngguó rén, kěshì tā hái xǐhuan chī Riběn cài.
 Although he is Chinese, but he still likes to eat Japanese food.

虽然他是中国人，但是他没去过北京。

Suīrán tā shì Zhōngguó rén, dànshì tā méi qùguo Běijīng.
 Although he is Chinese, but he has never been to Beijing.

虽然他很有钱，可是我还不愿意嫁给他。
 雖然他很有錢，可是我還不願意嫁給他。
Suīrán tā hěn yǒu qián, kěshì wǒ hái bù yuànyì jiàgěi tā.
 Although he has a lot of money, but I'm still not willing to marry him.

41.1.1 The placement of connecting words

If the subjects of the two clauses are identical in reference and the second one is not omitted, 虽然/雖然 suīrán typically occurs before the subject.

虽然我哥哥已经三十岁了，但是他还没结婚。
 雖然我哥哥已經三十歲了，可是他還沒結婚。
Suīrán wǒ gēge yǐjīng sānshí suì le, dànshì tā hái méi jiéhūn.
 Although my older brother is already 30 years old, but he still hasn't married.

When subjects of the two clauses in contrast sentences are identical in reference, the second one is sometimes omitted. When this is the case, the connecting word 虽然/雖然 suīrán typically occurs after the subject of the first clause.

我哥哥虽然已经三十岁了可是还没结婚。

我哥哥雖然已經三十歲了可是還沒結婚。

Wǒ gēge suīrán yǐjīng sānshí suì le kěshì hái méi jiéhūn.

Although my older brother is already 30 years old, but (he) still hasn't married.

41.1.2 Relative order of the clauses in contrast sentences

The position of the clauses is fixed. The 虽然/雖然 suīrán clause comes first. The 可是 kěshì, 但是 dànshì, or 不过/不過 bùguò clause comes second.

*他胆子很大虽然他很小。

他膽子很大雖然他很小。

Tā dǎnzi hěn dà suīrán tā hěn xiǎo.

41.1.3 Omission of the connecting words

他很有錢, 可是我還不願意嫁給他。

Tā hěn yǒu qián, kěshì wǒ hái bù yuànyì jiàgěi tā.

Expressing sequence

42.1 Expressing the relationship 'before'

42.1.1 The structure of the 以前 yǐqián 'before' sentence

以前 yǐqián is used to indicate the relationship 'before one event occurs, another event occurs.'

event<sub>1</sub> 以前 yǐqián, event<sub>2</sub> before event<sub>1</sub>, event<sub>2</sub>

我上大学以前，想去澳大利亚旅游。

我上大學以前，想去澳大利亞旅遊。

妈妈上班以前，都吃早饭。

媽媽上班以前，都吃早飯。

Māma shàng bān yǐqián, dōu chī zǎofàn.

Before Mom goes to work, she always eats breakfast.

To indicate that a sequence occurred in the past, follow the verb of the second clause with perfective 了 le.

我来中国以前，在日本住了一年。

我來中國以前，在日本住了一年。

Wǒ lái Zhōngguó yǐqián, zài Riběn zhù le yīnián.

Before I came to China, I lived in Japan for a year.

NOTE The more literary form of 以前 yǐqián is 之前 zhīqián.

▶ 9.6

42.1.2 Comparing 以前 yǐqián with 'before'

以前 yǐqián signals the same relationship of sequence as the English word 'before.' However, there are important differences between 以前 yǐqián and 'before.'

- 以前 yǐqián occurs at the end of the first clause:

妈妈上班以前

媽媽上班以前

Māma shàng bān yǐqián

'Before' occurs at the beginning of the first clause:

before Mom goes to work

- In Mandarin, the clause that ends with 以前 yǐqián must come first in the sentence. In English, the order of the clauses in the 'before' sentence is not fixed. Either can come first in the sentence. Compare the following sentences.

Good English

Before Mom went to work she ate breakfast.

Good English

Mom ate breakfast before she went to work.

Good Mandarin

妈妈上班以前吃了早饭。

媽媽吃了早飯上班以前。
Māma chī le zǎofàn shàng bān yǐqián.

42.2 Expressing the relationship 'after' in a single sentence

In Mandarin, the relationship of 'after' is expressed using some combination of the word 以后/以後 yǐhòu 'after,' perfective 了 le, and adverbs, usually 就 jiù or 才 cái.

These markers of sequence can occur together in a single sentence to express the relationship of sequence, or they can occur independently.

Native speakers of Mandarin differ in their preference for the use of these markers of sequence.

► 6.9, 37.2, 42.2.2

42.2.1 Indicating sequence with 以后/以後 yǐhòu 'after'

以后/以後 yǐhòu 'after' is used to express the following relationship: 'after an event occurs, another event occurs.'

event<sub>1</sub> 以后/以後 yǐhòu, event<sub>2</sub> after event<sub>1</sub>, event<sub>2</sub>

我们吃了饭以后，就去看电影。
我們吃了飯以後，就去看電影。

Wǒmen chī le fàn yǐhòu, jiù qù kàn diànyǐng.

After we eat, we will go to a movie.

我下了课以后，就回家。

我下了課以後，就回家。

Wǒ xià le kè yǐhòu, jiù huí jiā.

After I get out of class, I go home.

孩子睡了觉以后，父母就看电视。

孩子睡了覺以後，父母就看電視。

Háizi shuì le jiào yǐhòu, fùmǔ jiù kàn diànshì.

After the children go to sleep, the parents watch television.

To signal that a sequence occurred in the past, follow the verb of the second clause with 了 le, using the guidelines for the placement of perfective 了 le presented in Chapter 17.

► 17.1.1.1

If the verb takes a one-syllable object, 了 le may also follow the object.

他吃了饭以后就看电视了。
他吃了飯以後就看電視了。
Tā chī le fàn yǐhòu jiù kàn diànshì le.
After he ate, he watched television.

他吃了晚饭以后就喝了一杯茶。
他吃了晚飯以後就喝了一杯茶。
Tā chī le wǎnfàn yǐhòu jiù hē le yī bēi chá.
After he ate dinner, he drank a cup of tea.

以后/以後 yǐhòu signals the same relationship of sequence as the English word ‘after.’ However, there are important differences between 以后/以後 yǐhòu and ‘after.’

- 以后/以後 yǐhòu occurs at the end of the first clause:

我下了课以后 我下了課以後
wǒ xià le kè yǐhòu

‘After’ occurs at the beginning of the clause:

after I get out of class

- In Mandarin, the clause that ends with 以后/以後 yǐhòu must come first in the sentence. In English, the order of the clauses in the ‘after’ sentence is not fixed. Either can come first in the sentence. Compare the following sentences.

Good English

After I get out of class, I go home.

Good English

I go home after I get out of class.

Good Mandarin

我下了课以后回家。

Bad Mandarin

*我回家下了课以后。
我回家下了課以後。
Wǒ huí jiā xià le kè yǐhòu.

NOTE

The more literary form of 以后/以後 yǐhòu is 之后/之後 zhīhòu.

► 9.6

42.2.2 Adverbs that occur in sequence sentences

42.2.2.1 就 jiù

The adverb 就 jiù has several functions. One function is to signal a relationship of sequence between events that occur in a series. The relationship of sequence indicated by 就 jiù reinforces the meaning of sequence indicated by 以后/以後 yǐhòu. Therefore, 就 jiù often occurs with 以后/以後 yǐhòu in sequence sentences.

我学了中国历史以后就想去中国。
我學了中國歷史以後就想去中國。
Wǒ xué le Zhōngguó lìshǐ yǐhòu jiù xiǎng qù Zhōngguó.
After I studied Chinese history, I wanted to go to China.

The meaning of 就 jiù is related to the meaning of 以后/以後 yǐhòu, but the two words are independent. 就 jiù may occur without 以后/以後 yǐhòu, and 以后/以後 yǐhòu may occur without 就 jiù.

The following two sentences, one with 就 jiù and the other with 以后/以後 yǐhòu, are equivalent in meaning. Compare them to the sentence above in which 就 jiù and 以后/以後 yǐhòu both occur.

我学了中国历史就想去中国。
我學了中國歷史就想去中國。

Wǒ xué le Zhōngguó lìshǐ jiù xiǎng qù Zhōngguó.

After I studied Chinese history I wanted to go to China.

42.2.2.2 Indicating that one event happens 'only after' another event: sequence with the adverb 才 *cái

To indicate that some event happens 'only after' another event, use the adverb 才 cái before the second verb of a sequence. 才 cái can occur with 以后/以後 yǐhòu and 了 le. 才 cái and 就 jiù cannot both occur before the same verb.

她在中国住了两年才会说中国话。
她在中國住了兩年才會說中國話。

Tā zài Zhōngguó zhù le liǎng nián cái huì shuō Zhōngguó huà.

She lived in China for two years and only then was able to speak Chinese.

你長大了以後才懂這種事情。

Nǐ zhǎng dà le yǐhòu cái dǒng zhè zhǒng shìqíng.

After you grow up, only then will you understand this kind of situation.

► 15.2.6

Pay attention to the difference between the adverbs 才 cái and 就 jiù in the following sentences. Since 就 jiù indicates simple sequence, it is used much more frequently than 才 cái. For many speakers of Mandarin, a verb phrase with 才 cái cannot include 了 le.

就 jiù

他吃了药就好了。
他吃了藥就好了。

Tā chī le yào jiù hǎo le.

After he ate the medicine, he recovered.

才 cái

他吃了药才好(了)。
他吃了藥才好(了)。

Tā chī le yào cái hǎo (le).

Only after he ate the medicine did he recover.
(He ate the medicine and only then recovered.)

就 jiù

他开了空调就舒服了。
他開了空調就舒服了。

Tā kāi le kōngtiáo jiù shūfu le.

After he turned on the air conditioner, he was comfortable.

才 cái

Tā kāi le kōngtiáo cái shūfu.

Only after he turned on the air conditioner was he comfortable.
(He turned on the air conditioner and only then was comfortable.)

42.2.2.3

便 *biàn*便 biàn, like 就 jiù, is used to reinforce a relationship of sequence between two events.

每天一下课他便到图书馆去工作。

每天一下課他便到圖書館去工作。

Měitiān yī xià kè tā biàn dào túshūguǎn qù gōngzuò.

Every day, as soon as he gets out of class he goes to the library to work.

便 biàn is largely restricted to formal, literary contexts.

自从毕业以后，我们便没有来往。

自從畢業以後，我們便沒有來往。

Zìcóng bìyè yǐhòu, wǒmen biàn méi yǒu láiwǎng.

Since we've graduated, we haven't had any contact.

42.2.3 Indicating sequence with perfective 了 le

Like the adverbs 就 jiù, 才 cái, and 便 biàn, the verb suffix 了 le can be used to signal a relationship of sequence between two events. 了 le is optional, but when it occurs, it normally follows the first verb in a series of verb phrases. Notice that 就 jiù or 才 cái often occurs with 了 le and 以后/以後 yǐhòu in sequence sentences that indicate the relationship 'after.'

她买了照相机以后就照了很多照片。

她買了照相機以後就照了很多照片。

Tā mǎi le zhàoxiàngjī yǐhòu jiù zhào le hěn duō zhàopiàn.

After she bought a camera, she took a lot of pictures.

(I will finish my homework and only then go to sleep.)

Follow the guidelines for the placement of perfective 了 le presented in Chapter 17.

▶ 17.1.1.1, 37.2

42.2.4 Indicating 'after' in a single sentence: a summary of the use of 以后/以後 yǐhòu, 了 le, and sequence adverbs

- 以后/以後 yǐhòu, 了 le, and sequence adverbs all signal a sequence of events within a single sentence.
- Sequence sentences can contain any combination of 以后/以後 yǐhòu, 了 le, and sequence adverbs.
- None of these markers of sequence is obligatory, and native speakers of Mandarin differ in their preferences in using them.
- Events that are related in terms of sequence need not have any of these sequence markers.

我每天下课回家。

我每天下課回家。

Wǒ měitiān xià kè huí jiā.

Every day, after I get out of class I return home.

(Every day I get out of class and return home.)

42.3 Indicating that one event happens first and another event happens afterwards

The following pairs of adverbs are used to indicate that one event happens first and another event happens afterwards. The adverbs always occur before [prepositional phrases +] verb phrases. The order of the adverbs and their following verb phrases is fixed. They are often used when giving instructions and describing processes.

42.3.1 Indicating the relationship 'first . . . then . . .'

The following pairs of adverbs are commonly used to indicate the relationship 'first . . . then . . .'

先 xiān VP<sub>1</sub> 再 zài VP<sub>2</sub> first VP<sub>1</sub> then VP<sub>2</sub>

你先买票，再上公共汽车。
你先買票，再上公共汽車。

Nǐ xiān mǎi piào, zài shàng gōnggòng qì chē.
You first buy a ticket, then get on the bus.

先 xiān VP<sub>1</sub> 然后/然後 ránhòu VP<sub>2</sub> first VP<sub>1</sub> then/afterwards VP<sub>2</sub>

我们得先去换钱，然后去买东西。
我們得先去換錢，然後去買東西。

Wǒmen děi xiān qù huàn qián, ránhòu qù mǎi dōngxi.
We have to first change money and then go shopping.

先 xiān VP<sub>1</sub> 以后/以後 yǐhòu VP<sub>2</sub> first VP<sub>1</sub> then/afterwards VP<sub>2</sub>

我们先吃饭，以后讨论那件事情。
我們先吃飯，以後討論那件事情。

Wǒmen xiān chī fàn, yǐhòu tāolùn nà jiàn shìqing.
We will eat first and discuss this matter afterwards.

42.3.2 Indicating the relationship 'first . . . only then . . .'

To indicate that some event occurs 'only after' another event, say:

先 xiān VP<sub>1</sub> 才 cái VP<sub>2</sub> first VP<sub>1</sub> only then VP<sub>2</sub>

你先买票，才上公共汽车。
你先買票，才上公共汽車。

Nǐ xiān mǎi piào, cái shàng gōnggòng qì chē.
You first buy a ticket and only then get on the bus.

▶ 15.2.6

42.3.3 Indicating the relationship ‘as soon as . . . then . . .’

To indicate that some event occurs ‘as soon as’ another event occurs, say:

— yī VP<sub>1</sub> 就 jiù VP<sub>2</sub> as soon as VP<sub>1</sub> then VP<sub>2</sub>

我們一到北京，就去爬長城。
我們一到北京，就去爬長城。

Wǒmen yī dào Běijīng, jiù qù pá chángchéng.

As soon as we get to Beijing we will go climb the Great Wall.

NOTE

When — yī occurs immediately before a [prepositional phrase +] verb or verb phrase, it always means ‘as soon as.’ When — yī occurs immediately before a classifier, it is always the number ‘one.’

42.4 Indicating ‘afterwards’ in a separate sentence

Mandarin has a number of sentence adverbs, adverbs that occur at the beginning of a sentence, to introduce an event that happens afterwards. The most common are 以后/以後 yǐhòu, 然后/然後 ránhòu, and 后来/後來 hòulái.

以后/以後 yǐhòu ‘afterwards, later’

以后/以後 yǐhòu is the most neutral of the sentence adverbs used to indicate ‘afterwards.’

请先喝点茶吧！以后我们出去吃晚饭。

請先喝點茶吧！以後我們出去吃晚飯。

Qǐng xiān hē diǎn chá ba! Yǐhòu wǒmen chūqu chī wǎnfàn.

Drink a little tea first. Afterwards we will go out to eat dinner.

然后/然後 ránhòu ‘afterwards/after that’

然后/然後 ránhòu can only be used to indicate sequence between two events that occur in close temporal sequence to each other.

我们看了电影。然后我们去了咖啡店喝咖啡。

我們看了電影。然後我們去了咖啡店喝咖啡。

Wǒmen kàn le diànyǐng. Ránhòu wǒmen qù le kāfēi diàn hē kāfēi.

We saw a movie. Afterwards, we went to a coffee shop and drank coffee.

后来/後來 hòulái ‘afterwards’

后来/後來 hòulái can only be used to indicate sequence between two events that have already occurred.

我昨天早上考了中文。后来我回宿舍睡觉了。

我昨天早上考了中文。後來我回宿舍睡覺了。

Wǒ zuótiān zǎoshang kǎo le Zhōngwén. Hòulái wǒ huí sùshè shuì jiào le.

Yesterday morning I had a Chinese test. Afterwards I went back to the dormitory and went to sleep.

42.5 Comparing 以前 yǐqián ‘before’ with 以后/以後 yǐhòu ‘after’

In some ways, the uses of 以前 yǐqián ‘before’ and 以后/以後 yǐhòu ‘after’ are parallel. Both must occur in the first clause of a sequence sentence, and both words occur at the end of their clause.

However, the words are different in their occurrence with perfective 了 le. The perfective 了 le may occur in the 以后/以後 yǐhòu clause but it may not occur in the 以前 yǐqián clause. Compare these sentences.

Say this

我去中国以前学了两年的中文。
 我去中國以前學了兩年的中文。
Wǒ qù Zhōngguó yǐqián xué le liǎng nián de Zhōngwén.

*他考试了以前复习了功课。

Tā kǎo shì le yǐqián fùxí le gōngkè.

For many Mandarin speakers, the sequence use of 就 jiù is also not acceptable in 以前 yǐqián sentences. For these speakers, if 就 jiù occurs in an 以前 yǐqián sentence, it has the sense of 'only,' and not of sequence.

Expressing simultaneous situations

43.1 Indicating that one situation is the background for another situation

To indicate that one situation is the background for another situation, say:

$S_1$  的时候  $S_2/S_1$  的時候  $S_2$
 $S_1$  de shíhou  $S_2$ while/when  $S_1$ ,  $S_2$

$S_1$  and  $S_2$  can be actions or states.

$S_1$  and  $S_2$  are states

我小的时候，生活很苦。
我小的時候，生活很苦。
Wǒ xiǎo de shíhou, shēnghuó hěn kǔ.
When I was young, life was very hard (bitter).

$S_1$  and  $S_2$  are actions

我看书的时候，常听音乐。
我看書的時候，常聽音樂。
Wǒ kàn shū de shíhou, cháng tīng yīnyuè.
When I read, I often listen to music.

的时候/的時候 de shíhou can be used when one situation overlaps with the start of another one.

你来的时候，我们正在上课。
你來的時候，我們正在上課。
Nǐ lái de shíhou, wǒmen zhèngzài shàng kè.
When you arrived, we were in class.

However, 的时候/的時候 de shíhou cannot be used when the relationship between  $S_1$  and  $S_2$  is that of sequence. When  $S_1$  and  $S_2$  are related in terms of sequence, use 以后/以後 yǐhòu.

► 42.2

The events in the following sentence are related in terms of sequence. Therefore, they should be connected by 以后/以後 yǐhòu 'after' and not 的时候/的時候 de shíhou 'when.' Notice that in English, 'when' can be used with sequential situations or with simultaneous situations.

Say this

43.2.2 Focusing on the shared time(subject) 同时/同時 VP<sub>1</sub> VP<sub>2</sub>(subject) tóngshí VP<sub>1</sub> VP<sub>2</sub>subject simultaneously does VP<sub>1</sub> and VP<sub>2</sub>

同时/同時 tóngshí occurs before the list of actions that occur at the same time:

Why do you listen to music and do your homework at the same time?

43.3 Indicating that two actions occur in the same time frame

To indicate that two actions occur in the same time frame, though not necessarily at the same time, say:

Expressing cause and effect or reason and result

44.1 Expressing cause and effect or reason and result in a single sentence

Mandarin uses the paired connecting words 因为/因為 yīnwei ‘because/since’ . . . 所以 suǒyǐ ‘therefore’ . . . to express cause and effect or reason and result. 因为/因為 yīnwei and 所以 suǒyǐ occur at the beginning of their clauses or right before the predicate. They can occur in the same sentence.

因为他没有很多钱，所以他不随便买东西。
因為他沒有很多錢，所以他不隨便買東西。

Yīnwei tā méi yǒu hěn duō qián, suǒyǐ tā bù suíbiàn mǎi dōngxi.

Because he doesn't have a lot of money, therefore he doesn't casually buy things.

44.1.1 Omission of subjects in 因为/因為 yīnwei . . . 所以 suǒyǐ . . . sentences

When the subjects of the 因为/因為 yīnwei clause and the 所以 suǒyǐ clause are identical, the subject is often omitted in the second (所以 suǒyǐ) clause. In that case, 因为/因為 yīnwei is usually placed after the subject of the first clause.

我最近因为忙，所以没给你打电话。

我最近因為忙，所以沒給你打電話。

Wǒ zuìjìn yīnwei máng, suǒyǐ méi gěi nǐ dǎ diànhuà.

Because I have been busy recently, I haven't called you.

When the subjects of the two clauses are identical, the subject may also be omitted from the first clause. This sentence is acceptable with or without 所以 suǒyǐ.

因为有事，(所以)王先生请假了。

因為有事，(所以)王先生請假了。

Yīnwei yǒu shì, (suǒyǐ) Wáng xiānsheng qǐng jià le.

Because he had business to attend to, Mr. Wang asked for time off.

44.1.2 Relative order of the 因为/因為 yīnwei and 所以 suǒyǐ clauses

The position of the 所以 suǒyǐ clause is fixed. It must come second in the sentence, after a clause that introduces the cause.

Say this

因为他是中国人，所以他会说中国话。

因為他是中國人，所以他會說中國話。

Yīnwei tā shì Zhōngguó rén, suǒyǐ tā huì shuō Zhōngguó huà.

Because he is Chinese, (therefore) he can speak Chinese.

Not this

*所以他会说中国话，因为他是中国人

所以他會說中國話，因為他是中國人

Suǒyǐ tā huì shuō Zhōngguó huà, yīnwei tā shì Zhōngguó rén.

However, the 因为/因為 yīnwei clause may occur either first or second in the sentence. As the sentences above illustrate, when 因为/因為 yīnwei occurs in the second clause, 所以 suǒyǐ cannot be included in the first clause.

他会说中国话，因为他是中国人。
 他會說中國話，因為他是中國人。

Tā huì shuō Zhōngguó huà, yīnwei tā shì Zhōngguó rén.

He can speak Chinese because he is Chinese.

 王先生請假了，因為他有事。

Wáng xiānsheng qǐng jià le, yīnwei tā yǒu shì.

Mr. Wang asked for time off because he had a matter (to attend to).

44.1.3 Omission of the connecting words

Although you can include 因为/因為 yīnwei and 所以 suǒyǐ in the same sentence, it is often possible to have only 因为/因為 yīnwei or only 所以 suǒyǐ in a cause and effect sentence.

所以 suǒyǐ and not 因为/因為 yīnwei

我最近很忙，所以没给你打电话。
 我最近很忙，所以沒給你打電話。

Wǒ zuì jìn hěn máng, suǒyǐ méi gěi nǐ dǎ diànhuà.

I have been very busy recently, so I haven't called you.

因为/因為 yīnwei and not 所以 suǒyǐ

他因为病了，没来上课。
 他因為病了，沒來上課。

Tā yīnwei bìng le, méi lái shàng kè.

Because he was sick, he didn't come to class.

Introducing the cause or reason

Tā yóuyú bù liǎojiě qíngkuàng, zàochéng le yī gè dà cuòwù.

Because he did not understand the situation, he made a big mistake.

The inclusion of 所以 suǒyǐ 'therefore,' or 因而 yīn'ér 'therefore,' etc., makes the relationship between cause and effect or reason and result clearer.

Expressing location and distance

47.1 Location

47.1.1 Words that indicate location and compass direction

47.1.1.1 Location words

Mandarin location words consist of a base form and a location suffix. Base forms never occur alone. Some base forms occur with several different suffixes with no change in meaning. Here are the Mandarin location words and their English equivalents.

Base form	Mandarin location words			English
里/裏 lǐ	里头/裏頭 lǐtōu	里面/裏面 lǐmiàn	里边/裏邊 lǐbiān	in
外 wài	外头/外頭 wàitōu	外面 wàimiàn	外边/外邊 wàibiān	out
上 shàng	上头/上頭 shàngtōu	上面 shàngmiàn	上边/上邊 shàngbiān	over
下 xià	下头/下頭 xiàtōu	下面 xiàmiàn	下边/下邊 xiàbiān	under
前 qián	前头/前頭 qiántōu	前面 qiánmiàn	前边/前邊 qiánbiān	in front of
后/後 hòu	后头/後頭 hòutōu	后面/後面 hòumiàn	后边/後邊 hòubiān	behind

对/對 duì		对面/對面 duìmiàn		across from
旁 páng			旁边/旁邊 pángbiān	next to
中 zhōng	中间/中間 zhōngjiān			between

1 In traditional characters, the character 裏 lǐ is also written as 裡.

2 The choice of suffix is determined by the region of China and the personal preference of the speaker.

3 Mandarin has a second word for 'in,' 内 nèi. 内 nèi does not occur with suffixes and is very restricted in usage. It is used in fixed expressions such as:

国内/國內 guónèi	domestic (vs. 国外/國外 guówài foreign)
内部 nèibù	internal
内人 nèiren	my wife

NOTES

47.1.1.2 Compass direction

The words for north, east, south, and west are also formed with a base form and a suffix. The suffix can be 面 miàn or 边/邊 biān.

The combination compass direction words (northeast, southwest, etc.) usually occur without a suffix. If a suffix occurs, it is 面 miàn or 边/邊 biān.

Base form	Mandarin compass direction words		English
东/東 dōng	东面/東面 dōngmiàn	东边/東邊 dōngbiān	east
南 nán	南面 nánmiàn	南边/南邊 nánbiān	south

	东北(面)/東北(面) dōngběi (miàn)	东北(边)/東北(邊) dōngběi (biān)	northeast
	西南(面) xīnán (miàn)	西南(边)/西南(邊) xīnán (biān)	southwest
	西北(面) xīběi (miàn)	西北(边)/西北(邊) xīběi (biān)	northwest

▶ 11.6

47.3 Using location as a description

Location phrases may also be used to describe a noun. When used as a description, the location phrase precedes the noun, as follows:

location phrase 的 de noun the noun at this location [or] the noun in this direction

To help you to understand this structure, the location phrase in each of the following examples is presented in square brackets. Notice that the words 'that,' 'who,' and 'which' that occur in the description in English are not translated into Mandarin. In Mandarin, the noun can be understood as singular or plural.

[沙发上]的猫

[沙發上]的貓

[shāfā shàng] de māo

the cat [(that is) on the sofa]

[房子里]的人

[房子裏]的人

[fángzi lǐ] de rén

the person [(who is) in the house]

[北边]的湖

[北邊]的湖

[běibiān] de hú

the lake [(that is) in the north]

[左边]的人
 [左邊]的人
[zuǒbiān] de rén
 the person [(who is) on the left]

The location phrase may itself include a noun with a description:

[房子(的)后头]的人
 [房子(的)後頭]的人
[fángzi de hòutou] de rén
 the person [(who is) behind the house]

[图书馆(的)对面]的学校
 [圖書館(的)對面]的學校
[túshūguǎn (de) duìmiàn] de xuéxiào
 the school [(that is) across from the library]

► 9.2, 30.3

Compare the use of the location phrase as a description of a noun, with the use of the location phrase to indicate the location of a noun. Keep in mind that location phrases follow the noun and description phrases precede the noun.

Location: noun 的 de location phrase

Description: location phrase 的 de noun

房子的后头

Note the difference between 走 zǒu and 去 qù.

49.2 Calendar time

China uses two different calendar systems. The Western calendar, called 阳历/陽曆 yánglì, is used in nearly all official and public contexts, such as school, business, publishing, civil administration, military affairs, and politics. The 阴历/陰曆 yīnlì (lunar calendar), sometimes called 农历/農曆 nónglì (agricultural calendar), is used to mark birthdays, and traditional Chinese holidays such as the Chinese New Year, the Dragon Festival, the Mid-Autumn festival, etc. Until the nineteenth century, the lunar calendar was the primary calendar. Nowadays, the Western calendar is more widely used than the lunar calendar, especially in urban China.

The simplest way is simply to state the verb:

Chīzhe!	Názhe!	Zuòzhe!
Eat!	Hold it!/Take it!	Sit!

► 17.2

吃吧!	给我吧!	坐吧!
	給我吧!
Chī ba!	Gěi wǒ ba!	Zuò ba!

Expressing speaker attitudes and perspectives

Mandarin uses interjections at the beginning of the sentence and syllables at the end of the sentence (sentence final particles) to indicate the attitude of the speaker toward the situation expressed in the sentence. Attitudes expressed by interjections and sentence final particles include surprise, disgust, agreement, pity, etc.

Interjections and sentence final particles stand outside of the grammar of the sentence. Their omission or inclusion never affects the grammatical status of the sentence. However, their appropriate use contributes to the naturalness of the sentence, making it sound more authentically Mandarin.

56.1 Interjections

Syllables serving as interjections always have tones. Here are some common interjections and their associated meanings.

Topic, focus, and emphasis

57.1 Introducing a topic

The topic is the thing that is being discussed or written about. Mandarin has a variety of ways to introduce and identify the topic. Here are the most common.

Mandarin uses the following expressions to introduce the topic of a sentence.

至于/至於 zhìyú ‘concerning, regarding, as for’

至于我们两个人的事情，你就不要管了。

Speaking about the Olympics, do you think that decision was fair?

谈(到)/談(到) tán (dào) 'speaking about (topic)'

Tán dào Zhōng Yīng liǎng guó de lìshǐ, tā bǐ shéi dōu yǒu xìngqù.

至于/至於 zhìyú, 对于/對於 duìyú, and 关于/關於 guānyú are interchangeable, as are 提到 tí dào and 谈到/談到 tán dào.

57.1.2 Structures that identify the topic of a sentence

57.1.2.1 Topicalization

In Mandarin, a noun phrase may be identified as the topic of a sentence when it occurs at the beginning of the sentence. If another noun phrase in the sentence has the same reference as the topic, it is typically omitted. In the following sentences, the first noun phrase is the topic. The omitted phrase is indicated as ( ).

那个饭馆，服务不好。

那個飯館，服務不好。

Nàge fànguǎn, fúwù bù hǎo.

That restaurant, the service is not good.

美国大学，学费很贵。

美國大學，學費很貴。

Měiguó dàxué, xuéfèi hěn guì.

(In) American universities, tuition is very expensive.

中国长城，我听说( )冬天最美。

中國長城，我聽說( )冬天最美。

Zhōngguó Chángchéng, wǒ tīngshuō ( ) dōngtiān zuì měi.

The Great Wall of China, I hear (it) is prettiest in the winter.

汉字，我怎么写( )也写不好。

漢字，我怎麼寫( )也寫不好。

Hàn zì, wǒ zěnmě xiě ( ) yě xiě bù hǎo.

Chinese characters, no matter how I write them I don't write (them) well.

English also topicalizes noun phrases in this way, but topicalization is much more common in Mandarin than in English.

57.1.2.2 Noun phrase omission

In English, when a series of noun phrases refer to the same entity, all instances after the first reference typically occur as pronouns. In Mandarin, noun phrase omission is more common than pronominalization as a way to mark identity of reference. Noun phrase omission is one way that Mandarin identifies a noun phrase as a topic. As we saw in the previous section, noun phrases are typically omitted if they refer to the topic of the discourse.

Noun phrases are omitted when they occur in the same grammatical role as the first noun phrase.

In this example, the first reference and the omitted noun phrases are subjects of the verb:

张美丽每天都很忙。( )早上六点起床，( )七点出门，( )晚上九点才回家。

張美麗每天都很忙。( )早上六點起牀，( )七點出門，( )晚上九點才回家。

Zhāng Měili měitiān dōu hěn máng. ( ) Zǎoshang liùdiǎn qǐ chuáng, ( ) qǐdiǎn chū mén, ( ) wǎnshàng jiùdiǎn cái huí jiā.

Zhang Meili is very busy every day. (She) gets up at 6 o'clock, (she) leaves the house by 7 o'clock, and (she) doesn't get home at night until 9 o'clock.

In this example, the first reference and the omitted noun phrase are objects of the verb:

她买了裙子，到家以后马上穿上了( )。

她買了裙子，到家以後馬上穿上了( )。

Tā mǎi le qúnzi, dào jiā yǐhòu mǎshàng chuānshàng le ( ).

She bought a skirt; when she got home she immediately put it on.

When a noun phrase with identical reference occurs in a different grammatical role from the first instance, it occurs as a pronoun and is not omitted. In this example, the first reference is the object of 喜欢/喜歡 xǐhuan 'to like.' In the second reference, it is the subject of the sentence.

我们都喜欢那个孩子。她又可爱又乖。

我們都喜歡那個孩子。她又可愛又乖。

Wǒmen dōu xǐhuan nàge hái'zi. Tā yòu kě'ài yòu guāi.

We all like that child. She is both cute and well behaved.

57.2 Focus

Mandarin uses the following expressions to focus or highlight a phrase. This section presents the structure and purpose of the most common focusing constructions in Mandarin.

57.2.1 把 bǎ

把 bǎ is used to indicate what a subject does to some object, while focusing on the object. 把 bǎ sentences can always be used to answer the question: 'What did the subject do to the object?' 把 bǎ sentences are sometimes called the 'disposal construction.' The structure of 把 bǎ sentences is as follows.

subject 把 bǎ object [prepositional phrase +] verb phrase

弟弟把饺子吃完了。

弟弟把餃子吃完了。

Dìdì bǎ jiǎozi chīwán le.

Younger brother ate up the dumplings.

(Younger brother took the dumplings and ate them up.)

他把桌子擦干净了。

他把桌子擦乾淨了。

Tā bǎ zhuōzi cā gānjìng le.

He wiped the table clean.

(He took the table and wiped it clean.)

The object of 把 bǎ must refer to something specific and definite.

The action must have a conclusion or completion. Therefore, 把 bǎ is often used with change-of-state verbs and verbs with resultative or directional endings.

我把他的地址忘了。(change-of-state verb)

Wǒ bǎ tā de dìzhǐ wàng le.

I forgot his address.

(I took his address and forgot it.)

他把窗户打破了。(verb with resultative ending)

Tā bǎ chuānghu dǎpò le.

He broke the window.

(He took the window and broke it.)

她把论文写完了。(verb with resultative ending)

Tā bǎ lùnwén xiěwán le.

She finished writing her thesis.

(She took her thesis and finished writing it.)

他把每个字都写错了。(verb with resultative ending)

他把每個字都寫錯了。

Tā bǎ měi gè zì dōu xiěcuò le.

He wrote every character wrong.

(He took every character and wrote it wrong.)

► 18, 19, 20, 32.1

Mandarin often uses 把 bǎ when English would use a passive sentence.

57.2.2 Indicating exception or addition with 除了 chúle ... 以外 yǐwài

除了 chúle noun phrase 以外 yǐwài except for (noun phrase); in addition to (noun phrase)

This expression introduces an exception to a situation or an additional example of a situation. The structure itself is the same whether it focuses on an exception or an example. The context of the sentence makes it clear whether the sentence is providing an exception or an additional example.

- The noun phrase that follows 除了 chúle may be the subject, a ‘time when’ expression, or the object of the verb.
- The full expression includes both 除了 chúle and 以外 yǐwài. However, either phrase may be omitted.
- 也 yě or 都 dōu typically occurs in the predicate.

除了 chúle ... 以外 yǐwài marking an additional example: ‘in addition to noun phrase’

In this use of 除了 chúle ... 以外 yǐwài, the adverb 也 yě usually occurs in the predicate.

除了 chúle + subject

除了爷爷以外，奶奶也去中国旅游。

除了爺爺以外，奶奶也去中國旅遊。

Chúle yéye yǐwài, nǚnǚ yě qù Zhōngguó lǚyóu.

57.2.4 Focusing with 是 shì or 是...的 shì...de

是 shì, or 是...的 shì...de together, focus on some detail of an event: the time, the place, the actor, etc.

The phrase that is focused occurs immediately after 是 shì.

If the sentence refers to a situation in past time, 的 de occurs at the very end of the sentence, or immediately after the verb. In the following examples, the phrase that is focused is emphasized.

► 11.4, 30.5

Focus on the subject

是他给我们介绍的。
 是他給我們介紹的。
Shì tā gěi wǒmen jièshào de.
 It was he who introduced us.

Focus on the place

 It was in China where I studied Chinese.

你们是在哪儿认识的？

Wǒ shì gēn péngyou kàn diànyǐng de.

是 shì may be omitted, unless it is negated.

 這雙鞋(是)在王府井買的。
Zhè shuāng xié (shì) zài Wángfǔjǐng mǎi de.
 These shoes were bought in Wangfujing.

Zhè shuāng xié bù shì zài Wángfǔjǐng mǎi de.
 These shoes were not bought in Wangfujing.

If the object of the verb is a pronoun, 的 de can only occur after the pronoun, at the end of the sentence.

Say this

你是在哪儿认识他的?
你是在哪兒認識他的?
Nǐ shì zài nǎr rènshi tā de?
Where did you meet him?

Not this

*你是在哪儿认识的他?

When the sentence refers to a non-past event, 是 shì alone can be used to focus a phrase.

► 11.4, 37.9

57.3 Emphasis

57.3.1 Using 是 shì for emphasis

Mandarin uses the word 是 shì to emphasize words or phrases in the sentence, especially when the sentence is used to confirm some previously mentioned situation. 是 shì may be added before a 'time when' phrase, a location phrase, or a [prepositional phrase +] verb phrase to emphasize the following phrase.

In English, words that are emphasized usually receive heavy stress and falling pitch. Because Mandarin is a tone language, pitch contour cannot be used for emphasis. However, 是 shì often receives heavy stress when it is used for emphasis, and the emphasis used in the following examples is intended to convey heavy stress.

Neutral

那本书很贵。
那本書很貴。
Nà běn shū hěn guì.
That book is expensive.
我明天走。
Wǒ míngtiān zǒu.

57.3.2 Emphasizing the time when a situation occurs

To emphasize the time when a situation occurs, you can also put the 'time when' expression before the subject. This phrase order is typically used to contrast one time phrase with another time phrase.

昨天他很忙。今天他不忙。

Zuótiān tā hěn máng. Jīntiān tā bù máng.

Yesterday he was very busy. Today he is not busy.

Guest and host

The present-day roles of guest and host are based on centuries of tradition. In their simplest form, the roles are as follows: the host must take care of the guest, and the guest must accept the hospitality of the host without being a burden to the host. In practice, this means that the host must offer food and drink to the guest, must make the guest comfortable, and must escort the guest when he/she departs, and the guest must reject the hospitality of the host several times before eventually accepting it. Here are some general rules of behavior for guest and host.

- When visiting a Chinese host, the guest should bring a small gift. Items such as tea, fruit, flowers, and candy are usually appropriate. The host does not ordinarily open a gift in the presence of the guest.
- When a host invites a guest to participate in an activity for which there is a fee (dinner in a restaurant, coffee or ice cream in a café, attendance at a movie or show, transportation by taxi or train, etc.), it is understood that the host pays the bill.
- In most social situations, one of the participants typically assumes the role of host, paying the bill, ordering food or drink, paying for transportation, etc. It is expected that today's guest will be tomorrow's host, and the obligations (financial and otherwise) associated with the host will be reciprocated on later occasions by other members of the group. This creates a network of mutual obligations among participants and solidifies their identity as a group. It is rare for people to split the bill in China, or for individuals to pay for themselves when participating in some entertainment as part of a group. It is common for individuals to have a good-natured fight over a bill to establish the host for the occasion. The custom of 'splitting the check' is new and practiced only by young people, mostly in mainland China. It is called AA 制 AA zhì, the 'algebraic average.'

Many common interactions between guest and host are conducted using ritual expressions and behavior. The most common of these are presented here. Expressions used in welcoming a guest and in saying goodbye are also used toward customers in restaurants.

58.1 Welcoming the guest

To welcome a guest, say:

欢迎!

歡迎!

Huānyíng!

Welcome!

58.2 Offering food and drink

When the host offers the guest something to eat or drink, he or she either serves something or gives the guest a choice of beverages or food. For example:

请喝茶。

請喝茶。

Qǐng hē chá.

Have some tea.

or

你喝可乐喝茶？

你喝可樂喝茶？

Nǐ hē kělè hē chá?

Do you drink cola or tea?

It is not polite to ask the guest whether he or she wants something to eat or drink (Would you like something to drink?), or if he or she is thirsty (Are you thirsty?). These kind of questions allow a response of 'no,' and imply that the host does not wish to provide food. A good Chinese host does not give the guest the opportunity to refuse hospitality.

58.3 Inviting the guest to get comfortable

To invite a guest to get comfortable, say:

请坐。

請坐。

Qǐng zuò.

Have a seat.

休息一会儿。

休息一會兒。

Xiūxi yīhuìr.

Rest for awhile.

58.4 Saying goodbye and seeing the guest off

When it is time for guests to leave, the host has a ritual obligation to encourage them to stay. Guests have a ritual obligation to insist upon leaving. Expressions used in this ritual are presented below.

When guests leave, the host is expected to 送 sòng the guests, that is, to see them off. When you see guests off, you are expected to walk them a portion of the way home. Modern day interpretation requires accompanying guests at least to the doorway if not to their car or bus or train, and staying with them until they depart. Even if the host does not accompany the guest beyond the doorway, he or she does not close the door when guests walk out of the house. Instead, the host stands in view of the guests, waving, until they are out of sight.

58.4.1 Expressions that the host can say to the guest at the end of a visit

再来玩。

再來玩。

Zài lái wán.

Come again. (informal)

有空再来。

有空再來。

Yǒu kòng zài lái.

Come again when you have time.

慢走。

Màn zǒu.

Don't hurry off.

走好。

Zǒu hǎo.

Take care.

▶ 24.2.2

58.4.2 Expressions that guests can say to the host at the end of a visit

请留步。

請留步。

Qǐng liú bù.

Don't bother to see me out.

别送。

Bié sòng.

There's no need to see me off.

58.5 Additional expressions involving guest and host

The opposite of seeing a guest off is picking a guest up. The verb used is 接 jiē.

我今天晚上到机场去接白经理。

我今天晚上到機場去接白經理。

Wǒ jīntiān wǎnshàng dào jīchǎng qù jiē Bái jīnglǐ.

Tonight I am going to the airport to pick up Manager Bai.

The verb that is used for a formal visit to someone is 拜访/拜訪 bàifǎng.

我们明天拜访王教授。

我們明天拜訪王教授。

Wǒmen míngtiān bàifǎng Wáng jiàoshòu.

Tomorrow we will visit Professor Wang.

Giving and responding to compliments

59.1 Cultural conventions regarding praise

Traditionally, Chinese people do not say 谢谢/謝謝 xièxiè 'thank you' in response to a personal compliment of any kind. In Chinese culture, accepting a personal compliment can be interpreted as showing conceit. Thus, it is customary in China for people to reject rather than to accept compliments. To a Westerner, 谢谢/謝謝 xièxiè is merely thanks for the compliment. However, in Chinese culture, it is often interpreted as a boastful agreement with someone's assessment of the quality of your abilities or possessions.

59.2 Expressions used in deflecting praise

You are expected to reject compliments and deflect praise of your accomplishments, abilities, and possessions, and to deflect praise of the accomplishments and abilities of those close to you. The following expressions are commonly used to deflect praise:

Deflecting praise in neutral or informal situations

Expressing gratitude and responding to expressions of gratitude

61.1 Expressing gratitude

In Chinese culture, you thank others for actions that benefit you or show you respect. Such actions include doing something for you, taking the time to visit or write you, or helping you in some way. In Chinese culture, you do not thank others for compliments or invitations.

▶ 58

61.1.1 Direct expressions of thanks

Gratitude is expressed in Chinese with the following expressions:

谢谢/謝謝 xièxiè 'thank you'

谢谢你帮我忙。

謝謝你幫我忙。

Xièxiè nǐ bāng wǒ máng.

Thank you for helping me.

感谢/感謝 gǎnxiè 'gratefully thank; appreciate'

非常感谢您的建议。

非常感謝您的建議。

Fēicháng gǎnxiè nín de jiànyì.

I greatly appreciate your suggestions.

表示感谢/表示感謝 biǎoshì gǎnxiè 'to express thanks'

这点小礼物表示我们的感谢。请笑纳。

這點小禮物表示我們的感謝。請笑納。

Zhè diǎn xiǎo lǐwù biǎoshì wǒmen de gǎnxiè. Qǐng xiàonà.

This little gift expresses our thanks. Please accept our humble gift.

道谢/道謝 dàoxiè 'to thank, to express thanks'

我代表我们公司向您道谢。

我代表我們公司向您道謝。

Wǒ dàibiǎo wǒmen gōngsī xiàng nín dàoxiè.

I represent our company in expressing our thanks to you.

61.1.2 Indirect expressions of gratitude

To express gratitude without saying ‘thank you,’ use the following expressions:

太麻烦你了。

太麻煩你了。

Tài máfan nǐ le.

This caused you too much trouble. (I’ve troubled you too much.)

太辛苦了。

Tài xīnkǔ le.

or 辛苦你了。

Xīnkǔ nǐ le.

This was really a lot of work for you.

真不好意思。

Zhēn bù hǎo yìsi.

I’m really embarrassed (to have caused you trouble).

61.2 Replying to expressions of gratitude

In Chinese, it is considered presumptuous or rude to accept compliments, praise, and expressions of gratitude. Chinese does not have an expression equivalent to ‘you’re welcome’ in English. Common appropriate responses to expressions of gratitude include the following:

不谢。

不謝。

Bù xiè.

Don’t thank me.

没事。

沒事。

Méi shì.

It wasn’t anything.

Invitations, requests, and refusals

In Chinese culture, people are connected through a web of obligations and mutual social debt often referred to as 关系/關係 guānxi ‘relationships’ or ‘connections.’

This social debt is created by invitations, favors, and requests, big and small, that have been offered and accepted by others. They include buying small items for someone such as coffee, soft drinks, or ice cream, helping someone complete a task, inviting someone to dinner, or facilitating an introduction. By accepting an invitation or favor, or by making or agreeing to a request, you enter into a relationship that obliges you to reciprocate at some time in the future.

The Chinese expression that captures this social obligation is 来往/來往 lái wǎng, as in the expression:

有来有往。

有來有往。

Yǒu lái yǒu wǎng.

To have give and take.

A friendship is based on giving and taking, and one expects a regular exchange of giving and receiving favors and assistance with a Chinese friend. When taking is not balanced with giving, the behavior is described by the Chinese expression:

有来无往，非礼也。

有來無往，非禮也。

Yǒu lái wú wǎng, fēi lǐ yě.

Taking without giving is ill-mannered and uncivil.

In many Western cultures, the relationship between favors and social obligations is not so strong. One may accept favors without creating any obligation toward the giver. English has an expression that captures this: ‘no strings attached.’ The expression means that a gift or favor comes with no obligations to the recipient. In Chinese, where relationships are built on give and take, favors often come with the expectation of reciprocation. A Chinese friend may be more generous with you than a Western friend, but will expect more from you in return.

This chapter provides the basic strategies for negotiating invitations and requests in Chinese and for forming socially acceptable refusals.

62.1 Invitations

62.1.1 Offering invitations

In English, invitations are often expressed in terms of a choice about whether or not to participate:

Would you like to have coffee with me?

In Chinese, giving the listener a choice about whether or not to participate is considered rude. It implies that the speaker does not want the listener to accept the invitation. Therefore, invitations are often worded as suggestions.

我们去喝咖啡吧！

我們去喝咖啡吧！

Wǒmen qù hē kāfēi ba!

Let's go drink some coffee!

An invitation may also imply that the speaker will assume the role of 'host' and pay for any expenses involved in the activity. If the speaker specifically invites the addressee with the word 请/請 qǐng 'please' (lit. 'invite'), he or she expects to pay for the activity.

我请你喝咖啡，好吗？

我請你喝咖啡，好嗎？

Wǒ qǐng nǐ hē kāfēi, hǎo ma?

Please have coffee with me.

(lit. 'I invite you to drink coffee, okay?')

▶ 58

62.1.2 Accepting and refusing invitations

Words and phrases used to accept invitations include:

好。 行。 可以。

Hǎo. Xíng. Kěyǐ.

Okay. Okay. I can.

Invitations between friends are accepted or rejected without ceremony. However, in more formal circumstances, it is often not considered polite to accept an invitation at its first offer. Typically, people refuse an invitation once or twice before accepting, even if they intend to accept all along. In the same way, the one who gives an invitation does not give up after an initial refusal, but offers a second or a third time before being certain that the refusal is genuine. This cycle of refusal and re-invitation is a social ritual in which you are expected to participate.

Expressions that are commonly used for the ritual refusal of an invitation to eat or drink include:

不要客气。 你太客气了。 我不(吃)/(喝)。

不要客氣。 你太客氣了。

Bù yào kèqì. Nǐ tài kèqì le. Wǒ bù (chī)/(hē).

Don't be polite. You are too polite. I am not (eating)/(drinking).

If you are a guest, you cannot ultimately refuse an offer of a snack or a non-alcoholic drink. After the ritual refusal, you must accept it, though you need not eat or drink it. If you accept an invitation for a meal, however, you must eat.

It is acceptable to provide a direct refusal to an invitation to drink an alcoholic beverage or to smoke. If you do not or cannot drink, say:

我不喝酒。

or 我不会喝酒。

我不喝酒。

我不會喝酒。

Wǒ bù hē jiǔ.

Wǒ bù huì hē jiǔ.

I do not drink alcohol.

I am not able to drink alcohol.

If you do not smoke, you can refuse a cigarette by saying:

我不抽烟。

我不抽煙。

Wǒ bù chōu yān.

I do not smoke.

In general, appropriate refusals for most other kinds of invitations are indirect and involve face-saving strategies. See section 62.3 for polite ways to refuse invitations.

► 58

62.1.3 Formal written invitations

Written invitations are issued for weddings and formal dinners and events. Formal Chinese events have a fixed ending time as well as a fixed beginning time. Guests come on time and the event ends at the predetermined time. Formal events typically begin with a short formal speech announcing the commencement and end with a short formal speech announcing the conclusion.

The cover of the invitation often includes one of the following expressions that identify it as an invitation.

邀请(书/信)	or	请帖
邀請(書/信)		請帖
yāoqǐng (shū/xìn)		qíngtiě
invitation		invitation (lit. 'written submission')

The body of the invitation includes the following expressions.

62.2 Requests

62.2.1 Making requests of close relatives and close friends

Close relatives and close friends have an obligation to help you. Therefore, requests to close relatives and close friends are often indistinguishable from commands.

给我那本字典。 給我那本字典。

Gěi wǒ nà běn zìdiǎn.

Give me that dictionary.

我借用一下你的笔。
我借用一下你的筆。

Let me borrow your pen for a minute.

给我笔用一下。 給我筆用一下。

Gěi wǒ bǐ yòng yī xià.

Lend me a pen for a minute.

To make a request more polite, you may preface it with 请/請 qǐng ‘please.’

请给我笔用一下。
請給我筆用一下。

Qǐng gěi wǒ bǐ yòng yī xià.

Please lend me a pen for a minute.

62.2.2 Requesting information or assistance from teachers

Teachers have an obligation to help you with learning so requests to teachers for information can be direct. However, they should always be polite. You can preface a request with 请教/請教 qǐng jiào 'please teach me,' or 请问/請問 qǐng wèn 'may I ask.'

老师, 请教... (这个字怎么用?)

老師, 請教... (這個字怎麼用?)

Lǎoshī, qǐng jiào... (zhège zì zěnmeyòng?)

Professor, may I ask (lit. 'please teach me')... (how do you use this word?)

王教授, 请问, 您的意思是...

王教授, 請問, 您的意思是...

Wáng jiàoshòu, qǐng wèn, nín de yìsi shì...

Professor Wang, may I ask, do you mean...

62.2.3 Face-saving strategies used in requests

When making a request to someone outside of your close personal circle, you should leave him or her room for a graceful refusal. That is, you should allow him or her the opportunity to 留面子 liú miànzi 'save face' if he or she has to refuse you. Here are some face-saving ways to phrase requests.

- Ask if he or she has time.

你忙吗?

你有空吗?

你有工夫吗?

你忙嗎?

你有空嗎?

你有工夫嗎?

Nǐ máng ma?

Nǐ yǒu kōng ma?

Nǐ yǒu gōngfu ma?

Are you busy?

Do you have free time?

Do you have free time?

- Ask if he or she has the ability to help.

你能不能帮我一点忙?

你能不能幫我一點忙?

62.3 Refusals

It is not always possible to grant a request, but it is important to phrase a refusal in such a way that it saves face for all parties involved. Here are common ways to do so.

- Promising to try

A promise to try leaves open the possibility that your request may be granted at some point.

Here are some responses that promise to try.

我试试看。

我试一试。

我尽力做。

Wǒ shì shì kàn.

Wǒ shì yī shì.

Wǒ jìn lì zuò.

This promise to try is more formal:

尽力而为。

盡力而為。

Jìnlì'érwéi.

I will do everything possible. (formal)

- Pleading a lack of understanding

This kind of response is a common way to avoid answering a request for information.

我不太清楚。

Wǒ bù tài qīngchū.

I'm not too clear about that.

- Postponing the decision

These responses are used to postpone a decision to another time.

我们考虑考虑。

Wǒmen kǎolǜ kǎolǜ.

We'll think about it.

以后再说吧。

以後再說吧。

Yǐhòu zài shuō ba.

對不起，我(那天)有事。
Duìbuqǐ, wǒ (nà tiān) yǒu shì.
Sorry, I have something to do (that day).

To indicate that your explanation is genuine, and that you really do not have the knowledge, ability, time, or connections required to comply with a request, add 真的 zhēnde to your refusal.

我真的不会。 我真的不會。
Wǒ zhēnde bù huì.
I really can't do it.

我真的不懂。
Wǒ zhēnde bù dǒng.

You can soften a refusal with an apology by saying:

Expressing apologies, regrets, sympathy, and bad news

63.1 Apologies and regrets

Cultures differ in the kinds of things that people are expected to apologize for. This chapter presents the types of situations for which an apology is expected and provides expressions of apology that can be used in these situations.

Note that in Chinese culture, you are not expected to apologize for or otherwise acknowledge bodily functions such as coughs, sneezes, belches, flatulence, etc. In response to someone's sneeze, you can use the following expression:

百岁。/ 百歲。

Bǎi suì.

(May you live to be) 100 years old.

If someone sneezes a second time, you can say:

千岁。/ 千歲。

Qiān suì.

(May you live to be) 1000 years old.

63.1.1 Apologizing for showing disrespect: 对不起/對不起 duìbuqǐ

对不起/對不起 duìbuqǐ is the appropriate apology for actions that show disrespect toward another, including:

- Physical actions: bumping into someone, stepping on someone's foot, spilling something on someone, etc.
- Inappropriate behavior: interrupting someone, ending a conversation, etc.
- Imperfect performance: work done poorly, language spoken poorly, comprehension difficulty, etc.

对不起。我中文说得不好。

對不起。我中文說得不好。

Duìbuqǐ. Wǒ Zhōngwén shuō de bù hǎo.

Excuse me. I speak Chinese poorly.

对不起。我不懂。

對不起。我不懂。

Duìbuqǐ. Wǒ bù dǒng.

I'm sorry. I don't understand.

对不起。我耽误了你。

對不起。我耽誤了你。

Duìbuqǐ. Wǒ dānwu le nǐ.

Excuse me. I've caused you to be delayed.

Reply to 对不起/對不起 duìbuqǐ by saying:

没事。	没关系。	不要紧。
沒事。	沒關係。	不要緊。
Méi shì.	Méi guānxi.	Bù yào jǐn.
It's nothing.	It's not important.	It's not important.

63.1.2 Apologizing for refusals: 不好意思 bù hǎo yìsi

不好意思 bù hǎo yìsi acknowledges embarrassment on the part of the speaker. It is commonly used when the speaker refuses an invitation or turns down a request for assistance.

王:	今天下午跟我去喝咖啡吧。
Wáng:	Jīntiān xiàwǔ gēn wǒ qù hē kāfēi ba.
Wang:	Have coffee with me this afternoon.
林:	不好意思。我今天下午有事。
Lín:	Bù hǎo yìsi. Wǒ jīntiān xiàwǔ yǒu shì.
Lin:	How embarrassing. This afternoon I've got something to do.

There is no formulaic response to 不好意思 bù hǎo yìsi.

► 62.3

63.1.3 Apologizing for mistakes or wrongs: 抱歉 bàoqiàn and 道歉 dàoqiàn

抱歉 bàoqiàn and 道歉 dàoqiàn acknowledge a wrong to another and acknowledge personal responsibility for the wrong. Formal and written contexts often call for 抱歉 bàoqiàn or 道歉 dàoqiàn. Many speakers of Mandarin use these two words interchangeably. Here are expressions in which these words are used.

抱歉。	抱歉。我来晚了。
	抱歉。我來晚了。
Bàoqiàn.	Bàoqiàn. Wǒ lái wǎn le.
I apologize.	I'm sorry. I've arrived late.
真抱歉。	我向你道歉。
Zhēn bàoqiàn.	Wǒ xiàng nǐ dàoqiàn.
I really apologize.	I apologize to you.

NOTE

The use of the more formal preposition 向 xiàng 'toward' in the prepositional phrase 向你 xiàng nǐ 'toward you' makes this structure more formal.

► 14

The appropriate response to 抱歉 bàoqiàn or 道歉 dàoqiàn is the same as the response to 对不起/對不起 duìbuqǐ:

没事。	没关系。	不要紧。
沒事。	沒關係。	不要緊。
Méi shì.	Méi guānxi.	Bù yào jǐn.
It's nothing.	It's not important.	It's not important.

63.1.4 Asking for forgiveness: 请原谅我/請原諒我 qǐng yuánliàng wǒ 'please forgive me'

请原谅我/請原諒我 qǐng yuánliàng wǒ is used in an apology acknowledging personal responsibility for an action that negatively affects others.

The response to this kind of apology is the same as for 对不起/對不起 duìbuqǐ, 抱歉 bàoqiàn, and 道歉 dàoqiàn.

63.2 Expressing sympathy

To acknowledge a bad situation that another is experiencing, say:

真可惜。

Zhēn kěxī.

What a pity. What a shame.

To express sympathy when another is ill, say:

多保重身体。

Take care of your health.

希望你早日康复。

希望你早日康復。

Xīwàng nǐ zǎo rì kāngfù.

I hope your health is soon restored.

63.3 Conveying bad news

To introduce bad news or a negative situation use 怕 pà 'to fear' and 恐怕 kǒngpà 'to be afraid that.' Notice that 怕 pà requires a subject and 恐怕 kǒngpà does not take a subject.

(subject) 怕 pà situation

这件事，我怕他做不好。

這件事，我怕他做不好。

Zhè jiàn shì, wǒ pà tā zuòbùhǎo.

I am afraid that he won't be able to do this job well.

我怕你这次考得不好。
